The Japanese Fleet Believed to Have Renewed the Attack.

Grand Duke Cyril Gives Graphic Account of His Escape from Petropavlovsk Disaster—Viceroy Alexieff Asks to be Relieved—Admiral Skrydloff Russia's Present Idol—Skirmishes on the Yalu.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHEFOO, April 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] It is probable that Admiral Togo is again attacking Port Arthur. The regular mail steamer in from Shanhaikwan at 6 o'clock this evening reports that all of the Japanese battleships and heavy cruiser division were sighted thirty miles southeast of Liao Thieshan promontory at 11 o'clock this morning. The Kaiping, in here from Yonghampo tonight passed to the south of the second cruiser squadron and three torpedo flotillas at 1 o'clock today, about forty miles southeast of Port Arthur and bound on a straight course toward the fortress.

FIRING HAS BEGUN.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEWCHWANG, April 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] At 8 o'clock tonight the report comes from Dalny that firing has begun off Port Arthur and it is believed that Admiral Togo has begun another attack. No word has come from the fortress, except the denial of the story this morning that Admiral Marakoff's body has been found. Searchlights were observed late last night in the gulf fifteen miles south of Inkkow, but no Japanese ships were seen today.

FRESH BATTLE RAGING.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

PARIS, April 20.—The Journal prints a dispatch from its correspondent at Yinkow dated yesterday at 5 p. m., which says it is affirmed that a fresh battle is raging at Port Arthur.

JAPANESE FLEET SIGHTED.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SHANGHAI, April 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Forty Japanese warships and transports passed Chefoo last night. They appeared to be bound toward Port Arthur or the Gulf of Liao Tung.

NOT SEEN BY RUSSIANS.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

ST. PETERSBURG, April 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] No confirmation has been received here tonight of the arrival of a big fleet of Japanese transports in the Gulf of Pechili. It is considered probable that the Japanese may have decided that the time is opportune to land at Kinchou, with the object of cutting off and investing Port Arthur. The chances of effecting a landing in neutral Chinese territory on the coast west of Liao Tung peninsula are now regarded as remote.

RUSSIANS FORTIFYING.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

TOKIO, April 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] It is reported from Wiju that 50,000 Russian troops are between Kisliencheng and Antung on the Yalu river. They were engaged yesterday in erecting fortifications at all important points on their line of defense.

GRAND DUKE CYRIL'S ESCAPE.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

HARBIN, April 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Grand Duke Cyril has arrived here on his way to St. Petersburg. His injuries are not severe, although he is suffering from burns of the neck and ears, caused by the tremendous explosion of the Petropavlovsk, and from bruises of the back and loins caused subsequently by the beating of the turbulent waves, which, however, quickly subsided. The Grand Duke can walk a little today.

The Grand Duke gives the following story of his escape, which was almost miraculous.

At the moment of the explosion on the Petropavlovsk the Grand Duke was on the bridge, at the other end of which was Admiral Makaroff. It seemed as if the world, skies and waters were suddenly rent asunder and from the gulf arose a devouring cloud and blinding flame, which burst with a deafening roar into acrid, suffocating flames.

Scorched, blinded, choked, stunned, Cyril recovered consciousness sufficiently to recognize that the Petropavlovsk was settling down by the head. The bodies of dead sailors were floating from off the forecastle deck, which was awash. All around lay wreckage; fallen top-hamper and scalding steam cut off the Grand Duke's escape by the companionway.

He faintly remembers that he realised the necessity of making his way aft, dimly reasoning that there he was more likely in some way to clear the suction when the ship sank. He recalls climbing hand under hand, down from the bridge and making his way along the deck through the smoke, flames and steam, still suffocating fumes and along heaps of human debris.

He remembers ascending an incline, with the rising water, as it seemed, pursuing him into the barbette into which the water was already pouring with such force that he required all the strength he could muster to battle his way through it. However, he reached the gun port and dived through it.

He recalls next that while diving, the thought flashed across his mind that he must dive deep and swim as far as possible before rising, as that was his only chance to permanently clear the sinking ship. So he dived down, down and outward with all the force of an athletic and practiced swimmer, until his temples were bursting with the effort of retaining his breath.

Then he struck out upwards. However, he had dived so deep that it seemed to him he would never reach the surface; but at last light came and he reached air. While he filled his lungs he supported himself on a piece of floating wreckage, which he seized, and to which he assisted another struggling sailor.

Then the Grand Duke looked around for the Petropavlovsk. She was not to be seen. The sea was quite calm and except for the gentle rise and fall of the woodwork to which he was clinging with his companion, he was quite motionless. But with each upward swing he swept around his eyes over the smooth bosom of the placid sea for the great ship. There was no sign, no trace of her, except some floating bodies, a few buoyant articles and still fewer battling swimmers.

The Grand Duke, of course, did not know then how much time had elapsed, but he heard afterward that exactly one minute and forty seconds passed between the explosion and the ship's disappearance.

ASKOLD'S NEW CAPTAIN.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

ST. PETERSBURG, April 19.—Capt. Reitzenstein, who commanded the Vladivostok naval squadron, has arrived at Port Arthur and has hoisted his pennant on board the cruiser Askold, as commander of the cruiser division. He is succeeded at Vladivostok by Capt. Yensei.

CHINKS THIRST FOR GORE.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

SHANGHAI, April 19.—Gen. Ma Yu Kun, commander of the Chinese army on the Manchurian border, reports that the Russian troops are moving west of the Liao River. He says it is difficult to control his troops as they are anxious to attack the Russians.

MANCHURIAN BATTALIONS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

ST. PETERSBURG, April 19.—The Emperor has ordered three machine-gun battalions to be attached to the First, Third and Fifth East Siberian divisions.

FAMINE AT VLADIVOSTOK.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

ST. PETERSBURG, April 19.—The population of Vladivostok is in want of the most necessary kind of provisions and, in consequence of the flooded rivers which interrupt communication, it is impossible to furnish them supplies. There is also a scarcity of money. Many inhabitants, particularly the women and children, are leaving the city, abandoning their property, which they are unable to sell. Half of the houses in Vladivostok are empty and the civilian population is already reduced to 5000.

AFTER FRENCH SUBMARINES.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

PARIS, April 20.—The Socialists' paper L'Action declares that Lieut.-Gen. Fredericks, formerly military attaché of the Russian Embassy, was really sent to Paris to negotiate the secret purchase of two French submarine boats.

WILL SAVE HIS SHIPS.

ADMIRAL SKRYDLOFF'S PLANS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

PARIS, April 20.—The St. Petersburg correspondent of the Echo de Paris, who is an old acquaintance of Vice-Admiral Skrydloff, was present at a small dinner given the admiral by a director of the Nevsky yards, and succeeded in gaining his confidence. He reports the admiral as saying to him:

"I shall arrive at Port Arthur without a definite plan, leaving circumstances to dictate the activity of the squadron I shall command. I shall begin by minutely inspecting the warships which we still have, and which we must keep at all costs. I am determined to surround myself with young men. That is why I have taken as my chief of staff a mere commander, Stetendke, and have not heeded the tradition of selecting a Rear-Admiral."

Later Vice-Admiral Skrydoff said to the correspondent:

"I realize that Russia expects much of me. It is thought that I will bring luck to the Russian navy. I ask nothing better than this, but after the terrible disaster to the Petropavlovsk our squadron at Port Arthur is greatly reduced and I must first confine my efforts to getting everything in order. I shall make no sorties. I might add another glorious page to Japanese history by sending out my few ships to be sunk, but I shall not give them that pleasure. I intend jealously to preserve my ships for a great occasion. I doubt whether the Baltic squadron will be at Port Arthur in time, for I think when it is ready to start, events will already have been accomplished which will render its presence useless."

Asked whether he did not fear that the Japanese would surround Port Arthur, Vice-Admiral Skrydloff said:

"If the Japanese try to disembark troops and cut the land communications, so much the better. Gen. Kouropatkin has foreseen that possibility and will be able to dislodge them. We want nothing better than landings en masse, so that the battles will be the more decisive.

"I have put on my visiting cards both Port Arthur and Vladivostok for I shall be going backward and forward between the two places."

Vice-Admiral Skrydloff intends to seek the blessings of Saint Sergius before starting for the Far East.

SKIRMISHES ON THE YALU.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

LIAO YANG, April 19.—A number of unimportant skirmishes are reported along the Yalu River. Six Japanese soldiers were killed by Russian scouts April 16. Firing was heard April 18, but the result of the engagement is unknown.

The outposts on the Island of Yalu, between Anju and Wiju, have been engaged in continual skirmishes for

ALL FOR PARKER.

Landslide is Coming His Way.

Scarcely Any Doubt That He Will be Democratic Nominee.

The Hearst Boom Collapsed Flatter Than the Traditional Pancake.

Tammany Has Swallowed Its Medicine and is Trying to Look Pleasant.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

ALBANY (N. Y.) April 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Today the Parker managers were in touch by telgraph with the Democratic leaders in many States of the West and South and New England. In all sections of the country the Parker boom has taken on new vitality. The indications of the day all point to a landslide.

It is now believed that all the States of the South will vote for the judge's nomination, and that in the Middle West he will have Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Michigan, Wisconsin, Minnesota and Nebraska. The only doubts admitted are in Illinois, Iowa, and Nebraska. The Pennsylvania delegates elected today are put in the Parker column. The New England situation is believed to be hopeful.

COLLAPSE OF HEARSTISM.

The Parker men who are in touch with the situation prevailing in all States believe that yesterday's events assure the collapse of the Hearst movement and the annihilation of radicalism. One of the judge's best informed advocates says tonight that he believes Franklin K. Lane will defeat Hearst instructions in California.

Hearst's managers here say that either a contesting delegation would be sent to St. Louis, or a protest would be filed in his behalf. In spite of this announcement, it is probable that the rapid fire of Parker instructions during the next thirty days in States which the Hearst men have hoped to carry will take all the ginger out of the Hearst campaign and result in the withdrawal of the candidate.

CONSERVATISM REVIVED.

Where the Hearst men have missed their calculation is in the measurement of conservatism as a Democratic force. To nearly every student of politics, revival of conservative sentiment has been for the past four months the distinguishing characteristic of Democratic politics. The fact that radicalism is extinct in the East and South, which sections New York opinion accurately reflects, was strikingly demonstrated by the fact that the Hearst propaganda, having the sinews of war for an organized campaign, could not elect a single delegate to the New York State convention.

So strong has conservatism become in the Western Democracy that it now threatens the overthrow of Bryan in Nebraska and Hearst in California. It no longer appears doubtful that conservatism will overwhelmingly dominate the action of the St. Louis convention.

PARKER'S PLATFORM.

Some criticism of the platform was heard today. It was based mainly on the conviction that no declaration of policies was necessary at this time. What the platform says is regarded as suggestive only. It is expected that it will be amplified, but not otherwise changed by the national convention if Parker is nominated. Unlike most of the platforms enacted by

WENT BACK ON WILLIE.

Speaker at Hearst Rally Came Out Very Strong for Parker.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, April 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A grand rally of Hearst supporters was held in Washington tonight. There was unbounded enthusiasm till a young fellow named Fred Schade got up to speak. He made a whooping speech for Democracy and said Judge Parker ought to be its standard bearer. Thereupon there was a riot and the meeting broke up in disorder.

Hill-controlled conventions, it contains no eccentricities. It is a point of vantage credited to Senator McCarren, who was chairman of its Resolutions Committee, and whom the events of yesterday have thrown into prominence as an adviser of the national Democracy.

BRYAN DISPLEASED.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

LINCOLN (Neb.) April 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] In an interview, William J. Bryan declared today that New York's instructions would not give Parker more strength. The nomination of Judge Parker, he said, would be perpetrating a confidence game on the party.

UTAH AND IDAHO FOR PARKER.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SALT LAKE, April 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Utah and Idaho have been veering toward Judge Parker for some time. The Hearst collapse in New York is believed to have clinched matters. At least four of Utah's six votes will go to Parker.

HEARST THE WEAKEST.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

BALTIMORE, April 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Because of loyalty to Gorman, the Maryland Democratic leaders are loath to make any predictions or state any preferences. They do not hesitate, however, to say that Hearst would be the weakest candidate the party could nominate, and should the contest narrow down between him and Parker they would vote for Parker.

SOUTHWEST SENTIMENT.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

LITTLE ROCK (Ark.) April 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Col. B. D. Williams today voiced the sentiment of prominent Democrats hereabouts when he said: "The action of New York settles the Democratic Presidential nomination. The indorsement given Judge Parker by his State will be the cause of many other States doing likewise. You will find that the South will rapidly fall into line. As for Arkansas, I do not think there is any doubt that this State will instruct for Parker. He will get Arkansas and Tennessee, and several adjoining States."

OREGON ANTI-HEARST.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

PORTLAND (Ore.) April 19.—The State Democratic Convention which met here today to nominate delegates to the national convention refused by a large vote to send an instructed delegation. The delegation is considered strongly anti-Hearst.

TAMMANY TAMED.

ONLY FOR TIME BEING.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, April 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Tammany delegates to the Democratic State convention returned from Albany this morning. They were neither enthusiastic nor sullen over the action of the convention. They had known for several weeks what was coming and had made up their minds before going to Albany to "take their medicine."

The Tammany leaders, judging by their talk today, will maintain a position of indifference toward Judge Parker until they go to St. Louis. They cannot oppose his nomination after the strong instructions by the convention, but they can play what they call "the waiting game." That is that they will be on the lookout for any candidate who may be a formidable rival to Parker and, if such a candidate looms up, they will secretly encourage him.

Charles F. Murphy saw from the beginning, and he saw it more clearly than ever when he went to Albany on Sunday, that if Judge Parker was elected President of the United States, he (Murphy) could not gratify his ambition to become State boss and the dispenser of Federal patronage.

Moreover, the fear prevails in Tammany Hall that the election of Parker would result in the establishment of a new and powerful Democratic anti-Tammany organization in this city before the next municipal election. The delegates to the State convention had a pretty clear idea of the situation and they accepted Cockran's and Grady's eulogies of Parker for what they were worth.

The friends of Judge Parker understand Tammany's position, but they are not alarmed. They believe that the action of the New York State convention will be soon followed by similar actions by so many other State conventions that Tammany will conclude that it is useless to attempt any sort of treachery.

PARKER'S WEAKNESS.

WALL STREET BACKING.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, April 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Democrats of Chicago are pretty well divided on Judge Parker's candidacy. James Monroe, prominent Democrat of DuPage county, and who as a power among the farmers, said: "Judge Parker, without Wall Street behind him, would be my choice, but with Wall Street, he will never get the middle-class votes. Among the thousands of workingmen in the Joliet mills, very few of them would vote for Parker, nor do they want Hearst."

Acting Mayor McGann said: "The Parker claim that he will be nominated at St. Louis will cause a big fight. There may possibly be one or two dark horses to come up in the Presidential race, and the end may be something like the Republican convention that nominated the late President Garfield."

Judge William Prentice: If Judge Parker is nominated the Democrats of the South and West are likely to give him only half-hearted support. There is an air of Wall Street management surrounding Parker; in fact, it seems to be in the hands of the Wall-Street combine.

HEARST'S LAST HOPE.

UNION LABOR SUPPORT.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, April 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] William Randolph Hearst, beaten in New York, beaten in Indiana, beaten in Kansas, utterly repudiated throughout the South, is now making frantic efforts to capture the two delegates to which the District of Columbia is entitled in the National Democratic convention. His efforts here, which have been constant for some months, seem to be upon the verge of utter failure, for the district Democrats are turning from him, and expressing their preference for either Gorman of Maryland, or Judge Parker, with a decided tendency, however, toward Senator Gorman, who has lived in Washington almost since he was a page in the United States Senate many years ago, and who is personally acquainted with nearly every Democrat here. Hearst's District of Columbia boom, however, is sickeningly flat. It is as flat in this district as it is in Congress.

It has been said in Washington many times during the last few months that Hearst would get the California delegation to the national convention, because he could buy it. That insult to the great body of Democratic voters in California has not been based upon personal knowledge of them, but upon Hearst's methods toward California Democrats from the time he first showed his head above the horizon, which method has been to abuse all decent men in the party of that State.

Coincident with the collapse of the Hearst boom in the District of Columbia, come an announcement that the Central Labor Union of Washington proposes to give him a boost by getting itself into politics. The following statement appears in the Washington Post:

"William R. Hearst has been invited to be present at the regular meeting of the Central Labor Union next Monday night to be publicly thanked for his services in Congress on behalf of labor, and it is expected he will make the first political address that will be made before the organized labor body of the district. The central body passed a resolution at its meeting last night to have him present, and the committee was appointed to extend the invitation to him.

"This action was regarded as a new and significant move in the District Democratic campaign, in view of the fact that up to that time the Central Labor Union, which is affiliated with the American Federation of Labor, has refrained from taking any political action as a body. A regular business meeting of the body will be held, beginning at 8 o'clock, and at 9 o'clock Mr. Hearst will be invited to the platform. Representatives Caldwell of Illinois, Hughes of New Jersey, Van Duser of Nevada and Mudd of Maryland were included in the resolutions of thanks and will be present. Preparations have been made for a mammoth turnout of organized laboring men, and the meeting, it is expected, will develop into a political mass meeting."

PENN DEMOCRATS.

INSTRUCTED FOR NO ONE.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

HARRISBURG (Pa.) April 19.—The Democratic State convention which was held here today, refused to instruct the national delegates from Pennsylvania to vote for the nomination of Judge Alton B. Parker of New York for President. These delegates will go to St. Louis uninstructed, and will be bound by the unit rule.

An attempt was made by the members of the Resolutions Committee to amend the platform by substituting for the unit rule plank a paragraph instructing the delegates for Judge Parker. It failed and the platform as adopted by the committee was unanimously adopted by the convention.

Justice Samuel Gustine Thompson of Philadelphia was nominated by acclamation for Supreme Court Justice to succeed himself for the full term of twenty-one years. He is at present a member of the Supreme Court by appointment of Gov. Pennypacker, and his commission will expire next January.

The delegates at large to the national convention are Col. James Guffy, State chairman; J. J. K. Pulsey, ex-Gov. Robert E. Pattison and Robert E. Wright.

WEST VIRGINIA.

HEARST HENCHMEN HISSED.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

CHARLESTON (W. Va.) April 19.—It is impossible to say what action the Democratic State Convention will take tomorrow.

Many old-time leaders who left the party in the Bryan campaigns are here. The defeat of Hearst would not mean a Parker victory, for the conservative Democrats are more inclined to Gorman and Olney than they are to the New York State man. Hearst, however, is not without his following. Hearst's private car Dixie arrived today from the East, bearing Congressman Livernash of California, Senator Newlands of Nevada and John Temple Graves of Georgia. They addressed a largely-attended mass meeting held tonight in the interest of Hearst's candidacy. When Congressman Livernash severely criticised former President Cleveland, whom he called a "despot," "party wrecker," etc., etc., the audience rose with a storm of hisses.

FIRING OF SMOOT WILL BE AVENGED.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SALT LAKE CITY (Utah) April 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] If normal conditions existed in Utah, President Roosevelt could count upon as safe a majority in the home of Mormonism as he is likely to get anywhere in the Far West. The drift of sentiment in the State has been heavily in the direction of Republicanism for some years past. It has been accentuated in the past year by the great personal popularity of the President. The national irrigation law is also a very strong card in the hands of the Republicans, and yet should Smoot be deprived of his seat in the Senate and should the church people here be made to understand that his removal was due to the Republican administration, it is reasonably safe to predict that there would be a political revolution in Utah. It is useless to say that the church would not have the power to bring this about. It is a more compact organization than Tammany Hall. The word to reverse in politics once started down the line from the church leaders, would reach the most humble member of the organization before it could be detected by outsiders. It would be alike useless and foolish to assume that the church people might be afraid to pursue this course. In fact, it is doubtful if the more fanatical church members could be restrained from expressing their resentment at the polls. There is nothing in sight at this time to indicate that the Mormon leaders would make any effort to hold the rank and file back from all the revenge they could get at the ballot box.

THE VERY LATEST.

WAR NEWS AFTER MIDNIGHT.

PARIS, April 20.—The Figaro publishes an interview with Vice-Admiral Skrydloff, who is now in St. Petersburg. The Admiral is quoted as saying:

"I believe in offensive tactics. It is necessary to push ahead and take the initiative instead of letting the enemy keep us in a sate of unrest. It is essential to keep him in a state of nrest. It is necessary to invite a combat and take chances. Any combatant who awaits his enemy is practically at his enemy's mercy. But aggressiveness does not mean imprudence. Wisdom must go with boldness, but it is evident that to be aggressive does not mean the same thing for the Russians as for the Japanese at Port Arthur, since the latter have more ships than the former."

KOREA NEEDS A BANKER.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SEOUL, April 20.—The Emperor wants to spend $2,500,000 in the reconstruction of the imperial palace, which was recently destroyed by fire, but because of the wretched financial condition of the country, he has been advised not to undertake this great expenditure. It is expected that the Japanese soon will undertake to reform the finances of Korea.

HANG ORDER CARRIED OUT.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

PARIS, April 20.—The St. Petersburg correspondent of the Petit Parisienne says that when it was asserted that one of the two Japanese caught in an attempt to blow up the railway near the Mongolian frontier, was a member of the imperial family, instructions were asked from St. Petersburg. The reply, according to the correspondent, was "Hang," and the order was promptly carried out.

ITALIAN SHIP BOUGHT.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

BERLIN, April 20.—The correspondent of the Lokal Anzeiger at Genoa says the North German Lloyd steamer Maria Theresa has been sold to the Russians and that the tourists and crew will continue the cruise on another vessel.

ALL SORTS OF RUMORS.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

ST. PETERSBURG, April 20.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] All sorts of rumors are current in this city, the most persistent of which is that the Sevastopol and Pallada have been in collision and that one was much damaged.

A very realistic account of the sinking of the Petropavlovsk comes from a correspondent of the Novoe Vremya. He states that he was engaged in translating signals and is evidently an officer. He says:

"The last signal given by Admiral Makaroff was for the torpedo boats to return, after which the speed was slowed down almost to a standstill. Suddenly the whole ship trembled. Three distinct explosions took place. Then I saw the Admiral lying on the bridge wounded. I went toward him to help him and heard a sudden crashing on all sides. I remember a mast falling, after which my memory is blank. I remember just before the crash of seeing a magnificent old man with a book, writing on the deck."

This was evidently Verestchagin.

SKRYDLOFF DELIGHTED.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

PARIS, April 20.—The St. Petersburg correspondent of the Journal sends the following:

"I met Vice-Admiral Skrydloff at luncheon in a private house. The admiral said he was delighted at being summoned by the Emperor to his new post of honor, adding:

"'I am starting for the Far East in full confidence and with a firm determination to do even the impossible to save the honor of my country.'

"The Minister of Marine has forbidden the entrance to Russian naval establishments of all English and American persons. An engineer representing an English firm, who was engaged to install boilers on several vessels, has been dismissed."

AMERICAN SHIPS BOUGHT.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

ST. PETERSBURG, April 19.—The correspondent of the Associated Press is unable to verify the rumored purchase by Russia of four American ships, although he was informed that the sale had been arranged through the agent of a well-known Philadelphia shipbuilding concern.

NO JAP SUBMARINES.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

LONDON, April 20.—Capt. Kabachi, the new Japanese attaché, who has arrived in London from Japan, denies positively that there are any submarine vessels in the Japanese navy. The captain says he anticipates a combined attack by land and sea on Port Arthur and the commencement of military operations in earnest next month.

RUSSIA'S DEFENSE LINE.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

TIEN-TSIN, April 20.—It is understood here that only four Russian regiments remain on the Yalu River and that the Russians' first line of defense extends from Feng-Huan-Cheng to Mo-Tien-Ling. During the last two days many Chinese refugees from Manchuria have arrived at Tien-tsin.

On the maps Mo-Tien-Ling Pass is about ninety miles northwest of Chiu Tien Cheng, near the mouth of the Yalu, and about thirty miles southeast of Liao Yang. Feng-Huan-Cheng is about half way between Chiu Tien Cheng and Mo-Tien-Ling Pass.

LULL IN NEWS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

LONDON, April 20.—The lull in news in the Far East continues, there being nothing new this morning beyond a vague report from the Standard's correspondent at Chefoo that heavy firing was heard last night and that searchlights were observed working. None of the numerous reports of Japanese landings is yet verified.

MANY BODIES CAST ASHORE.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

PARIS, April 20.—According to the St. Petersburg correspondent of the Petit Parisienne, a dispatch received from Port Arthur says that many mutilated corpses have been cast ashore and it is affirmed that fragments of uniforms enable the authorities to identify one of the bodies as that of Vice-Admiral Makaroff.

DISASTER FORETOLD.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

PARIS, April 20.—The correspondent at St. Petersburg of the Echo de Paris says Prof. Crilloff of the Nicholas naval academy foretold that the system of the non-communicating compartments in ships of the Petropavlovsk type would likely cause a catastrophe if such a vessel was struck by a torpedo. The late Admiral Makaroff had agreed with Prof. Crilloff, and it had been arranged that a committee should meet at Port Arthur, July 10, under the presidency of Viceroy Alexieff, to consider the question of modification. Urgent orders were given today, the correspondent says, to make doors between air-tight compartments in order that when water flows in they may be opened in such a way as to maintain an equilibrium and diminish the danger of overhigh turrets.

VARIAG SURVIVORS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

ODESSA, April 19.—The last of the survivors of the disasters to the Variag and Koreitz at Chemulpo arrived here today and were met by the military authorities and cheering crowds, while the ships in the harbor were dressed in their honor. The survivors were presented with the St. George's Cross. Capt. Rurnell, commander of the Variag, has been appointed aid to the Emperor.

SELF-PROTECTION.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

ST. PETERSBURG, April 19.—The Foreign Office explains that the notice served by Russia regarding newspaper correspondents employing wireless telegraphy, is a natural measure of self-protection against possible communication with the enemy. It would be possible for land or sea correspondents using wireless telegraphy to communicate with the enemy. If an actual case should arise, however, it will be judged on its merits.

SKRYDLOFF HAILED AS RUSSIA'S HERO.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

ST. PETERSBURG, April 19.—Vice-Admiral Skrydloff arrived here today on his way to the Far East, where he will take command of the Russian fleet at Port Arthur. He was accorded an enthusiastic reception by the people, who thronged the streets.

The vast Zenamifskaia Square, opposite the Nicholas railroad station, was black with people, and the police guarding the platform were unable to cope with the crowds, which broke through the cordon and rushed toward the train. There were repeated outbreaks of enthusiastic cheers as the admiral left the car, and from the bareheaded throng a peasant stepped out and presented Admiral Skrydloff with a copy of a picture entitled "The Holy Virgin of Joy to the Afflicted," which is reputed to have miraculous power. The peasant also presented the admiral with consecrated bread, telling Skrydloff that he saluted him in the name of the masses of the Russian people, all of whose hopes depended on him as the hero of the Russo-Turkish war.

"The people are convinced," added the spokesman, "that Admiral Skrydloff will justify the hopes of the Emperor and the fatherland and like the virgin whose picture has just been given him, will bring joy, and that soon, to the people now afflicted."

The admiral, who was visibly affected, took the picture, declaring that he accepted it as a happy presage, and adding that he would not part with the picture throughout the campaign, and that he would put all his faith in God.

A representative of the middle classes presnted the admiral with a picture of St. Theodorius, the miracle worker of Cserniakoff.

The admiral then entered a carriage and drove off, followed by deafening shouts of "Long live Skrydloff."

On arrival at his hotel a little girl presented the admiral with a bouquet, hailing Skrydloff as the "supreme commander of my brothers, who are serving in the Far East."

"God help you," said the child, "in all your paths, and may heaven grant that good fortune attend you always during the war, for the glory of our dear country."

The admiral embraced the girl and the action brought out cheers.

Addressing the newspaper men, the admiral declared he was deeply sensible of the kindness shown him. Subsequently Skrydloff called on the Grand Duke Alexis, high admiral, and Vice-Admiral Avellan, chief of the Admiralty. Tomorrow he will be received in audience with the Emperor and Empress. Probably he will return to Sebastopol Saturday to hand over the Black Sea fleet to his successor.

Admiral Skrydloff received a popular demonstration, the scenes rivaling those witnessed at the time of Gen. Kouropatkin's departure for the Far East.

The Nevsky Prospekt was crowded from end to end and the depot was almost taken by assault. The admiral was accompanied by Lieut. Shishle, whose brother was lost on board the Petropaviovsk, and who begged for the privilege of taking his brother's place.

Admiral Skrydloff married a Jewess, and the number of prominent Hebrews among the crowd at the station was especially noticeable. The admiral informed the correspondent that he will remain in St. Petersburg four days, return to Sebastopol and thence proceed to Port Arthur. The admiral addressed a delegation which called at his hotel, saying:

"It is well understood what Russia expects at this difficult hour. The Emperor has confided to me a trying post. I am going to summon all my strength and knowledge to serve the Emperor and my country. The enemy is redoubtable, but Russia is irresistible. I trust in God and in Russia's might."

To his friends Skrydloff has declared that his aim will be to conserve the fleet at Port Arthur as a menace to the enemy until it is reinforced.

The Admiralty says the damage to the battleship Pobieda is slight and soon will be repaired. It is now asserted that the Pobieda did not strike a mine but was accidentally rammed during the confusion following the Petropavlovsk disaster.

...de Camino Real Society May Start Today.

...P. Fleming, Los Angeles, Likely President.

...nta Barbara Convention to be History-maker.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

SANTA BARBARA, April 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] After waiting two hours for the arrival of a number of delegates from the South, the Camino Real convention was called to order this afternoon without the presence of the delayed southern representatives. The belated freight train which tied up traffic was responsible for the failure of the delegates to arrive on time. Owing to the fact that a full quota of delegates was not on hand the business session was confined to the election of temporary officers, and the registering of the delegates present. The convention was called to order by A. P. Fleming of Los Angeles, chairman of the Committee of Fifteen appointed by the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce to provide for a Camino Real convention. Mr. Fleming made a brief address, in which he said the movement was about to embark on a campaign which would form an important part of the State's history. After the invocation by Rev. Warren Gilman of this city, the convention proceeded to elect temporary officers. A. P. Fleming was nominated for temporary chairman by W. R. Bacon, and his nomination was seconded by Hon. W. F. Senator Knowland and J. Marion King, as representatives of southern, central and northern portions of the State. Mr. Fleming was elected by acclamation. Mrs. A. B. Hill of Pasadena was elected temporary secretary, and William J. Variel of Los Angeles acted as reading clerk. Mr. Fleming thanked the delegates for his appointment and impressed upon the convention the necessity for a complete record of its proceedings. It was thought best to proceed with the appointment of committees, until the arrival of the delayed delegates and the convention adjourned until evening.

EVENING SESSION.

At the convention was called to order this evening a large number of delegates were present in the work were on hand as well as the delegates. The time had been set aside for a general rest on account of the short session this afternoon considerable work was taken up. A. P. Fleming read the call for the convention under which the delegates were assembled. He introduced H. C. Booth of Santa Barbara, who delivered an address of welcome. Mr. Booth touched on the history of the Camino Real and extended a cordial welcome to the delegates on behalf of Santa Barbara. Senator Knowland responded with an interesting address in which he spoke of the work done by the Native Sons in the northern part of the State and the Landmarks Club of Southern California under the leadership of Hon. J. D. Lummis, in the south, together with the work of the Camino Real. Senator Knowland dwelt particularly on the good feeling existing between the sections of the State and the necessity of interest in the Camino Real.

Chairman Fleming announced the following committees:

Finance—J. T. Richards, chairman; A. Black, Mrs. Eva Bussey, Mrs. C. Cater, C. E. Washburn.

Resolutions—W. R. Bacon, chairman; Hon. Senator J. R. Knowland, Hon. Benjamin Hahn, Mrs. E. O. Smith.

Hon. Frank Johnson of Los Angeles was asked to preside for the remainder of the evening, and took the chair after a few remarks.

Mrs. Cater spoke during the evening on behalf of the Native Sons. A. S. C. Forbes of Los Angeles gave an interesting account of the Camino Real work done by Miss Eliza D. Keith, past president of the Native Daughters of the Golden West, who spoke in behalf of the good work accomplished by the Native Daughters in marking the landmarks of Northern California and the interest of the organization in the Camino Real. The programme consisted of a series of old Spanish songs which had been arranged by the entertainment Committee as an appropriate windup to the first day of the convention.

Life of Battleship.

A modern navy is not one of the cheap luxuries. Senator Hale stated that the Navy Department proposed to retire the battleships Oregon, Indiana, Massachusetts and Texas to the purposes of coast defense in 1908. The Oregon was launched only in 1896, so that her life as a first-class fighting ship will be only twelve years.

The Oregon cost $5,000,000, but the battleships are now costing $8,000,000. Any warships now become virtually obsolete in a dozen or fifteen years, and we must figure on practically our navy at the end of that period. A merchant steamer lasts on the average twenty years.

It is well known that the big naval guns are also very short-lived. The biggest are worthless after a hundred shots. The metal becomes crystallized by the shock of the explosions and loses its tensile strength, thus making it dangerous. Hence a bombardment costs not only in the ammunition used, but even more in the wear and tear on the gun itself. Naval authorities speak of these things lightly, for it is not their own money that is being spent, but as a matter of fact a warship is the most expensive thing imaginable to run.—[Pathfinder.

EVENTS IN LOCAL SOCIETY.

A WEEK from today Mrs. Oscar A. Trippett is to entertain in honor of Mrs. John Van Geisen Posey, who has recently returned from her wedding trip, and who was one of the most royally entertained of brides. This will be the first affair given for her after the large ball which Mrs. O. P. Posey gave immediately on the young people's return. It will be in the form of a matinée party to be given at the Orpheum, followed by an elaborate luncheon at Christopher's on Broadway. The guests of Mrs. Trippet, beside Mrs. Posey, will be Miss Lelia Simonds, Miss Fanny Coulter, Miss Adele Brodtbeck, Miss Bertha Pollard, Miss Inez Moore, Miss Jane Campbell, Miss Anita Van Nuys and Miss Eva Elizabeth Keating, who were Mrs. Posey's attendants at the wedding.

To Announce Engagement.

Last evening at the Chutes Theater, where Ellery's Band gathers on Tuesday evening to discourse inspiring and beautiful music under that peer of all magnetic directors, Chiafferelli, Phillip Zobelein gave a box party which included twenty guests. After the concert a banquet was served in the café grounds, and here, where the table was laden with fragrant orange blossoms, was announced the engagement of Miss Eva Young of Pasadena to Phillip Zobelein. Miss Young is well known in Pasadena where she is a prominent musician, and the marriage of these young people will be one of interest to the social world. The table decorations were particularly beautiful, clusters of orange blossoms being arranged on the snowy cloth, while single flowers were scattered over the cover. Corsage bouquets were at the ladies' places, and tiny sprigs marked those of the men.

—o—

For Miss Shankland.

Mrs. J. A. Graves and her daughter, Miss Alice Graves of Alhambra, were the hostesses last evening at a most charming reception and dance given in honor of Miss Elizabeth Shankland and her fiancé, Jefferson Chandler, who are two of Los Angeles' most prominent and popular young folks. A butterfly dance it was, with the delicate and gorgeous hues of the winged creatures floating from every conceivable nook and corner in the room and flitting in and out the asparagus plumosus canopy over the dance hall, and the handsomely gowned women beneath it proved a brilliant and beautiful spectacle. The balcony bore graceful trailing branches filled with white roses, and butterflies nestled among the greenery. Over the musicians' stand a net was stretched in which butterflies again were enmeshed, and over the mirrors flitted the airy creatures. Below stairs where supper was served pink tarleton was festooned to form a canopy, and here butterflies of all shapes and sizes were hovering over the tables, and some appeared to have alighted upon the dainty tarleton. About the room asparagus plumosus mingled with the tarleton, and balls of ferns hung by the pillars. The tables were lit with silver candelabra, delicately shaded with pink. Baskets of pink sweet peas also formed a pleasing decoration for the center of the tables.

Last night's affair was the first of a series which are to be given for Miss Shankland. The wedding which is to take place on June 1 at the Woman's Club House is an event which is causing much interest in the social world.

To Leave for Exposition.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Hubbard of No. 1212 Orange street expect to leave on May 11 for an extended eastern trip, when they will visit the St. Louis Fair, and also take in Washington, New York, Chicago, Boston and other points of interest. They expect to be gone about three months. Mr. and Mrs. Will Lawlor of West Twenty-fourth street also leave on the same day to attend the St. Louis Exposition.

—o—

For Miss Newhall.

There are a number of things being planned for Miss Margaret Newhall of San Francisco, who is visiting her aunt, Mrs. Walter Newhall of Chester Place, among which is the tea to be given on Friday afternoon by Mrs. Margaret Hobbs of No. 2622 South Figueroa street. Miss Newhall is a charming girl, and only recently returned form Europe, which makes her doubly interesting. Young men of Los Angeles are taken with her, and are unstinted in their praise, so her success as a popular society girl is certainly assured.

—o—

Fowler-Teasdale.

Last evening at half past seven o'clock were solemnized the nuptials of Miss Roxie Fowler, daughter of Mrs. J. M. Fowler, and E. B. Teasdale at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. E. H. Adams of No. 963 Birch street. During the ceremony, which was performed by Rev. C. H. Anderson, Mrs. Julia B. Rosa sang "Promise Me," and at the close Miss Viola Spikes played Mendelssohn's wedding march. The bride was attended by Miss Hallie Wilson and Miss Nellie Stovall, and the best man was A. D. Billetts. The party stood beneath an arch of white satin ribbon decked with lilies of the valley and smilax, and just over the couple's heads hung a true lover's knot.

The bride was attired in a most beautiful gown of white crepe de chine, with elaborate shirrings and real lace trimmings. She wore a veil and carried lilies of the valley. Miss Wilson wore white voile over pink taffeta and carried maidenhair ferns, while Miss Stovall was attired in a becoming creation of blue crepe de chine and carried Easter lilies. Both attendants carried shepherd's crooks, which with the delicate coloring of their gowns combined in making a picture which for all its daintiness might have stepped directly off a Dresden china plate. Roy Fowler, a nephew of the bride, assisted as ring bearer. In the dining-room where a wedding supper was served, a daring color scheme in yellow was carried out. Marechal Neil roses being used, and in the center of the table a dash of yellow was added by the yellow satin centerpieces over which was spread a Battenburg cloth. Roses were in a graceful cluster on the table, and from the chandeliers to each place ribbons were festooned. Places were marked by cards ornamented with water color sketches of yellow roses. The library presented an attractive appearance with bride roses and smilax, and here and there a touch of pink sweet peas. Miss Fowler has been much entertained since the announcement of her engagement and the last of the prenuptial affairs was that given by Miss Lucy Ware at her home on Hawthorne Street. This was in the form of a breakfast.

Mr. and Mrs. Teasdale will spend about three months in sightseeing in Colorado, after which they will return to Los Angeles and make their home at No. 1256 Birch street.

—o—

Popular Visiter to Leave.

Mrs. Jennie B. Tilman Brigham of Leominster, Mass., who for the past three months has been the guest of Mrs. A. G. Hinckley of Lovelace avenue, will leave on Thursday for her home. Mrs. Brigham has been much entertained in an informal manner during her stay here, and is a great lover of California. Her husband is a prominent physician of Leominster, and she is a lavish entertainer in her home place. She is particularly original in her affairs, and has planned on her arrival home to give a luncheon with everything about it to be "just California." The invitations are to be on California paper, and will be mailed from here, and will come to the guests as a breath of air from the sturdy West. The rooms will all contain poppies, and other souvenirs also will make all this quite a unique affair.

—o—

Luncheon Postponed.

Mrs. Orcelia Hines and Mrs. Emma Rohm have postponed the luncheon that they were to give today at the Hotel Maryland. The affair is to take place one week from Tuesday.

—o—

For Miss Mitchell.

On Tuesday afternoon Mrs. Lee W. Foster of No. 17 Chester Place entertained in honor of her charming young guest, Miss Alma Mitchell of San Francisco. Assisting the hostesses were Miss Julia Sanders, Miss Hattie Sanders, Miss Mary Abascal, Miss Anita Abascal, Miss Katherine Clark, Miss Mary Darling and Miss Ella Clark.

Under the deft fingers of Jack Carnot the house was transformed into a dream of loveliness. The reception hall was adorned with great fluffy ropes of asparagus plumosus, and bouquets of Maman Cochet roses placed in a particularly effective manner against the varying color tones of the woodwork. The library contained a canopy of asparagus plumosus, and against the walls baskets of the roses added grace, while on shelves and mantel the roses were strewn with lavish profusion. The billiard room was a dainty place with large clusters of white sweet peas and festoons of ferns, and here and there just a few of the regal Maman Cochet roses reared their regal heads from cut glass vases. The den, a dark and cosy little place, contained white sweet peas, and two or three vases of American Beauties showing blood red against the brown of the paneling. Wall baskets and jars containing the pink roses together with ferns were in the dining-room, which was a mass of asparagus plumosus also. Hearts was the game of the afternoon, and scores were marked on cards by means of dear little Russian and Japanese flags. All the prizes were of the brasses which are used so much both in Russia and Japan, carrying out the idea of the game. The first two were incense burners, while the second was a handsome jar and the last a bowl. Miss Mitchell is a very pretty girl, with deep violet eyes and dark hair, and as she intends leaving Los Angeles on Saturday, this was a sort of farewell for her. Her many friends in the city are sorry to hear of her departure, as she is an unusually charming girl.

Four years ago the 14th of March, the act was approved authorizing the incorporation of national banking associations with minimum capital of $25,000, and from that date to March 31, 1904, there have been chartered 3,284 associations with authorized capital stock of $112,253,000, of which 1260, with capital of $52,818,000, were banks with individual capital of less than $50,000, the average being approximately $24,000. During this same period 1,284 banks were incorporated with aggregate capital of $79,435,000, and increased capital of $50,000 or over, the average being nearly $120,000. Approximately forty banks have been chartered during every month of this period.

Notwithstanding the granting of authority to issue circulation to the par value of bonds deposited and the refunding of the tax on circulation secured by 2-per-cent. consols of 1930, only $27,419,990 in bonds were deposited by nine banks as date of incorporation, less than one-fourth of the maximum limit.

Of the Pacific States, California leads with thirty-six banks, only nine of which were with the minimum amount of authorized capital stock.

Since March 14, 1900, there has been an increase of active associations of 2,284 and in authorized capital stock of $104,467,720, the existing capital amounting to $770,975,815. Bonds on deposit to secure circulation have increased during the same period from $27,419,990 to $298,634,650, or $153,423,-660. The net increase in circulation on banks was $179,225,439, and the increase in circulation covered by deposits of bonds was $1,281,773. The total outstanding circulation on March 31 was $230,507,212, an increase since March 14, 1900, of $109,507,212.

COMMERCIAL.

ORANGE. Every car of cabbage loaded now brings cash before leaving Denver, Pueblo and Colorado Springs are eating our cabbage and send the money with the order, and the f.o.b. plan is successfully carried out on vegetables, and the question is, why cannot the California Union, closely akin to the Colorado Union, do the same with oranges?

Heavy showers of Monday and Tuesday will improve the heads of crops such as lettuce and cabbage, although the improvement comes rather late as far as cabbage is concerned. Vegetable shippers are calling on eastern sales forces, as the demand exceeds the supply all along the line.

BUYING FUTURES. In spite of all the talk against buying futures, says the Grocer and Country Merchant, and the numerous objections that may be raised to that method of doing business, the fact is apparent that the practice is extending all the time. The reason, also, is not far to seek. It is not only that failing to purchase them in advance may entail disappointment in obtaining the accustomed supply of the better and scarcer grades of goods, but that growers and other producers are averse to raising any products other than the most staple unless assured in advance of a market. It's a demonstration of the uniformly prevailing tendency to do business on a decreasing margin of profit, as well as a result of it. If profits were anywhere from 50 to 100 per cent., there would be no necessity for so closely adapting production to estimated requirements, as a surplus could be carried over, or, if necessary, sacrificed. But such are not the conditions of modern industry, and hence the growing practice of selling the product and chartering the ships to carry it before the seed is sown or the lines are cast in the water to capture it. The grower contracts with the manufacturer, the manufacturer with the wholesale dealer and he again with the retailer, and in case of the product being a foreign one other intermediaries have to be added to this chain; and thus approximately the entire yield is disposed of before a sod of earth is turned. It's a part, as we have said, of the economy of modern industry. It does not apply to everything, for some articles, such as wheat and sugar, are so staple and so assured of a market in some part of the world, that the practice in their case is unnecessary or optional. And again there are other articles the yield and quality of which are too uncertain to be contracted for in that way. In their case, therefore, the producer has to take most or all of the risk of a market for his output, and the public pays the piper, for profits then must average higher than otherwise.

LOCAL PRODUCE MARKETS.

The copious rain which fell Monday night and Tuesday morning, amounting to perhaps over an inch, has put a very different face on the market in many details. The farmers were getting very high prices for alfalfa hay, of which the first cutting was an excellent crop. As high as $8.50 was in the field was paid for loose hay. The strain on the situation in this crop will pass with the prospect of a fair crop of hay generally throughout the section. This rain came in the nick of time to save practically the whole hay and grain crop.

There is a practical certainty, too, that there will be an excellent bean crop harvested next fall. Beans are very high in price and likely to maintain their firmness, but the rain will check the advance. The crop of sugar beets is also assured, and the effect of the rain on the ranges is most gratifying to cattlemen.

Potatoes are very firm at $2 to $2.25 per 100 pounds for good to choice stock. Consumption will run nominal on old spuds for the next six weeks, and prices at northern points of supply tend upward.

There is no change in eggs which sell at about 19 cents case count and up to 21 candled for choice stock.

There is a good deal of the cabbage crop still to market. The severe weather East has tended to make a better market there for what we had to sell. The high winds offshore have prevented fishermen from taking many fish, and the supply is light.

NEW YORK MARKETS.
SHARES AND MONEY.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

NEW YORK, April 19.—The belief that activity awaited on the decision of the Harriman petition to enjoin the Northern Securities plan of distribution proved true today when the petition was refused, but it did not appear that the decision itself was the cause of the increased pressure to sell stocks which developed and which caused a sharp reaction in the whole market. The first effect of the decision was to halt the advance in prices which was then in progress, but the highest prices of the day were touched afterward, and when the decline was renewed a period of dullness intervened which was more marked than any time during the recent dull period. The decline centered in United States Steel preferred and was unexplained by any news before the market closed. Authoritative intimations were given that the contest against the Northern Securities distribution will be continued in other courts, thus depriving the market of the assurance that this disturbing factor is removed by the decision at St. Paul. The tone of the decision was interpreted as an expression of opinion against the plausibility and strength of the Union Pacific contention. This opinion was of disadvantage to Union Pacific and caused selling by speculative holders who have counted on the value to Union Pacific of the projected control of Northern Pacific and Burlington. Northern Securities on the curb advanced 3¼ on the decision, but lost it all in the subsequent reaction. The market closed heavy at the rally. Many millions were loaned on call at 1¾ per cent., and interest rates receded for all sales of loans. Another large remittance of Japanese gold from San Francisco was followed by a further sharp advance in sterling exchange bills. It is supposed that much of the Japanese gold is shipped to San Francisco for the express purpose of remittance to London in payment of obligations for war materials there. The privilege of telegraph transfer from San Francisco to New York accorded by the government saves time and expense in this manner of transmission. Total sales of bonds, aggregated $3,350,000 (par value). United States 2s registered declined ¼, and the 3s registered and the new 4s advanced ½ per cent. on call.

GENERAL EASTERN MARKET.
GRAIN AND PRODUCE.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

CHICAGO, April 19.—May corn had a savage break of 2¾ on "Change today with Armour an open seller. The general impression was that the big line held by that house has been quietly liquidated during the last two weeks and that the deal is practically over. The Armour selling today began shortly before noon and for an hour the pit was in a turmoil, anxious longs dumping their lines, fighting to get rid of their corn before the bottom went out of the market. One representative of the Armour company sold personally fully 500,000 bushels of May, and made no effort either at concealment or support when the break got under way. The Armour line originally was generally estimated as high as 15,000,000 bushels, and it was accumulated mostly between 47 and 48 cents. The closing price today for May was 45¾, just 2¼ under the final figures of yesterday. Unanimity of reports from the Northwest and Southwest that the weather is excellent brought out liberal sales of long wheat here today. As a result, July wheat at the close showed a loss of an even cent. July corn is down 2@2½. Oats are off ⅝c, and provisions closed 2½ to 7½c lower.

Rain in Kansas, with an official forecast of more to follow, caused bearish sentiment among wheat traders at the opening. In spite of firm cables the market here was barely steady, initial sales of July being unchanged at 94⅝. News from the Northwest also was discouraging to bulls, the weather there being reported as greatly improved and that a good acreage is now almost assured. Long wheat was offered freely from the beginning but the majority of traders were timid about buying, notwithstanding the fact that the numerous crop-damage reports are still being received from Indiana, Illinois, Missouri and Kansas. The lack of demand soon started prices downward, and for the remainder of the session a decidedly weak tone was manifest. The market lacked any support. Business from out of town was chiefly in the nature of selling orders from the Northwest and Southwest. A decrease of 417,000 bushels in the world's visible supply as shown by Bradstreet's, a much smaller amount than had been anticipated—contributed weakness to the general situation. After July had declined to 95¾ there was a little ostensible support. It slightly resulted but the market closed weak with July at 95¾. May ranged between 91½ and 92c, and closed at 91½@¾.

In the face of the declining tendency of wheat, the corn market exhibited considerable firmness during the early part of the session, due largely to small receipts. Buying by commission houses caused a moderate advance in July, and the gain was well maintained until near the middle of the day, when a leading long began to sell large quantities of May. Under these offerings the market broke severely, the May delivery declining about 2½ and July over 1c. Weather was favorable for farm work and there was talk of freer acceptances of corn by the West, especially Nebraska. One reason assigned for the slump was that in order to prevent being sold any of these acceptances which are likely to grade well, the big bull declined to break the price of the May option. The market closed weak and near the low price. July opened unchanged to ⅛c higher at 50@50¼, and closed at 49¼@49¾. May closed at 45¾, after ranging between 45¾ and 47¼.

Pit traders and commission houses bought oats early in the session on the strength in the cash situation. The break in wheat and corn induced considerable realizing, resulting in a weaker tone. The close was almost at the bottom. July closed ⅝c lower, at 37½c.

Provisions were strong early in the day on an excellent demand from prominent packing interests, but the market yielded to the extreme weakness in grains. The close was easy. July pork, 5@7½c lower; July lard, 2½@5c lower, and ribs, 7½@8c lower.

On the Produce Exchange today the butter market was steady; creamery, 14@17; dairy, 14@21; eggs, firm, 16½@16¾; cheese, dull, easy, 9@10½.

The leading futures closed as follows:

| Wheat, No. 2— | Closing. |

| May | 91¾ |

Cash quotations were as follows: Flour was dull and steady; No. 2 spring wheat, 87@90½; No. 3, 85@85; No. 2 red, 85¼@87; No. 2 corn, 50½@53; No. 2 yellow, 51@51; No. 2 oats, 37½@38¾; No. 2 white, 39¼@42; No. 3 rye, 63; good feeding barley, 32@33; fair to choice malting, 44@55;

CITY FATHER SWINGS FIST.

FIGHT OVER OFFICIAL GRADES IN SAN BERNARDINO.

Citizen Would Fell the Shade Trees Rather Than Have His Neighbor's Curb Out of Line—Dr. Emily Potchnick Will Probably Die from Her Injuries.

SAN BERNARDINO, April 19.—The muddle over official grades and sidewalk lines this morning precipitated a street fight between City Trustee Wixom and a property owner named Hale, the latter being dealt a stinging blow on the face, which for a moment made him groggy. Hale recently had cement sidewalks laid in front of his property on G street between First and Second, and later when a neighbor put down walks two feet off from the line as followed by Hale, creating an unsightly appearance in the street, Hale appealed to the City Trustee to have the work stopped. Wixom explained that the beautiful shade trees along the street would have to be felled if Hale's wishes were carried out, whereupon the latter attacked the Trustee's integrity in an insulting manner, and while speaking was suddenly cut short by the blow. He swore to a complaint charging Trustee Wixom with assault and battery, but before the case came to trial before the City Recorder, realized that he was in the wrong and so withdrew the complaint.

Fifteen minutes before, Meier was in the field talking with his boy about crop prospects, apparently in the most cheerful spirits. When the young man went to the barn to get a piece of harness he was horrified to find his father suspended by a piece of clothesline. The heart was still beating, but life could not be revived. Meier had no financial or domestic troubles so far as is known, but for the past two weeks had been slightly sick. A coroner's jury rendered a verdict of suicide while temporarily insane. Meier was 68 years old, and leaves a widow and family of grown children, all at home. He had a wide acquaintance.

BIG SURPRISE TO SPORTS.

Graney Refereed Britt-Corbett Fight for Fun.

Jimmy's Brother Throws Light on the Matter.

Johnson Rules Ten-to-Eight Favorite Over McVey.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, April 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The announcement that Eddie Graney had received no pay for officiating as referee at the Britt-Corbett fight came as a big surprise among sports. It was ascertained that Corbett had confessed judgment before he left California, but he avowed that he would never square with Graney, because he claimed that he was robbed. Willie Britt, speaking for James, said today:

"I know the articles stated that the fighters were to pay the referee, but that does not cut any figure with us. When Jack Gleason brought us those articles to sign Jimmy said that he would not stand for paying the referee, as he thought that a club matter. Gleason asked Jimmy not to worry about that, for he would see that Graney was looked after. Jimmy made it very plain to Gleason that he would not pay Graney a cent. If Jimmy should give Graney a dollar now, a lot of Corbett's friends would say that something was wrong."

BETTING FAVORS JOHNSON.

Betting opened today on the Johnson-McVey fight, Friday night, in Mechanics' Pavilion. At Corbett's, this morning, Johnson ruled a 10-to-8 favorite over the Oxnard fighter. McVey is training for this contest as though his life depended upon it. He is anxious to retrieve himself for losing before to Johnson when he was "touted" as being in line for the world's championship honors. His manager, Billy Roche, of Oxnard, looks for him to be returned a winner.

ANNOUNCE ANOTHER MATCH.

The San Francisco Athletic Club announced today that it had matched Martin Cannole and "Battling" Nelson for next month. The contest will be a good one, as it will bring the best men of the East and Middle West together. Should Nelson win, he will be in a position to take on Britt for the 120-pound championship of the world.

MICHAEL SPRING WINS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

BOSTON, April 19.—Michael Spring of the Pastime Athletic Club of New York won the Marathon road race of twenty-five miles today, covering the distance in two hours, thirty-eight minutes four and two-fifth seconds, the second fastest time since the race was inaugurated and nine minutes behind the record, which was made in 1901, by J. J. Caffrey of Hamilton, Ont. T. J. Hicks of Cambridge was second, his time being 2:39:34 1-5, and E. F. Cook of South Boston third, in 2:42:35. The race was viewed at different points along the route from Ashland to this city by 100,000 persons.

A feature was the work of S. A. Mellor, Jr., of the Mohawk Athletic Club of New York, who won the race two years ago. Mellor took the lead at the start and maintained it until within three miles of the finish, when he was seized with cramps, which caused him to drop to a walk. Mellor and Spring were the two leaders for nineteen miles until Mellor became faint. He finished sixth.

FUTURITY HANDICAP FEATURE AT OAKLAND.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SAN FRANCISCO, April 19.—The track at Oakland was somewhat muddy today, owing to the heavy rain of the early morning hours. A handicap over the futurity course was the feature of the programme. Beau Ormonde opened a 3-to-2 favorite, but receded, while a play on Don Domo made him first choice at post time. The start was not a very good one. Don Domo and Double Six got away in the rear. Hagerdon, Beau Ormonde and Celebrant raced on almost even terms to the stretch. There Beau Ormonde drew away, winning easily from Celebrant. Third money went to Hagerdon. Don Domo was outrun. Summary:

Five and one-half furlongs, selling: Money Muss, 104 (W. Dugan,) 2 to 5, won; Headwater, 104 (Sinnott,) 60 to 1, second; Dora L., 99 (Holbrook,) 20 to 1, third; time 1:09. Olympian and Pencil Me finished as named. Step ran away.

HAS BEENS DROP THE FIRST GAME.

BAUM PROVES HE HAS ABOUT EVERYTHING NEEDED.

Holds the Visitors Down to Four Little Swats and Has Them on the Run from the Start—Game is Shy of Startling Features—Jones Makes Costly Error.

Los Angeles 3, San Francisco 0.

It begins to look now as if we might get back some of those games the Tacoma Irish carried away with them.

The old time Has Beens that we once took such a fiendish delight in walloping, got another one yesterday, the locals taking the first game of the series from them in rather easy fashion. It was a remarkably fast game, but, strange to say, lacked any features that might be considered brilliant. Almost every play was easy and the cold, cloudy weather huddled each player up within himself and threw the wet blanket of seriousness over the field. About 1500 fans braved the elements that threatened to weep big tears of rain all afternoon and were on hand to see Hank the Penman and his men.

Slats Baum did the principal business for the locals and always had the Has Beens in the hole so deep that none of them could get any farther than third base. Baum pitched a very pretty game and there was never at any moment much chance for him to lose. The team behind him did about everything that was asked of them and Hank had to sit on the bench and see himself get it. The principal cause of the short game was that hits and runs were few and all of the players seemed to go to bat without loss of time. This is much to be commended and if all the teams would hurry that way in every game there would be much more pleasure in watching the sport.

The Penman had one of his new pitchers, named Jones, on the hill, and while Mr. Jones put up a good game you never knew just what he was going to do with the ball when some one hit it at him. He is slow in doing anything with it, and for this reason the Looloos came by two runs very easily in the first inning. Bernard hit safely. Flood bunted to Jones, who got the ball and then monkeyed around long enough for Bernie to run to second in time to beat the throw. Then Smith advanced both with a pretty sacrifice, and after Cravath had flied to left field, Ross bounced one to Jones and he made a wild mess of it to first base, Bernard and Flood scoring and Ross going to second.

In the sixth Smith singled and stole second, went to third on Cravath's out at first and scored on Ross' double bagger to left.

A noticeable circumstance of the game was that pitcher Jones made no less than nine assists to first base, which might be called a remarkable lot.

Miller seems too small for a shortstop and it is hardly likely that he will last the season out. He had but one chance in the game, which is another remarkable thing, and Anderson at second had but one assist.

The locals put up a good game, the only error being a wide throw by Raymond which did not do any damage.

SPIES-HUSTON CASE.
FANS EXPECT A STIFF FINE.

The principal talk of the fans yesterday around town was as to the action of the league directors in regard to the assault of Spies on Umpire Huston last Monday. There was no division of opinion on the probability that Spies would be sharply prodded with a fine for his impetuosity. It appears that the scrap was premeditated, for an hour before Spies went after Huston he declared he would punch the umpire, and also took the trouble to tell Manager Harris of the San Francisco team that he would. When Spies had worked himself up into the proper spirit he walked over to where Huston was sitting in a chair in Morley's billiard rooms, told Huston he intended to hit him, and thereupon did so.

Huston has reported the assault to President Bert, and now the fans are waiting to see what President Bert will hand out to the catcher. It will probably be something that Heinie won't forget, as Bert will doubtless hold to the opinion that the league umpires must be protected from players both on and off the field.

Spies Prospects.

According to Henry Harris, who ought to know, Heinie Spies is up against either a heavy fine or a long suspension for soaking Umpire Huston in the ear Monday. Harris states, and the truth of his remarks cannot be denied, that the umpire, right or wrong, must be upheld in his rulings on or off the baseball field.

Heinie is a good ball player and an honest, hard-working catcher if ever there was one, but he would get into a whole lot less trouble and enjoy life more keenly if he would forget some of his grievances. The trouble with the count is he keeps brooding over a grievance and the longer he thinks it over, the sorer he gets, until finally, after everybody else has forgotten it, he soaks somebody alongside the ear, and costs himself a week's salary.

Today's Game.

This will be the first ladies' day of the week and in honor of it Manager Harris of the San Francisco team will pitch Chimmie de Whale and Morley will put in Maj for Los Angeles. It should be understood that a game will be played every day even if the rain falls up to noontime.

SEMI-PROS. TO OPEN SOON NOW.

COMMERCIAL LEAGUE TEAMS TO PUT UP GOOD BALL.

Line-ups Officially Announced for Season's Play, Which Will Begin First of Coming Month—Teams Have Uniforms, and Official Judge of Play Appointed—The Roster.

Budding magnates of the Commercial League held their weekly meeting last night for the purpose of concluding arrangements for the opening of the semi-professional baseball season in this city, an occasion which will be duly celebrated Sunday, May 1, at Chutes Park, after the Looloos have departed on their northern trip. A double-header will be then played for one price of admission, and fans will have a chance of seeing all the talent in action, the first game being called at 1:30.

The four teams which compose the league have arranged their line-ups satisfactorily and have many on the waiting list. The complexion of the clubs is about as has been printed in these columns heretofore. Natty uniforms have been adopted by all; Moss Hamburger, one of the officers of the league, has taken a personal interest in the team which bears his name and their suits will be exhibited in the Hamburger show windows today.

The various teams will line up as follows:

Hamburgers—Charles Bennett, manager; Crandall and L. Sheets, pitchers; L. Raftery and W. Bills, catchers; Preston, first base; Harris, second base; L. Moore, shortstop; E. Moore, third base; George Ellis, H. Rafferty, Ritter, outfielders. Color of uniforms, gray, black cap, stockings and trimmings.

Tufts-Lyon Arms Company—J. Harris, captain; Champion, Simons, pitchers; Barris, catcher; Leahy, first base; Crane, second base; Dorsey, shortstop; Wilkerson, third base; Daly, Schram and Hutchins, fielders. Uniforms, green with white trimmings and black stockings. S. D. Tipton, manager.

Modern Woodmen—J. A. McCahill, manager; Starkey, John Simons, pitchers; Henry Mangerina, catcher; Harry Lelande, first base and captain; C. Rodner, second base; C. Mallett, shortstop; B. Ross, third base; D. Simons, H. West, Raphael, outfielders. Uniforms, black, red cap and stockings, red trimmings.

Owls—Charles W. Keppen, manager; Huckby, pitcher; M. Long, catcher; Frank Bowman, first base and captain; T. Adams, second base; McQuade, shortstop; Cramer, third base; G. Bowman, G. Adams and Lepper, fielders. Uniforms, black, gold trimmings, yellow stockings, gold owl on breast.

W. H. Stone will be the official umpire of the league. The opening games will be between the Modern Woodmen and Hamburgers, and the Owls and Tufts-Lyons. Ladies are to be admitted free to all the games.

Officers of the league are Ed Tufts, president; John Brink, vice-president; Moss Hamburger, treasurer, and E. S. Hamill, secretary. These, with the team managers, compose the directorate.

Practice games will be played next Sunday at near-by country towns. The Owls will play the strong Olinda all-well team. The Modern Woodmen go to Ventura for a game with the home team of that place. The Hamburgers go to Covina and the Tufts-Lyons to Pomona.

Ed Moore, the Hamburger's third baseman, has the rather remarkable record of seventeen assists in one game without an error, and his teammates expect great things of him.

Fell from Building.

Club Delegates.

At the meeting of the Third Ward Republican Club held last night at its quarters, No. 211 West Second street, a special meeting was arranged for Friday night for the purpose of electing delegates to the convention of the State League of Republican Clubs in Sacramento.

Government Examinations.

Eighteen aspirants took the government Civil-Service examinations yesterday in Turner Hall for typewriters and stenographers in the Philippine service, hydrographers and topographers. Thirty more will take examinations for railway-mail clerks and other government clerkships today.

Board of Trade.

At the annual meeting of the Los Angeles Board of Trade yesterday President Woollacott presented a comprehensive review of the year's work of the organization. The following directorate was reelected: Jacob Baruch, John J. Bergin, Shannon Crandall, W. G. Hunt, John Kahn, M. H. Newmark, George H. Stolp, John S. Thayer, H. J. Woollacott.

To Report on Hays.

It is understood that the Federal grand jury will report this morning, when it is expected that indictments will be returned against H. T. Hays, former cashier of the Orange Growers' National Bank of Riverside, on the four complaints filed against him in the United States courts. Witnesses testified before the grand jury last week in the Hays matter, and everything points to the probability of true bills of indictment being rendered against the Riverside man today.

At the Chutes.

The ability of the Ellery Band was never better displayed than in the rendering of the programme offered last night—the soloists of the organization in particular, giving a brilliant account of themselves in the big Chopin number. "Die Walkure," "Lohengrin" and Verdi's "Lombardi" were all enthusiastically received, and the soloists were accorded in some cases double encores. Tomorrow evening another concert will be given, and the band will appear for the first time in its new locally-made uniforms.

Musicale.

Los Angeles is the richer by a young pianist, Miss Harriet Johnson, who proved her right to the title of artist at the musicale given yesterday afternoon at the Friday Morning Club. One after another, Miss Johnson rendered from memory the ten brilliant numbers of the programme, her interpretations showing a clear-cut and marvelous technique, united with true feeling and expression. The programme included Haydn's variations in F minor, Mendelssohn's "Songs Without Words," Chopin-Liszt's Chant Polonaise, Linding's "Rustles of Spring," Schumann's "Night Song," Schubert-Tausig "Marche Militaire," besides three numbers from Chopin.

Marshall-Darrach Recital.

Last evening in spite of the presence of Minnie Maddern Fiske in the city, the Woman's Club House, was filled with a large and brilliant assemblage to witness the recital of "The Merchant of Venice," by Marshall Darrach. Since Mr. Darrach is known as a society swell, the women donned their most brilliant gowns in his honor, and so the clubhouse presented an appearance, which might have been gratifying to the eyes of any "mere man." "The Merchant of Venice" is considered Mr. Darrach's masterpiece, and its presentation last night was such that none were disappointed. His Shylock was particularly striking. Mr. Darrach is a large and handsome man, but last evening, without a word, nor a vestige of make-up, he was transformed from the upright, manly Bassanio, into the shrunken, cringing and grasping Jew; greedily reaching out for the flesh of the hated Christian. Mr. Darrach has been compared to Henry Irving in his presentation of Shylock, and not without reason. In the love scenes he was at ease minus the fair lady in question, even embracing vacant space with such ardor as to make her presence seem a verity. In portraying Tubal, the friend of Shylock, Mr. Darrach showed a great versatility.

OUT GUNNING FOR A RAIN.

Opening Bombardment in El Cajon Valley Today.

Forty Mortars Will Roar Thirty-two Hours.

Los Angeles Witnesses to Mrs. Muir's Marriage.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

SAN DIEGO, April 19.—Tomorrow afternoon at 5 o'clock is the time set for the rain bombardment in the El Cajon Valley, the center of the vineyards which produce the finest raisins in the world. The place selected is a half mile from Cajon proper, in the valley. Twenty-four guns or mortars will be operated, in five groups, and about five rods apart. The guns will be manned by forty men, who will be divided into four shifts of eight hours each. The firing is so timed that a gun will be discharged every thirty seconds, this being kept up for thirty-two hours. W. F. Wright is the general manager. The foremen of the squads are ranchers of the district, who have put up good money to make the experiment. Harry Stell, Harry Hubbell, R. L. Clingen and John Ballentine.

MRS. MUIR'S MARRIAGE.

Today Township Justice Thorp got around to file with the County Recorder the certificate of the marriage of Paul J. Sepulveda and Mrs. Mary J. Muir of Los Angeles. The marriage took place on April 7, the date of the issue of the license, and the witnesses were John N. Metcalf and Essie Crowe, both of Los Angeles. Mr. Metcalf is an attorney. Formerly he was a deputy in the office of the District Attorney here. He was the Republican nominee for City Justice in the last election, but was defeated by M. B. Anderson, the Democratic nominee. After the campaign he went to Los Angeles, where he is practicing. Essie Crowe is not known here.

CRICHTON SMITH MARRIED.

Crichton Smith, a Los Angeles real estate dealer, and Miss Anna Ryan of Los Angeles, were married last evening by Rev. W. E. Crabtree. After passing a few days in this city Mr. and Mrs. Smith will occupy a new home which is awaiting them at Los Angeles.

TROLLEY TO LA JOLLA?

The latest railroad report here is that Los Angeles capitalists are behind a proposition to build and operate a trolley line between this city and La Jolla, fifteen miles, paralleling the San Diego, Pacific Beach and La Jolla road, owned by E. S. Babcock and others. Property owners at Pacific Beach and other intermediate points have been approached as to right of way, with the assurance that it is a genuine business proposition.

VALUATIONS RAISED.

The City Board of Equalization completed its work today, raising city property valuations from 10 to 25 per cent. In most cases, however, it will not overrun 10 per cent. A 10-per-cent. increase is ordered on 600 lots in Horton's addition, the business heart of the city. The Sunset Telegraph and Telephone and San Diego Gas and Electric Light Company are given stiff raises.

Mellon No "Obstructionist."

YUMA (Ariz.) April 17.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I have read your able article in The Times of April 9, in which you say that I will be "ferninst" using the water of the Colorado for irrigating. Such is not the case. I have always favored any project that will benefit the greatest number and in more than one case have expressed the above opinion to government officials who have come here to investigate the taking of water from the Colorado for irrigation. As a navigable stream, the Colorado has served its use. When hay was $50 per ton and barley 8 cents per pound and no roads into the country steamers could compete with mules; but with barley 1½ cents per pound and hay $11 per ton and with roads built to every mining camp it is an uphill job for steamers to climb eighteen inches to the mile and compete with mules. Right here I wish to say that if Engineer Davis's plans are carried out there will be water enough for irrigation and navigation, and the expense of operating boats will be reduced two-thirds. . . . J. A. MELLON.

Since the installation of the fifteen thousand dollar Steinway Piano in the White Pouse, President and Mrs. Roosevelt have established a precedent by inaugurating a series of musicales, as a means of entertaining, that social leaders in private life would do well to follow.

In Los Angeles, particularly, there is some of the best professional talent of the country—men and women eminently proficient in music—whose services could be engaged for such functions at a very moderate cost.

Not alone would the profession be benefited, but the people promoting the idea would find it a most delightful means of furnishing refined and elevating entertainment for their friends.

We would be pleased to aid any one in arranging a programme along the lines indicated, and would further request the musical critics of the several Los Angeles newspapers to take up this matter, thereby conferring a favor upon musicians as well as the public.

"EXPRESS" ACCUSED OF CHEATING CITY.

Fifty Charges to be Filed With the City Council Alleging Sensational Frauds in Connection With the Municipal Advertising.

BEFORE another contract for city printing is let, the Supply Committee of the City Council will investigate charges that the Evening Express has failed to publish municipal advertising in its entire issue each day as required by law and specified in the contract made a year ago between the Express and the City Council.

Allegation is made that the Express failed repeatedly to publish notices of municipal improvements in its so-called "extra" editions, which are regularly circulated in the city.

The following list comprises fifty instances in which the charge is made that the ordinances were not published in the entire editions of the Express. The proof in each case consists of a copy of the Express, published on the day for which affidavit has been made with the City Clerk that the ordinance was printed, but in which the advertisement does not appear:

On file in the City Clerk's office are affidavits, sworn to by C. A. Hiles, Jr., clerk of the Evening Express, that the items of advertising included in the above list were published in the entire issue of the Express on the days mentioned. Each of these affidavits is alleged to be a perjury.

Copies of the Express were supplied each day on which these advertisements were supposed to run, to the City Clerk and the City Attorney. These papers contained the ordinances, published in accordance with the terms of the Express's contract with the city. The copies of the paper from which the advertisements were cut out to effect a saving of white paper, were carefully kept away from the city officials.

Dates on the papers show that the Express has been excluding municipal advertisements from a part of its daily issue for almost a year. This was done so adroitly that it was only discovered by the city officials a few days ago. At that time an attempt was made to keep the discovery a secret lest it invalidate assessments for work already completed. Now that the facts have been given to the public a searching investigation will follow.

In a wild attempt to hold for another year the printing contract that last year proved so valuable, the Express yesterday summoned to its aid the walking delegates of the union-labor organizations. The jawsmiths of the typographical union yesterday invaded the committee-room of the City Council and proclaimed to all who cared to listen that the typographical union must be taken into consideration in letting the city's printing contract.

PEACE-DISTURBER BUTTS IN.

Francis Drake, a jawsmith who has come into open conflict with the police in almost every labor disturbance in this city for the last four years, approached Councilmen and told them that his union "demanded" a hearing before the contract was let.

He attempted to dictate to Councilman Davenport, who is chairman of the Supply Committee, what course the bids should take, but Davenport cut him short with the curt reminder that "The Supply Committee will meet to consider these bids Friday morning. If you have any suggestions to offer make them at that time."

Drake next tried to get some expression from Councilman Summerland, who is also a member of the Supply Committee. Here he was even less successful than with Davenport. Summerland curtly told Drake there would be nothing to conceal in his action on the bids for city advertising. "All that I do will be done at open session," said Summerland. "I shall vote for what I think is right, suffering dictation from no one."

Drake then tried to approach other Councilmen, but found each one more bitter than the last, and he soon left the hall in despair.

Following close on the heels of the walking delegates came the manager of the Express in person. He was very desirous of meeting the chairman of the Supply Committee, and appeared pained when he learned that Davenport had left the hall a few minutes before.

Recalling incidents of former awards of advertising contracts, those most interested in the bonds voted last week for waterworks and for a detention hospital are not inclined to accept the statement of the Express that the resolution calling for the bond sale was published in the entire edition of the Express each day, without further investigation.

This investigation will be watched with interest by contractors who have been basing their chances of collecting assessments on the sworn statement of the Express that it was publishing the ordinances as required by law. The management of the Express claims that the advertisement of the water bond election was published in every paper that left the office, in the extras as well as in the regular edition.

"If the Express published that bond ordinance in its extra editions and left the other municipal advertising out," said one heavy contractor last night, "the fact in itself is a confession that the management knew that the advertising should run and left it out to save a paper bill. That is graft of the most vicious sort and the contractors who have their all invested in their work may be made the victims of Express greed and dishonesty."

Contractors appealed to City Attorney Mathews, but he could give them little comfort. He told them that the report that the Express had left municipal advertisements out of a part of its editions had not yet been confirmed and he expressed the hope that it could not be. He appealed to the members of his official staff and they said that the papers delivered at the City Attorney's office contained the advertising as ordered.

Mr. Mathews said last night that, while he had not given the matter of the bond issue a thorough investigation, he was inclined to the belief that the advertisement of the ordinance of sale had been regular. He declined to make a statement as to the validity of street assessments where the advertisement had been omitted from a part of the edition of the official paper, saying that this was a matter that would most likely come up to him from the Council.

In a futile effort to cover up its own shortcomings the Express last night published what proved later to be a garbled interview with city officials, in which it attempted to throw discredit on the statements which they had made to a Times reporter Monday.

Far from denying their statements, these officials last night were willing to confirm them in signed interviews. The Express tried to make Assistant City Attorney Goudge say that the first time he had heard of the alleged failure of the Express to print official advertising in its entire edition was when the matter was broached to him by a Times reporter.

MR. GOUDGE'S STATEMENT.

In refutation of this, Mr. Goudge last night gave The Times the following statement:

"The statement had been made to me before I discussed the matter with a Times reporter that the Express had not published in all its editions the ordinance calling the bond election and the resolutions declaring the necessity of these public improvements. I had not investigated the matter at that time.

"F. J. GOUDGE."

Councilman Todd, who is a member of the Council Supply Committee, will not be in the city when the committee meets Friday to take up the advertising contract. Mr. Todd will leave this afternoon for a six weeks' trip to St. Louis and other eastern cities.

GUESTS OF SALT LAKE.

State Board of Equalization Will Go Over Lines of the Railroad Today.

The State Board of Equalization will arrive this morning for the purpose of making a trip over the lines of the San Pedro, Los Angeles and Salt Lake Railroad before approving the maps of the corporation.

The occasion of the visit is the appearance of the Salt Lake route on the assessment rolls outside of Los Angeles county for the first time, and the State board has accepted the invitation of the officers of the road to go over its tracks.

The party from the north, which was due here yesterday, but was delayed by a wreck on the Southern Pacific, is composed of the following four members of the State Board of Equalization: Frank Madison, W. H. Alford, E. P. Colgan and W. H. Beamer, Chairman Brown not being able to come. Accompanied by J. Ross Clark, T. E. Gibbon, F. K. Rule, H. Hawgood, T. P. Cullen and Frank A. Waters, right of way agent of the Salt Lake route, a special train will this morning carry the party to San Pedro. They will then go to Riverside, taking lunch at the Glenwood, and tomorrow a trip will be made to other points.

A Four-Year-Old Woman.

The friends of Miss Belle Hagner, social secretary to Mrs. Roosevelt, tell with great glee a story of her early childhood.

When she was four years old she broke some rule of parental discipline and was turned over to her father for correction.

"Belle," said her father, "I am grieved to say that I shall be obliged to spank you."

"Father," the future social secretary replied, "you would not strike a woman, would you?"—[New York World.

SUFFRAGISTS GO MAN HUNTING.

CAN'T FIND ONE FOR THEIR HORRIBLE EXAMPLE.

Not One Tyrant Will Speechify at the Convention Tomorrow—Some of the Women Workers See a Chance to Vote—On the Warpath for the "Cause."

Because they are unable to find a tyrant man who will talk to them, the women suffragists of this city are in despair.

They need one such for tomorrow's talkfest. A woman suffrage convention without a man for a horrible example would be as much of a frost as a temperance meeting without a reformed drunkard.

In spite of the fact that their best efforts have so far been unproductive of a solitary man who will come forward and confess, some of these women have it all mapped out in their own minds that they are to win the ballot.

Several men have been asked to speak at tomorrow's meeting. They assure their wives with passionate earnestness that it is a mean shame that women cannot vote, but when asked to say so in a hall they have one and all shied back in alarm.

The convention is to take the warpath on the morning of Thursday in the unity Church to arrange plans for the "cause."

The morning is to be devoted to the work of organizing pipe dreams. In the afternoon addresses will be made by a man, if one can be captured, and by several women who have looked in the outrageous condition of affairs.

One of the prominent leaders of the movement and one who will take a strong part in the battle preparations is Mrs. M. E. Leonard, who says that her blood is boiling.

Mrs. Leonard has a most frightful experience to contribute to the meeting!

"The other day," she says, "I had to go to the Courthouse to pay my taxes, and through what do you suppose I was obliged to walk to get there? A ballot booth where men were voting.

"It makes my blood boil. I would take the field and fight in a minute for our rights if it would do any good, just as our forefathers did when the British tried to tax them without representation.

"They say that we can influence the votes of our sons and husbands, but we can't. They don't do it. They say, 'Yes, mamma, we think you are right about it,' and then they go and vote the other way.

"Here I was going in there to the tax office and here those men, and a lot of them were perfect loafers, were outside voting away my money. Men talk a lot about women's privileges. I guess this was where my privileges came in."

Mrs. Leonard says that it was the liquor men who defeated the woman suffrage amendment when it was put before the voters before, but she believes that men have become more civilised since then.

Automobile Development.

The question of mechanical transport is being considered in another way—that is, in the extension of the automobile to a really practical method of merchandise haulage on ordinary highways. There have been various operative difficulties in the way of the practical application of the automobile to commercial road service. Single vehicles have too great a proportion of dead to paying load, and their use has been found practicable only when questions of convenience and endurance have outweighed cost. Attempts to haul trains of trailer wagons have not been successful, because of the limited tractive power of the hauling vehicle, and because it has been found difficult to steer a train of trailers along a narrow and crooked road. Better success has been attained with the method of multiple propulsion, of which several systems have been devised. This plan, which involves the transmission of rotary motion by means of a shaft with universal joint connections through the entire length of the train, was tried long ago for railway service, and for special purposes, such as logging trains, it has been very successful.

The most conspicuous application of the method to ordinary highway traction has been made recently by Col. Renard in France. This system employs a tractor which may be steam or gasoline automobile, followed by several trailers. oBth the tractor and the wagons are propelled, the power being transmitted by a longitudinal shaft the entire length of the train, so that the adhesion of all the wheels upon the road is utilized. By an ingenious connection of the tailpiece of each wagon with the pole of the next, the steering is mechanically controlled, the various wagons "tracking" exactly in the path of the tractor. The hauling capacity of such a system is limited only by the power of the engine, and in actual service an excellent efficiency has been obtained. It is very probable that some such method of propelling trains mechanically will be found available for military use. The employment of motors capable of burning ordinary petroleum would dispense with the necessity of carrying water, and avoid one of the difficulties with steam traction engines in dry countries.—[Forum.

Food of no Moment.

"This roast beef is bady burned," said the waiter to his employer. "It's useless to cause trouble by trying to serve it."

"Take it over to that bridal couple by the window," said the restaurant proprietor. "They will never know the difference."—[Chicago Daily News.

"SORRY FOR LOS ANGELES!"

The Fiske Attitude as to the Press Criticisms.

Scorn for Our Opinions of "Mary of Magdala."

Whew! Actress Didn't Even Read the Papers.

Will Mrs. Fiske withdraw from the stage the sacrilegious play, "Mary of Magdala," which was roasted by the Los Angeles critics yesterday morning?

Ach! No! She didn't even read the papers.

Now wouldn't that make a critic cross?

Mrs. Fiske has a manager whose real mission in life is to be censor of a Jap war bureau. Every time he has heard a newspaper crackle since yesterday morning he has shuddered. He doesn't want Mrs. Fiske to know. Mustn't see the papers.

His extreme vigilance has given rise to some funny situations.

Mrs. Fiske is staying with some old friends in Los Angeles. Monday night her host started to "saunter behind" to see his guest, and it took about an hour to pass the guard lines.

They shoved him off in a dark waiting-room and only after proving his identity and giving in his card, his poll tax receipt, and explaining his excuse for living, was he allowed to send a message to her at all.

The frightened property man made a mistake about the furniture Monday, and last night the whole theater household had to sit up until morning having a dress parade of all the "fixings" for tonight's play, the leading lady sitting down in the gloomy, deserted theater and frowning terribly at the scurrying stage hands, while they frantically boosted the stage furniture around.

Last night, a blithe young reporter from one of the Los Angeles newspapers had a most unhappy experience trying to interview Mrs. Fiske. It seems that one of the papers wished to inquire of Mrs. Fiske, did she now confess herself a wicked woman after giving "Mary Magdala"—a sociable, chatty subject for a talk between acts. This young man had been sent over to be her father confessor.

He encountered, it seems, this chilly proposition in the box office.

From the accounts given of the interview, the censor must have had some sort of wireless attachment to the star's dressing-room. The swiftness with which he carried the young reporter's earnest questions to and fro!

Manager told him that Mrs. Fiske was not well and could not be seen, only through his intervention.

What did Mrs. Fiske think of the criticisms of her play?

The manager momentarily disappeared and immediately bobbed out again like unto those little tin barometers wherein a little boy pops out for dry weather and a little old man for wet.

Answer: Mrs. Fiske hadn't seen the criticisms.

Horrified young reporter: What! Didn't Mrs. Fiske read the things the critics wrote about her?

The manager answered this for himself: "Not Los Angeles critics."

Wasn't that a sarcastic one, though?

Again please couldn't Mrs. Fiske be seen?

The young reporter didn't think the lovely Mrs. Fiske could be as mean and sarcastic as that.

Fading manager, reappearing: Was there anything special to ask Mrs. Fiske? Mrs. Fiske knew of no special questions before the country now requiring her remarks. Mrs. Fiske was constitutionally opposed to being interviewed."

Before the little, scared reporter crept away, the manager delivered his own opinions.

"So sorry, y' know, but what could Mrs. Fiske say about her play? That play has been praised by all the great critics in the country. Of course, here in Los Angeles—"

(Oh, the scorn of him.)

"That play was written by a master of literature; it was then translated by William Winter——"

Whether it was that he couldn't remember what William Winter was or whether words failed him, he said no more.

"What do you think about the way the people here have received the play?" the reporter asked the manager.

"Me," said the manager scornfully, "I feel sorry for Los Angeles."

BURGLARY EPIDEMIC.

A Quartette of Crimes Reported Yesterday Morning—Good Haul of Saloon Cash.

No less than four burglaries were reported to the police detectives yesterday morning. The saloon of Charles Steinfeldt, at Sixth and Broadway, was entered through a window in the toilet room, after the place had been closed up for the night, and considerable money taken. From the cash register $5 was secured by the thieves and $185 from the safe, which had been left unlocked.

The room of Pat Reilly at Hotel Vendome, on East First street, was entered, his pantaloons were taken to the hall and $15 abstracted from the pockets.

Burr Reyes of No. 1022 South Figueroa street reported that his house had been entered by cutting the screen from the porch, and notwithstanding the fact that three people were sleeping in the room, his clothing was carried out and $3 in money and two gold rings taken from the pockets. No one was awakened by the burglary.

M. Brandt of the Santa Rosa reports that his house was entered in the early morning and two suits of clothing taken.

There was no clue to any of these burglaries and no arrests were made.

GAVE HIS CASH, SAVED HIS LIFE.

E. C. FRISBEE'S ADVENTURE WITH FOOTPADS.

Confronted by Two Masked Men as He Alighted from a Street-car, He Promptly Obeyed the Command to Stand and Deliver—Victim Takes Loss Philosophically.

E. C. Frisbee, an oil man, of No. 1645 West First street, was the victim of two hold-up men yesterday morning about 12:15 o'clock at the corner of Belmont avenue and West First street. Frisbee had just alighted from a car when he was hailed by a couple of masked men, who demanded his money or his life. Considering discretion the better part of valor, Frisbee says he held up his hands and allowed the robbers to go through his pockets. They secured $43 in cash, but refused to take a handsome gold watch.

After robbing Frisbee, the men ordered him to march straight ahead and never look back. His home was only a short distance, and Frisbee says he lost no time in getting away from the dangerous locality.

The hold-up was not reported at the Police Station, and yesterday when asked why, Frisbee said that he thought it would do no good, as he had decided to pocket his loss and call it one more experience. Frisbee could give no accurate description of the robbers, as the night was dark and he was not afforded a glimpse of their faces. In speaking of the affair he said: "I guess I was an easy mark, but I would prefer to part with my money rather than my life. The men were slouchily dressed and wore masks, but I was able to distinguish the fact that both were Americans, and they seemed to be dressed for the occasion."

WILL ABOLISH LOCAL BOARD,

CIVIL SERVICE CHIEF IS HERE MAKING CHANGES.

Hon. A. W. Cooley Arrives on an Official Tour of the Pacific Coast Accompanied by Secretary Goodwin of the National Civil Service Reform League.

Hon. A. W. Cooley, United States Civil Service Commissioner, arrived in the city from the North on the Coast Line Limited last night at 10:45 o'clock, accompanied by Elliott H. Goodwin, secretary of the National Civil Service Reform League.

When seen at the Angelus Mr. Cooley explained that his mission to the Pacific Coast partly concerned certain changes in the organization of the civil service work. The various examining boards through California and Nevada are to be abolished, and the work for these two States to be centered in a headquarters board in San Francisco, which is to be in charge of Benjamin F. Ward, the secretary of the board in San Francisco, who is also in Los Angeles at present.

Auxiliary members of the central board will oversee the examination work in each community where examinations are conducted.

Mr. Cooley expects to go from here to Phoenix Thursday. Tonight he and Mr. Goodwin will be guests of the Municipal League at an informal dinner at Levy's, when addresses will be made by the visitors from Washington. Today Commissioner Cooley will take charge of the civil-service examinations in Turner Hall.

Queen's Tomb Discovered.

A discovery of marked importance to the antiquarian world has been announced from Luxor, where an investigation party, engaged for the past year in excavating the tomb of Queen Hatasoo, who flourished about 1500 B. C. has succeeded in finding her sarcophagus. It is in perfect preservation. It was Queen Hatasoo, or more correctly Hatshepeut Maat Ka-Ra, who built the temple of Der el Bahri, near Thebes.—[Brooklyn Citizen.

REFRIGERATORS SHOT INTO THE ICE WAR.

IF THE ice war continues in Los Angeles, all that a young couple will need to go to housekeeping with is a pound of ice. The rival ice companies will pay the parson, rent the house, fill the family larder, buy a patent piano, an automobile and hire a retinue of servants—all for the privilege of selling the household ice.

It has already come to the point where refrigerators are given away.

Many people are still holding out and refusing to sign the contracts of either company, waiting until automobiles are given away.

The refrigerator feature of the war came yesterday when the Home Company swept into line of battle where the Union Company is already making ice-box inducements.

The Union Company is letting their customers have refrigerators at cost and on long installments.

To meet this, the Home Company announced yesterday that it would give refrigerators away in this manner:

You must first sign a contract to take ice from that company exclusively for a term of from three to five years.

You may then take a refrigerator of any kind and size you like by putting up one-half the cost. This payment is put down to your ice credit. In other words, you are given ice without cost until the amount of half the price of the refrigerator has been reached.

In order to insure the bill building up briskly, a second payment comes due on the refrigerator in thirty days and a third in sixty days—all taken out in ice.

Dozens of solicitors are in the field securing contracts for both companies.

The Home Company claims that it has already contracted for fifty tons of ice per day, which will be the output of the factory to begin with. Later the capacity of the plant will be increased to 100 tons a day.

The Home Company's plant will be in operation about May 15.

"There is nothing much doing in the war line just now," said one of the officials yesterday, "but when both of the plants are running you will see some fun."

PUBLIC SERVICE—OFFICIAL DOINGS.

SUMMARY OF THE DAY.

The Police Board yesterday morning denied an application for a wholesale liquor license on South Main street near the "La Paloma" lodging house.

Chief Hammel has been instructed to investigate complaints from physicians that massage signs are being used to advertise houses of ill fame.

Mrs. Athelia Gilbert was yesterday appointed matron at the Police Station.

The Police Commission passed a resolution that in the future any policeman found drunk at his post would be dismissed from the department.

Mrs. Mary S. Hind was granted a divorce yesterday by Judge Allen, and it served as a complementary suit to the sensational quiet-title suit adjudicated a month or two ago.

Dr. Heerdink refuses to be considered insane, and yesterday followed the example set several weeks ago by demanding a jury trial after he had been found insane by the commission in lunacy.

The Sixth-street franchise may now be forgotten for a jury in Judge Trask's court has found that O. G. Johnson's services for bidding it in were worth $500.

In the Police Court yesterday Inspector Drummond of the City Health Office, convicted a drummer of selling adulterated honey.

AT THE CITY HALL.

MUST GO DRY, "LA PALOMA."

APPLICATION FOR WHOLESALE LICENSE WITHDRAWN.

Main Street Property Owners Wage Winning Fight Against Invasion by Wholesale Liquor Establishments—Intoxication Will Mean Dismissal from the Force.

"La Paloma," the "fashionable hotel" on South Main street, will have to go dry. The Police Commission looked so hostile when application for a wholesale liquor license on the ground floor was presented that the applicants weakened and asked for permission to take it back.

George LaCour decided to stay with his application for a wholesale liquor license in the same block. When the Police Commissioners met yesterday morning they were confronted by an array of three score irate property owners and a protest longer than the delinquent tax list. The Commissioners turned the application down without so much as giving Mrs. Dunbar's neighbors a chance to tell what they thought of her and her ornate apartment house.

Mrs. Dunbar, who is a very bright and attractive woman, says the applications for liquor licenses came from persons with whom she has nothing to do, and that her rooming-house will be opened May 1 and will be properly conducted in every way.

Application for a wholesale liquor license at No. 1810 South Main street was made two weeks ago by William Loos. The residents in the block attached significance to the fact that the wholesale house and "The Dove" would be opened about the same time and they promptly prepared a protest "believing that to grant this application would be highly prejudicial to the best interests of the residence community."

A delegation of property owners in the block yesterday morning attended the session of the Police Commission prepared to back up their protest with a request that the City Attorney be asked to give an opinion whether the Police Commission has the authority to grant a wholesale liquor license outside the present saloon district. Members of the party said that they were advised that the Commission could not do so.

They were not given the opportunity to raise the question, however, as one application was denied and the other withdrawn without discussion.

A building near the corner of Pico street and Maple avenue is being fitted up for what the neighbors say is to be a wholesale liquor establishment. No application has been made to the Police Commission for a license, but the property owners have taken time by the forelock by preparing their protest.

MUST KEEP SOBER.

POLICE BOARD ITEMS.

Police Officer P. H. Horris, suspended by Chief Hammel the 8th inst. for being intoxicated while on duty yesterday morning admitted his guilt before the Police Commission and was fined $50 for the offense.

The Chief said in the officer's behalf that he had a long and honorable record as an able and efficient member of the force and asked that leniency be shown him. After adopting this recommendation the Commissioners called the Chief's attention to a rule in the new police code which provides that drunkenness shall at all times be deemed sufficient cause for dismissal. "Cause this rule to be read to the watch," admonished the Mayor, "for it is the sentiment of this commission that no more fines shall be imposed for intoxication while on duty. In the future we shall listen to no requests for leniency. The fact that an officer was drunk at his post will mean immediate dismissal."

This statement promptly received the indorsement of an official resolution by the Board of Commissioners. Chief Hammel thanked the Mayor and the Commissioners for the passage of the resolution and promised to see that it was enforced.

A communication from the Council referring to the Police Commission a complaint that massage signs were displayed by persons conducting a disreputable business, was turned over to Chief Hammel for investigation. The complaint was made by Swedish physicians, who claimed that their profession was brought into disrepute by irresponsible practitioners.

Mrs. Aletha Gilbert was appointed matron of the city prison and Mrs. Loretta McPeek assistant matron. In the recent Civil Service examinations Mrs. McPeek passed with a higher percentage than Mrs. Gilbert. She had expected to qualify only to the position of assistant matron. Yesterday she sent a communication to the Police Commission waiving her right and asking that Mrs. Gilbert be given the position of matron. The board referred the communication to the Civil Service Commission and to the City Attorney. Both gave their consent to the reversal of the positions.

AT THE COURTHOUSE.

FINGER MARKS ON HER THROAT.

MRS. MARY S. HIND TELLS HER STORY IN COURT.

Husband Choked Her Because She Declined to Hand Over Her Sooty Earnings—Later He Made a Proposition Which Shows That His Morals are Sadly Defective.

Petite Mrs. Mary S. Hind yesterday furnished the sequel to the sensational statements made by her in her quiet-title suit, which was tried before Judge Allen rome time ago. The sequel was fully up to the previous trial in interest, although not quite so long drawn out.

The plaintiff is still a very young woman, but has had, according to her own statements, a varied life. When barely 16 years of age she and William J. Hinds son of a wealthy family in New York State, committed matrimony, according to the common law usage. At least that is what Mrs. Hind said, though the husband denied that there was any marriage of any brand even contemplated. But the court ruled against him on that. The young country girl from Rochester started with her husband, and after being in most of the large cities of the East and Middle West, landed in Los Angeles a year or two ago. A house was purchased on Thirty-ninth, and suddenly one day Mrs. Hind abandoned her home. The suit to quiet title to the home followed, and finally it was held by the court that the property be sold and that wife and husband divide the proceeds.

Yesterday the divorce suit was up for trial. Mrs. Hind was just as natty as ever in her black costume, and took her seat on the witness stand with all the self-possession of one experienced in court procedure. She told a very pitiful story of her married life. She said that her husband did nothing much, he was sporty, but used to get money from his family in the East. Ordinarily, however, she said that he made her work to support him. They had been in Denver only a few hours when he saw a sign in the window of a restaurant, "Waitress wanted," and told her to "cater on," that the place looked good and she could jump right into work without any waste of time.

In this city, too, Mrs. Hind said that she had to go to work as waitress at the Nadeau in order to pay the expenses of the household. But, the life was becoming a trifle too strenuous for the little wife. In September of last year "hubby" asked her for what money she had, and when she refused to make surrender because she wanted to pay some bills that were overdue, he took her by the throat and choked her so that his finger marks left their imprint on her neck for days. He got the purse all right, and Mrs. Hind walked toward the car to go to work downtown. Then "hubby" came rushing after her and was gracious enough to hand her 5 cents for her fare.

All of that was very bad, and Mrs. Hind told her story with due effectiveness and with not too much impressiveness. But she, in a metaphorical sense, raised the hair of the court when she told the next episode of her Los Angeles history.

She said that Mr. Hind told her that something must be done to make a strike, for money was pretty hard to get at. He said that he was going to open a house of ill-fame and that she was to run it. She told him that she would do nothing of the sort, and then he replied that if she wouldn't somebody else would, and that she might get up and clear out.

The wife cleared out all right, and said that for that one night she came downtown and took a room at No. 444 South Spring street. Very early next morning her husband appeared at the house and tried to climb into her room over the transom. He swore that she was not alone and that he would kill her. Finally, when Mrs. Hind arose, and rapidly dressing opened the door of her chamber, Mr. Hind entered with a revolver and threatened to kill her for her unfaithfulness.

After reeling this story off with the most benign look upon her face, Mrs. Hind stepped down from the witness stand, and gave her corroborating witness a chance. He testified to having seen the finger marks upon Mrs. Hind's neck two days after the time of the alleged choking incident. He told a few other things, too, but it was lost upon Mrs. Hind. She was eagerly perusing the pages of one of the magazines, and was too deeply interested in the joys and sorrows of the heroine of the continued story to take note of what was transpiring in court.

But she got her decree.

JOHNSON'S FEE.

SIXTH STREET FRANCHISE.

The jury in Judge Trask's court trying the case of J. Ross Clark against G. G. Johnson, went out to consider their verdict yesterday afternoon at 3:10 and returned into court at 3:45. They found for the defendant in the sum of $500. And that is what Johnson will get for bidding in the Sixth-street franchise, and then making his charge too high.

ASKS FOR A JURY.

CRAZY MAN'S DEMAND.

Dr. J. W. Heerdink has served for a short term in the State Hospital at Highland, and objects to being sent there again. But his wife, and his wife's mother say the doctor is as crazy as the vile little insect of unsavory memory, and they lined up before the insanity commissoin in Judge Wilbur's court yesterday to tell of the funny capers that he had been cutting up.

It was testified that the doctor had smashed the door of a room, where he had been sleeping, and roused the household with his storming. Then, at meal time the manner of the head of the household was not such as to promote digestion. On one occasion he served cuts from the joint tob bounteously, and when it came to his own turn there was nothing left but a hungry-looking bone. Dr. Heerdink blamed that on his mother-in-law and took the bone and hung it over her place at table by tying it to the chandelier. Then every day things would go wrong, according to his idea, and he would storm and rave at everybody but more particularly at his wife and mother-in-law.

After being released from Highland Dr. Heerdink tried to make a living on a ranch at Downey, but never got a cent out of it. Then he took up some land at Brawley, intending to raise chickens for market, but there he had a crazy streak and was examined for insanity at San Diego, but was discharged.

The commission found Dr. Heerdink to be insane, and Judge Wilbur signed the commitment. But the patient wouldn't be committed, and demanded a jury trial. Under the insane law this is one of the rights assured to a patient, and Dr. Heerdink will be tried by a jury.

AN ART CONNOISSEUR.

MRS. KAUFMAN GETS DECREE.

Mrs. Jeanne C. Kaufman nervously and tearfully told the story of her marital suffering to Judge Conrey yesterday, and stammered out the details in the French language. She is quite a young woman and belongs to one of the old French families of New Orleans, while her husband has posed as an art connoisseur—a connoisseur of fine paintings and of fine whisky.

George C. Kaufman, her husband, is president and manager of the Western Wine Association and receives a salary of $200 a month in that position; then, too, he represents here the whisky trust, and although his salary was not mentioned his wife did say that he had refused $6000 a year, asserting that he could make more than that amount selling on commission. But though doing very well in a financial way, it did not appear that Kaufman had much money, beyond a rather fine collection of paintings valued at $6000.

The plaintiff told how cruel her husband had been to her, how he had called her naughty names, and on more than one occasion had slapped her face and choked her. A year ago her husband had brought her with the two children from New York, where they had been living, and from the wife's statements during the year her lot has not been a happy one.

An interlocutory decree was granted by Judge Conrey, and by stipulation the Los Angeles Trust company is appointed trustee to dispose of the gallery of paintings and hold the money in trust for the children until they arrive at an age when the money and accumulated interest may be of use to them. The court made an order that Kaufman pay $150 a month to the wife for her support and the support of her children until further notice.

SOLD TO MINORS.

J. TAYLOR LOSES LICENSE.

The restaurant and retail liquor license held by J. Taylor at Los Nietos was taken up by the Board of Supervisors yesterday. For a considerable time complaints have been made regarding the hilarious goings-on at Taylor's place, and yesterday the matter came to a show-down.

The testimony was very clear that a sporty gang were in the habit of making the place their headquarters, and anyone could buy whisky without eating. Those who cared to make a pretense of observing the law were doled out a thin attenuated biscuit with a three-inch length of weinerwurst decorating its upper crust. Sunday, too, was always a gala day at Taylor's place, and then liquor flowed in a plentiful stream.

One of the chief matters of complaint was that Taylor's son, a boy of 14, should have been permitted by his father to tend bar. But a number of the customers were minors, so there did seem a certain consistency even in this. It was testified to that on one occasion three minors were found on the place, all in a state of glorious fuddle, one of the trio being so drunk that he could not stand up. Other statements regarding the selling of liquor to boys were equally as startling.

GUILLOT TRIAL.

DEFENDANT ON THE STAND.

Yesterday a number of witnesses were called in the trial of Rafael Guillot for the murder of Ramon Diaz to testify to the threats uttered by the deceased. At other towns in the state, on the train and here in the city, threats made by the deceased against Guillot were heard and spoken about by the several witnesses. Then the defendant went upon the witness stand in his own behalf, and told the story that has already been told in these columns, but more in detail.

Guillot confessed that Diaz had told him that he didn't want him to work any more for him, and then he told how Diaz met him on Alise street and demanded some of the company's papers. Seizing him by the coat he shoved his hand in the defendant's pocket and took out the papers referred to with others, and then said that he was going to kill him. Afraid that the repeated threats had reached a climax and that his life was in peril Guillot said that he then drew his gun and fired to defend himself.

Deputy District Attorney McComas put the defendant through a rigid cross-examination, but the defendant, speaking through an interpreter, had time to frame his replies, so he was not caught in a tangle of contradiction.

This morning argument will begin, and the case will be given to the jury today.

COURTHOUSE NOTES.

BREVITIES MISCELLANEOUS.

TO EXPLOIT OIL. The Los Angeles-Cherokee Oil Company has incorporated with a capital stock of $1,000,000, of which amount $1 has been subscribed. The directors are Dan Murphy, Jacob Baruch, C. Holterhoff, Jr., A. G. Wells, J. J. Byrne, all of Los Angeles; C. R. Holterhoff, Pasadena, and F. R. Sutton, Bartlesville, I. T.

HE OPENED THE BAR. Berniece Harrower was granted a decree by Judge Conrey yesterday, divorcing her from J. M. Harrower, on the ground of cruelty. The husband was in charge of the coursing park, but when the owner went away he left the key of the bar with Mrs. Harrower in preference to her husband, as he was afraid to trust him. Then Harrower got after his wife and demanded the key. She refused to yield it, and he thereupon used his fists so effectively and brutally that he got the key. Then he went to the bar and opened up for business. He was the sole patron of the bar, but he did justice to what he found there, and got so drunk that he carried the taste for about a month. The taste in his mouth, and the marks on his wife disappeared about the same time.

PIPE-LINE FRANCHISE. The Salt Lake Oil Company was granted permission yesterday by the Supervisors to lay a pipe line from the company's wells in the Western field to connect with the Southern Pacific Railroad. The line will be about five miles long.

VALUABLE PROPERTY. Charles Stern, the wealthy wine man who was killed in the collision at the end of the Macy-street bridge at the end of last year, left one piece of valuable real estate in this city. His will was probated by the widow in New York, and Alfred Stern, a son, has now offered the will for probate here, so that the property in this State may be administered upon. The only property mentioned is the eighteen acres on which stands the winery, and which is bounded by the river, Howard street, mission road and Macy street. It is valued at $15,500.

ON PLEASURE BENT. The Tivoli Amusement Company has incorporated with a capital stock of $200,000, of which amount $5000 has been subscribed. The directors are L. E. Behymer, J. T. Neff, Edmund Burke, Ernest Searelle, and H. C. Wyatt, all of this city.

A NEW HOTEL. The Hotel Auditorium has incorporated with a capital stock of $150,000, of which $500 has been subscribed. The directors are F. J. Nicholson, J. G. Mossin, L. W. Gray, C. E. Bireley, and A. L. Haley, all of Los Angeles.

BOOKS AND STATIONERY. Jones Book Store has incorporated with a capital stock of $50,000, of which $25 has been subscribed. The directors are F. D. Jones, M. H. Jones, Kate Hanby, Alhambra; W. H. Reider, Gertrude C. Tomlinson, Los Angeles.

THE INFERIOR COURTS.

INSPECTOR SEEKS HONEY.

FINDS MANY MIXTURES AND CONVICTS SALESMEN.

Employees of Transfer Company Steal Sugar and Land on the Chain Gang—Wielder of Shovel Wants to Settle With Injured Man—Colored Damsels Fight.

Thirty-five times Inspector Drummond of the city health department bought mixtures of glucose and sugar when he essayed to buy extracted honey. While honey is cheap in this most favored of all honey-producing sections of the country, the manufacturers of the adulterated mixture, in which a small quantity of honey was used, must have been able to put it on the market at a much lower price or it would not so commonly be found on the shelves of the retail grocers.

M. W. Worster, salesman for the Southern Syrup Company, was yesterday convicted before Justice Austin of having sold one of the samples taken by the inspector and was fined $25.

While Mr. Drummond has bought adulterated samples from other manufacturers, he says that most of the dealers are selling the article put on the market by the concern which Worster represents. It is the intention of the health department to keep after those who sell the sham article until it is driven out of the market. Other complaints are expected to follow.

SUGAR SWEET.

NONE OF IT ON CHAIN GANG.

W. H. Baird and Tom Scott have a strong liking for sugar, but they now find themselves where sugar is an unheard of luxury, for the chain gang takes its coffee straight.

The two young men have been employed by the Pioneer Truck Company as drivers, whose duty it was to haul goods between the railway stations and the wholesale houses of the city. Among other goods loaded on their truck a week ago were two sacks of sugar for Craig & Co., but Scott and Baird were so very busy that they did not have sufficient time to unload the sugar before quitting time came, and they drove into the barn with it on board the truck. That night the sugar disappeared and investigation by the detectives disclosed the fact that the two men had stolen it. They were tried yesterday and sentenced to forty days each on the chain gang.

This is the same old trick that has been done over and over again by employés of the truck companies. And both those who stole and those who bought the goods have been punished in some instances, and it is said there may be more of the latter to follow.

Want to Settle.

William Metz and F. W. Gregg, who are charged with battering James W. Lancaster, at the University Planing Mill, hope to effect a settlement with Lancaster, but it required considerable squirming on the part of their attorney to get Justice Austin to agree to a continuance. Lancaster may be willing to accept financial salve for the shovel wound on his head, but the court doesn't wish to make a record for dismissing criminal cases for such reasons. It was reset for trial tomorrow morning.

She is a Scrapper.

Susannah Alexander, a rather diminutive colored damsel, was charged before Justice Chambers with committing a battery upon the person of a mountainous amazon named Lizzie Hart.

"Are you guilty or not guilty?" asked the justice.

"I'se guilty, suah. I hit her, all right, yuh honnah."

The big amazon declared at the station: "I could lick her easy nuf, but I didn't want to."

The culprit paid a fine of $5 and appeared to enjoy the notoriety.

Blatz Beer

Watch for the triangular label on the bottle—it stands for purity, and all that's good and pure in beer

MILWAUKEE

Blatz method is generally commented on as most remarkable and unique for the reason that in most every particular their plan is original from a brewer's point of view. There is no guesswork. Self-registering thermometers and pressure gauges indicate the exact temperature and state of maturity of the beer in the stock-houses at all times. The cost of production has always been a secondary consideration. The very choicest of every component part of the Blatz brews is the invariable rule. Expert judges of barley and hops are engaged in contracting months in advance of the demands, and only the best of Mother Earth's crop is ever considered. The result is a beer of honest quality and a goodness all its own. It's full of character. Try it.

REGARDING YOUR CHILDREN

Give Them the Chance They Deserve.

Let Them Cultivate Their Talent.

But Don't Waste Money on a Piano When Prices Like the Following Prevail.

It is utter nonsense to pay $5 a month rent for a piano that will gradually goes back to the dealer—worse than throwing away money.

Why not put a less amount down on purchase of a second-hand piano of a reliable make—a Knabe, Chickering, Knabe, Weber, Fischer or Wheelock—from $35 to $50, a little down and $3 a month.

You'll never miss it; then when your own piano, and it will be years you want a more expensive instrument, the full purchase price of the first piano applies on the exchange.

A fair proposition like this ought to appeal to you.

Or suppose you prefer to buy a bargain—second-hand, it may be, but thoroughly overhauled and in perfect condition; you can purchase one of the following on easy terms.

One Marshall & Wendell, used only four months—cost $375—offered now for $235.

One genuine Bass piano, in mahogany case—used a year—originally priced at $375—now $235.

One Mason & Hamlin, in ebony case—beautiful rich tone to be told from new—original price $485—now only $265.

One Knabe upright, in dull finish—largest size made; price $475; can be had now for $190.

A splendid upright; used and in first-class repair; originally priced at $200; goes now at $85.

All of these pianos are in our warerooms. Look them over and you will not regret it.

VANCOUVER (B. C.) April 19.—The full court of British Columbia's Supreme bench today declared that an agreement to marriage is a legal consideration in the making of a contract. The decision carried with it the partition of an estate valued at $60,000.

In 1901, Louis Henry Rasor met a wealthy widow, who agreed in writing prior to the marriage, to will him all her property if she became his wife. Several months after the marriage Mrs. Rasor died, leaving the bulk of her property to the Roman Catholic Church and bequeathing only $5 to her husband. Rasor sold his claim to J. Pemberton of Victoria for $5,000. Suit was entered and decided against the Pemberton claim. The full court today reversed this decision, and Pemberton's claim is valued at $60,000. Rasor died over a year ago in Victoria.

TEN MILLIONS LOST.

Fire Sweeps Through Business Section of Toronto and Assistance from Every Surrounding City is Unable to Check the Flames.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

TORONTO, April 19.—Fire swept through a section of Toronto's wholesale business district tonight, causing a loss which will probably reach $10,000,000. The fire started in a factory in Wellington street about 9 o'clock. In less than an hour the flames had spread from building to building on both sides of the street until the whole block was a mass of flames and the fire was utterly beyond the control of the local department.

Appeals were sent to every surrounding city where fire apparatus could be obtained, asking for assistance. Montreal, London, Hamilton and Buffalo at once responded, but it will be hours before they can be of assistance.

It was believed at 11 o'clock that the fire was under control, but a sudden shift in the wind again fanned the flames into a roar and clouds of sparks and burning brands were carried down side streets until three entire blocks were doomed.

The firemen were making a gallant fight amid the falling buildings and a mass of tangled wires, but their efforts at midnight seemed to be fruitless.

Chief Thompson of the fire department and George Dowkes of Montreal were cut off by the flames while directing the work of firemen from a roof. Thompson jumped six stories to the ground and miraculously escaped with a broken leg. A mass of tangled wires broke his fall near the ground. Dowkes has not been seen since and it is believed he perished.

Up to midnight the following places had been destroyed: Gillespie, Angley & Co., hats and furs; Dignum & Moneypenny, importers; Comfort Soap Works; Davis & Henderson, wholesale stationers; Jessop Steel Company's building, occupied by R. B. Hutchinson & Co., wholesale woolens; Alcorn, Sergeant & Westwood, fishing tackle; Dodds Medicine Company; Western Steamship Company; Richard L. Baker Company, agents; E. T. Corset Company; C. H. Westwood & Co., fishing tackle; Garland Manufacturing Company, F. H. Cragg, agent; Rothschilds Bros. & Co., manufacturers; C. W. Bangard & Co., brokers; Richie & Ramsey Company, paper manufacturers; Thomas Hoskin, manufacturers' agent; Kinleith Paper Company, Andrew Muirhead, wholesale paints; E. W. Gilmore & Bro., silverware; W. H. Payne & Co., commission agents; R. M. Slater & Co., wholesale dry goods; International Brokers, Limited; Gale Manufacturing Company; Whitman & Brown Bros., wholesale stationers; Ralph Smith & Co., lithographers; George H. Hess, Son & Co., window shades; Menzies Manufacturing Company, window shades; H. F. Sharp & Co., photograph supplies; Crown Hotel; Office Specialty Company.

The Evening Telegram office and Brook & Co.'s warehouse were badly damaged.

UNDER CONTROL.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

TORONTO, April 20, 2:35 a. m.—The fire is still burning fiercely in the two blocks bounded by Wellington street North and the water front, bounded on the east by Yonge street and on the west by Bay street. The firemen have arrived from London, Hamilton and Buffalo. The acting fire chief said at this time that the fire was practically under control, but there is still danger of its spreading farther to the west.

From the Currie warehouse on Wellington street, where it originated, the fire spread with astounding rapidity to the west, destroying buildings occupied by the Eckhardt Casket Company and Warwick Brothers and Rutter and W. J. Gage and Company, and then made a clean sweep up Wellington street to the Queen's Hotel. The thick fire walls of the hotel and the concentrated efforts of the fire fighters stopped the flames there.

In the meantime, the fire had swept across the street and the block of buildings from Bay west to the National Club were wiped out. At that time, the firemen believed the fire was under control, when a shift in the wind sent the fire roaring down Bay street, destroying every building on both sides from the National Club to Front street. Among the buildings burned on Bay street were those of Wise & Darling, Westwood & Co. Galey & Co., Bond & Co., Ashborn and Sherwin, and Ainslee & Co.

The warehouses of W. H. Beck & Co., Gordon, Mackay & Co., Pugsley, King & Co., Cockshutte & Co., and Brown Bros., were destroyed. Nothing could resist the force of the flames as they swept down Bay street toward the lake and the firemen fought back the fire from side streets, confining the fire zone to the one thoroughfare wherever possible.

Several frame buildings which threatened to cause a spread of the fire were blown up with dynamite.

At 5 o'clock this (Wednesday morning) Bay street was on fire from Wellington street down to the lake front, but the firemen were meeting with success in their efforts to prevent a further spread, and it is believed the fire will burn itself out there.

EIGHT KILLED IN WRECK IN MEXICO.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

MEXICO CITY, April 19.—Northbound fast passenger train No. 1 on the Mexican Central, which left this city last night, about four kilometers north of Zacatecas today jumped the track, the wreck resulting in the death of eight persons and the injury of thirty-five or forty others.

The train was running at a high rate of speed when a defective rail precipitated the locomotive, the express and baggage cars, and the first, second and third-class coaches down an embankment, totally demolishing them. The two Pullmans were the only cars which did not leave the track, and those occupying them received no injury beyond a severe shaking up.

It is impossible to secure a list of the dead, but it is understood that among them are the Mexican fireman and the express messenger and engineer, Americans.

SHE WILL STICK TO FREE TRADE.

ENGLAND TOO CONSERVATIVE TO TRY PROTECTIVE POLICY.

Result of Elections Since Chamberlain Issued His Pronunciamento Point to Decided Aversion to Any Departure from Time-honored Tariff Arrangement.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

LONDON, April 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Among the questions that are being agitated upon this side of the water, there is none that can have more interest to commercial and trading circles than the tariff question as laid before the people by Joseph Chamberlain in May of last year. Especially must this interest business men in the United States, if it is possible to foreshadow the result of an appeal to the country. That is to say, whether at a general election, Chamberlain would receive a mandate to proceed with his scheme to meet foreign competition with protective duties, and to give the colonies preference in order to draw closer the lines of union with the mother country, or to cease his agitation.

It is quite possible to assure those interested in export business to this country that they need fear nothing from tariff legislation. That Great Britain will never change its fiscal policy, no one has the right to assume, but the results of elections which have taken place since Chamberlain issued his pronunciamento point to a decided aversion to any departure from the time-honored policy of free trade.

PROTECTION OR FREE TRADE.

The league of which the Duke of Northumberland is president, and Joseph Chamberlain vice-president, is not an advocate of tariff by negotiation or for retaliation, which are mere principles of the Balfour school of tariff reformers; but of protection at home and preferences to the colonies. Both organizations are very ably conducted by experienced parliamentarians, whose views are entitled to great confidence.

But while the free traders are confident of victory whenever the government will let them go to polls, the tariff reform leaguers as much as concede that the next election will return not free trade, but the Liberal party to power. This, they say, will be brought about by many grievances charged up to the present administration, and not at all by the opinion of the electorate on the fiscal question; could that be the only issue or could it be the subject of a referendum, they claim, they would be sure of winning.

Not only is this speculative, but—as tariff reform rises or falls with the result of whatever collateral agencies help to bring it about—for business purposes, nothing more will be needed than the decision of the electorate, because the government in the hands of a party opposed to tariff change, having a substantial majority back of it, can hold office for years. And all this time it would enjoy equal chances with the opposition for a renewal of power whenever its terms might be ended.

LESS PROSPEROUS CYCLE.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

LONDON, April 19.—The widespread interest in the presentation of the budget today was evidenced by the crowded state of the House of Commons. Long before the Chancellor of the Exchequer, Austen Chamberlain, rose to make his statement, every part of the House was filled. Joseph Chamberlain was present to hear his son, as was Mrs. Chamberlain. The former Colonial Secretary, whose first public appearance it was since his return from abroad, met with a great reception from the occupants of the Ministerial benches, while the Nationalists invited him to sing "Rule Britannia" and greeted him with shouts of "pigtail."

Austen Chamberlain opened his speech by commenting on the difficulties of his position, the great wave of prosperity which Great Britain had enjoyed so long having apparently spent its force and given place to a less prosperous cycle. The industries of Great Britain, especially the cotton industry, were depressed and foreign competition was keener than ever. The markets in which Great Britain had heretofore been supreme were increasingly threatened. The commercial depression in the United Kingdom was aggravated by the conditions in South Africa.

The revenue for 1903-4 was $13,620,000 below the estimate, while the expenditures exceeded the estimate by $15,035,000. The repeal of the duty on wheat had been more costly than anticipated, without affording the consumer the relief expected. The net total deficit for the fiscal year was $27,075,000.

Mr. Chamberlain estimated the expenditure of 1904-05 at $714,400,000 and the revenue, on the basis of the existing taxation, at $695,300,000, leaving a deficit of $19,100,000 to be made up. He proposed, therefore, to increase the income tax by two cents. He also proposed an additional tax of 4 cents per pound on tea.

The Chancellor further proposed a re adjustment of the tobacco tax, imposing a duty of $1 cents on tobacco stripped before imported; also, an additional duty of 12 cents on cigars and an additional 75 cents on foreign cigarettes. Mr. Chamberlain proposed also to raise the moisture limit to 32 per cent, and introduce three or four different rates in drawbacks, which he hoped would increase Great Britain's tobacco export trade, especially to the colonies. The net gain by these tobacco changes was estimated at $2,750,000.

LOUISIANA ELECTION.

NEW ORLEANS, April 19.—In an uninteresting general election the Democrats today swept the State, electing their ticket headed by former Justice N. C. Blanchard for Governor and practically a solid representation in both houses of the Legislature. Former Mayor, W. J. Behan, a prominent sugar planter headed the opposition ticket of "Lily White" Republicans. The regular Republicans put no ticket in the field and practically no negro votes were cast. The Lily Whites control the Federal offices here and their contest today was simply to maintain their organization. Indications point to a total vote of approximately 50,000, with Blanchard's majority estimated at 30,000.

The Legislature elected today will choose a United States Senator, Senator M. J. Foster, having been nominated in the primaries, will receive practically the solid vote of both houses.

New York Lithographers Give In.

NEW YORK, April 19.—Returns from various cities indicate that although the vote of the New York unions of lithographers was against the arbitration agreement recently submitted by the employers, the total will be in favor of the proposition. The local unions, will, it is understood, abide by the decision of the majority.

Strike at Sacramento.

SACRAMENTO, April 19.—The leather workers employed by A. A. Van Voorhis & Co. are out on strike, owing to the refusal of the company to sign the wage scale, which has obtained for the past year. About thirty-five men are affected.

STATEHOOD BILL PASSED BY HOUSE.

Only Two Republicans Went on Record Against it—Imperial Resolution Adopted by Both Houses. Shaw or Low Coming.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, April 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The House of Representatives, by a practically strict party vote, today passed a bill to admit two new States into the American Union. The bill unites Arizona and New Mexico and makes them one State and does the same with Oklahoma and Indian Territory. On the final vote only two Republicans voted against the passage of the bill. They were Representative Needham of California and Representative Cushman of Washington. Both of these gentlemen had previously voted against the rule under which the Statehood Bill was considered. Only one Republican in the House spoke against the bill. Representative Needham made a speech in which he objected to uniting Arizona and New Mexico into one State.

In his speech Mr. Needham said that he regretted very much that, after long and conscientious consideration, he found that he could not support the bill in the form in which it was presented to the House. In the case of the union of Oklahoma and Indian Territory, Mr. Needham said he could offer no objection, as, in his opinion, those two Territories would make a State compact in form and of medium size. His objections to the bill were confined chiefly to his objection to the union of Arizona and New Mexico into one State. Mr. Needham suggested that if two amendments could be made to the bill objections which many had to it would be removed.

The first amendment that he suggested was that before Arizona and New Mexico were made into one State there should be an election to decide by popular vote whether the voters in both Territories favored such a union. The other was that, supposing the people of both Territories voted for union now they would reserve to themselves the right to withdraw from the union when the population of either Territory reached 300,000 or 500,000, and constitute itself into a separate State with its original Territorial boundaries.

The average size of States west of the Mississippi River, said Mr. Needham, is three times as large as the average size of States east of the Mississippi. Arizona and New Mexico combined would, he said, be larger by ten thousand square miles, than all of the New England States, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Delaware, Maryland, the District of Columbia and Virginia, and, he added, if this bill becomes a law, that vast State must be forever content with two Senators, no matter what its wealth and population may be, as compared with twenty-two Senators from the Eastern States that he had enumerated as equaling it in territory. Under this bill, Mr. Needham added, the West will have only four additional Senators in the United States Senate, no matter how much it may gain in population and wealth. He declared he strongly favored some amendment that would make it possible to have some new Senators at some future time, in order that the governing power might be more evenly distributed.

IMPERIAL RESOLUTION.
PASSES BOTH HOUSES.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, April 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Senate and House today adopted a joint resolution directing the Secretary of the Interior to make an investigation into the subject of irrigation and water rights of the Colorado River, with a view to determining what use the government can make of the water of that stream for government irrigation projects, and more particularly to ascertain and fix the rights of individual users of water there. This means that the rights now enjoyed by the California Development Company at Imperial are to be measured and established. President Heber of the California Development Company, who has been here for some time, left Washington tonight after saying that he was satisfied with the resolution as adopted today. President Heber believes that the action taken by Congress will result in the establishment of his company's rights in the fullest degree and prevent any interference with the work that his company undertook several years ago in the Imperial Valley and that it has since carried on with success.

LOS ANGELES BUILDING.
SHAW OR LOW COMING.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, April 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] It will be settled tomorrow probably, who will go to Los Angeles for the Treasury Department to examine the free site offered by citizens of that city for the new Federal building. Word came to Washington today that all hands desire an early adjustment of the matter so that wherever the new building will be located work upon it may be commenced as soon as possible, and in that request the Treasury Department is apt to concur with great earnestness. Secretary Shaw still believes he will be in Los Angeles about May 5, but owing to the peculiarities of the case, it may be that Col. Low, who has picked out more building sites for Federal buildings than any other man in the United States, and whose advice is received with the greatest confidence at the Treasury Department, may be sent to Los Angeles. John C. Mott of Los Angeles has already urged the department to make an early decision and Senator Bard will go to the Treasury Department tomorrow to have a talk with the officials there and see what can be done about starting the ball rolling right away.

WIRELESS TELEGRAPHY.
DISCUSSED BY CABINET.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

WASHINGTON, April 19.—The most important matter considered at the Cabinet meeting today was that looking to the control by the government of wireless telegraphy. The subject was broached by Secretary Hay in connection with the communication received recently by this government from Russia. The discussion finally drifted to the expression of the opinion that it would be desirable, if not absolutely necessary for this government to control, at least in a supervisory way, the operation of wireless telegraphy, particularly along the coast stations. It was pointed out that, in the event of a war with a foreign nation, it might be necessary, in defense of the nation, for officers of the United States to have charge of these stations, as a means of assurance to the government that no communication was established with vassels of an enemy's fleet, and that the system was not employed to the detriment of United States' interests. The discussion today was tentative in a measure and no definite decision was reached.

THE CONGRESS.

REGULAR SESSION.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

WASHINGTON, April 19.—SENATE.—The question of additional accommodation in the way of office and committee rooms occupied the attention of the Senate the greater part of the day. The subject arose in connection with two provisions in the Sundry Civil Appropriation Bill, one for an extension of the east front of the Capitol building in accordance with sketches left by Architect Walters, and the other for an outside Senate office and committee building. Much variety of opinion was expressed and the question was still under consideration when the Senate adjourned.

Several minor bills were passed during the day.

Mr. Morgan presented a memorial from missionaries located in the Congo Free State, praying for an investigation into the unsatisfactory condition of the natives and of the American citizens in that country, and in connection with it, a resolution referring the question to the Committee on Foreign Relations, with instructions to investigate and report to the Senate. The resolution was agreed to.

The conference report on the Army Appropriation Bill was agreed to, which passes the bill.

The following bill was passed: Extending to Oregon, Washington and California the privilege of felling and removing timber on the public domain for domestic and mining purposes.

Several minor amendments to the Sundry Civil Bill, suggested by the Committee on Appropriations, were adopted, among them the following: Appropriating $25,000 to enable the United States to participate in the Liege, Belgium, Exposition of 1905; appropriating $20,000 for a railroad map of the United States to be made by the Geological Survey; authorizing the issuance of medals for exhibitors at the St. Louis Exposition, without cost to the United States.

MORE ROOM FOR SENATORS.

The amendment providing for the erection of an office and committee room building for the use of Senators was opposed by Mr. Berry, who said that before it could be completed the building would cost not less than $65,000 or $50,000 for each member of the Senate. This he pronounced "a piece of extravagance which surpassed anything he had ever seen offered in the Senate."

Mr. Bailey supported the amendment. He did not want oriental magnificence, but he did want splendid buildings. Senators in Washington should not live in huts nor stop at wagon yards; nor should they have their offices in inaccessible portions of the Capitol.

Mr. Teller opposed the east-front extension, but advocated the new building, saying that as the country grows, demands on the Capitol will grow. He expressed the opinion that the time would come when it will be necessary to provide accommodations for Senators for Alaska and Porto Rico, and gave voice to the hope that it might be necessary to make room for Senators from what is now the Dominion of Canada.

The Senate went into executive session, and at 5:30 p.m. adjourned.

STATEHOOD BILL PASSED.

HOUSE—After a debate extending through the entire session, the House today passed the bill providing for the joint Statehood of Oklahoma and Indian Territory, under the name of Oklahoma, and of Arizona and New Mexico, under the name of Arizona. In discussing the rule which had been reported by the Committee on Rules providing for immediate consideration of the bill, Mr. Williams, the minority leader, declared that no Republican had any idea that the bill would become a law at this session. Delegate Wilson of Arizona opposed the bill. It was favored by Delegates Rodey of New Mexico and McGuire of Oklahoma.

Mr. Powers of Maine defended the bill which, he said, furnished the only solution of the Statehood question that had any prospect of passing the present Congress.

After the previous question had been ordered, 137 to 123—a party vote—the yeas and nays were ordered on the adoption of the rule. The rule was adopted, 150 to 111—a strict party vote.

The bill was then taken up, the rule requiring the vote to be taken at 4:30 o'clock today, with no opportunity for amendment.

In opposing the union of Arizona and New Mexico, Mr. Wilson of Arizona declared that such union, against the will of the people, was ultra radical in policy and was a political revolution in both legislation and policy.

In a brief speech in support of the bill, Mr. Curtis of Kansas insisted that the Indians of the five civilized tribes and the whites of Indian Territory were ready for Statehood and that 90 per cent of the Indians were in favor of joint Statehood with Oklahoma.

While stating that the bill did not exactly conform to his idea of what was wanted by the people of Oklahoma, Mr. McGuire of Oklahoma declared that should it pass there would not be a vote against it either in Oklahoma or Indian Territory.

Mr. Grosvenor of Ohio was open in his expressions of disapproval of the bill, but said that as the United States was a country of parties and as parties spoke through the caucuses, he would vote for the bill.

The debate was closed by Mr. Rodey of New Mexico, who said that while the bill did not suit the people of his Territory, they nevertheless acquiesced in it. He explained in great detail the resources of both Arizona and his own Territory and inquired if agriculture alone were necessary to support a population. He obtained applause when he cited New York City with its great population which, he said, did not produce a potato.

Delegate Wilson of Arizona asked whether New Mexico with all her resources would not prefer individual Statehood, to which Mr. Rodey replied that his views were well known and that if the people did not like the measure they had the privilege of voting it down, "as the election expenses were to be paid by the government."

He predicted that in 1910, New Mexico would have a population of 1,000,000 and closed with an earnest plea for the passage of the bill.

The third reading of the bill had been directed by the Speaker, whereupon Mr. Moon inquired if the third reading was to be by title only. In the midst of an elaborate discussion the Speaker turned to the parliamentarian, Mr. Hinds, for further advice, and then announced that he would resolve the whole question in favor of the individual privilege of each member, any one of whom could demand the reading of the bill.

Mr. Williams, the minority leader, jocularly inquired if the Speaker's decision has been arrived at "after consultation."

The Speaker promptly replied that it had been, and set the House in an uproar when he added:

"The skilled parliamentarian, who has been at this desk for many years can give the chair," and after a pause, "and the gentleman from Mississippi cards and spades, and then have a fountain of parliamentary knowledge left."

It was some moments before the applause which greeted this sally subsided. Mr. Maddox of Georgia demanded the reading of the bill, which was begun, but later he withdrew his request.

Speaker Cannon further convulsed the House when he asked: "Is there any other gentleman who desires the bill read?"

No one responding, the bill was passed, 147 to 104, a strict party vote.

The conference report on the Agricultural bill was presented by Mr. Wadsworth of New York. A Senate concurrent resolution was agreed to, accepting the invitation of the officers of the St. Louis World's Fair to attend the opening of the fair.

At 5:40 o'clock p.m., the House adjourned.

THE VICE-PRESIDENCY.
SHAW NOT A CANDIDATE.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

WASHINGTON, April 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Secretary of the Treasury Leslie M. Shaw consigned to rest today, for the present, the report that he is a candidate for the Republican nomination for Vice-President of the United States. To his mind it would be a high honor to be the running mate of Roosevelt, and according to his reading of the political weather map, the nomination would be equivalent to an election, but he said today that he would not accept the nomination under any circumstances.

The Secretary is recognized as the spell-binder of the Cabinet, and he will take the stump next summer as soon as the campaign is fairly opened. This by wish of the President, for Roosevelt likes Shaw's method of campaigning.

Shaw found it necessary about two years ago to make a public statement that he was not a candidate for the Presidential nomination in 1904, and that his most ardent wish was that Roosevelt might be nominated and elected. After he had made this declaration of loyalty he was asked if he would make a statement about his own candidacy in 1908. The Secretary closed one eye and looked wise.

COAST MAY GET IT.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, April 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Senator Hopkins of Illinois, after having a political chat with the President today, said that there is no use in anybody's worrying about the choice of a Vice-Presidential candidate on the Republican ticket, as there are plenty of men to draw from. He then suggested that maybe the Republican party will think it wise to go to the Pacific Coast for a candidate, and added that plenty of good, strong men could be found there for the place. But he would name no man from the Coast whom he considered available. Considering that Mr. Hopkins comes from the Middle West and that the talk all along has been that the candidate would come from Illinois, his own State, or Indiana, his remarks may have something more than usual significance.

CROP CONDITIONS.
WEEKLY COAST SUMMARY.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

WASHINGTON, April 19.—The Weather Bureau's weekly summary of crop conditions follows:

The Pacific Coast States reported a week of highly favorable conditions, but severe drought continues from Central and Western Texas to the South Pacific Coast. Winter wheat has made splendid growth on the Pacific Coast, especially in Washington and Oregon. Spring wheat seeding has been in active progress on the North Pacific Coast, about one-half the area in Washington having been sown.

BETRAYED BY HEARST.

Statehood Rooter Dodged the Issue When Vote Was Taken.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, April 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Maybe if the people of Arizona and New Mexico will tax their memories just a little bit they will recall that William Randolph Hearst took a special train of statesmen through the Territories some months ago to root for Statehood. Today, in the House of Representatives, that peerless statesman did not vote at all when the Statehood Bill was placed upon its passage.

NO KNOWLEDGE OF JAP FLEET.

RUSSIANS ALL AT SEA AS TO THE PROPOSED LANDING.

Think Japs Will Not Risk Disembarking on Chinese Territory—Japanese Troops Expected Daily North of the Yalu—Heavy Land Fighting Not Yet Anticipated.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

ST. PETERSBURG, April 19, 4:30 p.m.—No confirmation has been received here up to this hour of the reported arrival of a big fleet of Japanese transports in the Gulf of Chi-Li. Reports differ widely as to the destination of the fleet, Kin Chou, situated on the narrowest part of the Liao Tung peninsula, above Port Arthur; Kai Chou, south of Newchwang, and Newchwang itself being mentioned by the various reports. An attempted landing at the head of the Liao Tung Gulf has been anticipated for some time, but latterly the Russians have been inclined to believe that they have so strengthened their position there that the Japanese have abandoned the idea of landing more than a raiding party to cut the railroad to Port Arthur. It is considered possible that the Japanese may have decided that the time is opportune to land at Kin Chou, with the object of cutting off and investing the port.

TOO BIG A RISK.

The chances of effecting a landing on neutral territory, on the coast of Liao Tung peninsula, are now regarded as remote, as the Russians don't believe the Japanese would risk arousing the Chinese and thus bringing down upon them the condemnation of the powers, whose good opinion they are striving to obtain. The fact is that the Russians seem greatly at sea as to the Japanese plans.

In the best-informed military quarters the correspondent of the Associated Press finds considerable skepticism in regard to the reported Japanese landing in Liao Tung Gulf, and inclination to think it has been too widely advertised to prove more than a ruse. If a heavy landing occurs now, except in Korea, the Russian authorities are more disposed to believe that it would be near Taku Shan. Japanese troops are expected daily at the mouth of the Yalu River.

The reports that there are five thousand Cossacks in the neighborhood of Gensan are denied. The Russian cavalry is scouting along the east coast of Korea, but not so far down as Gensan.

NO LAND FIGHTING YET.

While there is almost constant skirmishing along the Yalu, the Russians do not anticipate land fighting for some time, not believing that the Japanese will seriously attempt crossing the river until their advance can be supported by two corps, which, their advices indicate, about represents the strength of the Mikado's soldiers in Korea. The General Staff is of the opinion that the Japanese rear must be protected, and that a third corps must be landed and intrenched in a line across the peninsula before the real forward movement can begin.

Lack of transportation facilities, according to the Russian advices, are delaying the Japanese. Both in Japan and Korea the roads are in a dreadful state. The Japs' horses are dying by the hundreds. It will be impossible to bring up regular field artillery, and they will have to rely upon mounted guns.

KOUROPATKIN'S LINES.

Gen. Kouropatkin's dispositions, the General Staff says, are progressing rapidly and satisfactorily. The troops concentrating below Mukden are being sent to their allotted positions. About thirty thousand are employed in guarding the railroad. They are mainly on duty about the massive bridges, heavy cuts, etc., where serious damage could be done by explosions. There is no necessity for a heavy guard along the ordinary roadbed, where damage could be repaired in a few hours. The Russians know the Japanese are making desperate efforts to cripple the road by blowing up bridges. A number of Japanese officers have already been caught red-handed, but the Russians believe that the measures taken will prevent the possibility of such a catastrophe.

RUSSIA'S MIGHTY HOST.

It was claimed by the General Staff today that Gen. Kouropatkin has now 300,000 men at the theater of war, sufficient for present requirements. A prominent officer of the staff informed the correspondent of the Associated Press that the dispatch of troops to the Far East has been suspended for the present. Gen. Baron Stackelberg has been given command of the East Siberian troops which belong to the advance forces, Gen. Kashtalinsky being in command of the Third Division, at the Yalu River.

It is positively asserted that the Circum-Baikal Railroad was completed a few days ago. Construction trains can now pass around the lake, but the line will not be open to troop trains or passenger traffic for two months.

VICEROY ALEXIEFF WIRES RESIGNATION.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

ST. PETERSBURG, April 19.—Viceroy Alexieff has applied by telegraph to the Emperor to be relieved of his position of Viceroy of the Far East. It is expected that the request will be immediately granted. While no official announcement has yet been made, there is reason to believe that the above statement is correct.

The immediate cause of the Viceroy's application is reported to be the appointment of Vice-Admiral Skrydloff, one of Admiral Alexieff's strongest enemies and sharpest critics, as successor to the late Vice-Admiral Makaroff in command of the Russian navy in the Far East.

Vice-Admiral Skrydloff had an interview with the Emperor today and discussed with His Majesty the question of his (Skrydloff's) relations with Alexieff. The relieving from command of Viceroy Alexieff would not surprise intelligent observers of the Far Eastern situation who are familiar with the gradual change in the Emperor's attitude towards the Viceroy and M. Bezebrasoff, who represented the militant or advanced element, which was anxious that Russia should remain in Manchuria. It was to these two men that the Anglo-Japanese entente first lost its friends. They believed that Great Britain would not go to war and that Japan could not do so. To the indignation of Japan they succeeded in turning the policy of the Empire from carrying out the treaty for the entire evacuation of Manchuria, pending further demands on China.

GAVE BAD ADVICE.

On August 12, last, after Japan had submitted an inquiry as to whether or not Russia was disposed to reopen the negotiations respecting Manchuria and Korea, a viceroyalty in the Far East, a special Secretary of State and an advisory committee were created, Alexieff being appointed Viceroy and Bezebrasoff Secretary of State.

Seventeen days after these appointments were made M. Witte, who had been opposed to the policy of Alexieff and Bezebrasoff, was relieved of his portfolio as Minister of Finance.

It was through his new official advisers that the Emperor conducted negotiations with Japan, and it is claimed that they misjudged the temper and purpose of the Japanese and left the Emperor in ignorance of the preparations for war which Japan was making and the rising war spirit of that empire.

The enemies of Alexieff have persistently asserted that as the man on the spot, he should have kept the Emperor informed concerning these vital points.

On the eve of the war Alexieff apparently still had the confidence of the Czar, but the lack of preparedness of the Port Arthur fleet, as shown in the cases of the battleships Retvizan and Czarevitch, called the attention of the Emperor to the slackness of the naval administration in the Far East.

The anti-Alexieff party in St. Petersburg held that Vice-Admiral Stark who was the Viceroy's representative was responsible under him for the first reverse at Port Arthur.

SHORN OF HIS HONORS.

Viceroy Alexieff recommended the appointment of either Vice-Admiral Doubasoff or Vice-Admiral Makaroff to comand the fleet in succession to Vice-Admiral Stark. The Emperor selected Makaroff and at the same time issued a special ukase making him absolutely independent. This was the first blow publicly given Alexieff. The second was the appointment of Gen. Kouropatkin as commander-in-chief of the army in Manchuria. Kouropatkin sided with Count Lamsdorff, the Foreign Minister, and M. Witte against the policy of Manchurian annexation, and stated to the Chinese Minister to Russia, Mr. Hoo Wei Teh, that the whole trouble originated with Alexieff. That there might be no doubt of Kouropatkin's exact jurisdiction, the Emperor issued another ukase defining it, and gave the former Minister of War complete control of military operations in the Far East.

Officials in St. Petersburg say it must then have been evident to Alexieff that his star had waned. He had neither the army nor the navy under his control, being charged merely with the civil administration, but in time of war there is no civil administration or very little. At first the Viceroy received the official dispatches from Makaroff and Kouropatkin, but even this last shred of his dignity was removed when the commanders communicated directly with the Emperor.

THE FINAL BLOW.

When the Petropaviovsk was sunk, Alexieff started from Mukden for Port Arthur, telegraphing to the Emperor on his arrival there that he had hoisted his flag on the battleship Sevastopol and would direct the operations of the fleet until a new commander was sent out. It is said that no answer to this was sent by the Emperor. Without consulting Alexieff's wishes and without considering Admiral Doubasoff, whom he had originally recommended, the Emperor telegraphed Vice-Admiral Skyrdloff to proceed to Port Arthur via St. Petersburg and assume command of the fleet. It is said that not even this fact was communicated to Alexieff, and he was allowed to learn of it through the press dispatches. Alexieff considered the matter for days, at the end of which he is said to have reached a decision to apply for leave.

SKRYDLOFF'S CRITICISM.

The cause of the enmity between Alexieff and Skrydloff it is impossible to learn tonight. It is said to be deeper than a mere difference of opinion as to the policy to be pursued in the Far East. Skrydloff has not hesitated in talking to his friends of charging Alexieff with responsibility for the disasters to the Pacific squadron by his division of the fleet, which segregated four armored cruisers at Vladivostok and stationed the Varlag and Korietz at Chemulpo.

It is said that Vice-Admiral Skyrdloff, in his interview today, let His Majesty understand that he did not care to assume command of the fleet until Alexieff shall have withdrawn. Therefore the two men will not meet at Port Arthur.

Viceroy Alexieff is expected to come directly to St. Petersburg, and his friends hope that he will be elevated to the Council of the Empire. By his withdrawal from the Far East he will not only lose the dignified position of direct representative of the Emperor, but the salary of $50,000 and an allowance of $25,000 per annum.

When Alexieff severs his connection with the Far Eastern question none of the men responsible for the policy pursued before the war will be in power, M. Bezebrasoff having already lost the confidence of His Majesty and the advisory committee's duties at present being merely perfunctory.

It is not expected that a successor to Alexieff will be appointed, as the importance of the post of Viceroy has disappeared owing to the result of the war.

RUSSIA'S VICTORIES.

MUST BE WON ON LAND.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, April 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] American army officers generally have reached the conclusion that Russia in this war must find her salvation in engagements on land. They believe, of course, that the Japanese have now gained a material advantage by their victories on water, and that possibly the situation for them will be made easier on land by their naval success. The problem is not by any means settled, say army officers, by Japanese control of the sea. The removal of the Russian ships of the Port Arthur fleet from the scene of activity would enable the Japanese to land an army unimpeded by the transportation of troops by water, but military experts look with some confidence for a great setback for the Japanese as soon as land fighting begins. It is regarded as admirable and sagacious strategy on the part of the Japanese to retain their positions in Korea, but it is considered a hazardous undertaking to penetrate into Manchuria, of which the single element of weakness would be the lengthening of the line of travel of their supply trains. The Russians are practically on their own territory, where they have prepared for a siege.

It has been suggested by some officers that it may be the Russian game to retreat before the Japanese advance and entice the enemy well into Manchuria and then accomplish their defeat by a movement by cavalry on the rear of the Japanese. The scheme must have also appeared to the Japanese as the most likely Russian maneuver, and it may be that this anticipation of the Russian plan will lead the Japanese to remain in the security of the Korean mountains, where they are probably by this time strongly placed and invulnerable against Russian attack.

The prompt retreat of the Russians from the Korean bank of the Yalu River appears to the officers here to confirm the opinion that Russia is anxious to get the Japanese troops across the boundary and far enough from the river to permit of a flank movement.

RAILROAD RECORD.

HARRIMAN REFUSED FOR FOUR REASONS.

Leave to Intervene in Case of United States vs. Northern Securities Company Denied—A Hard Blow for the Merger.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, April 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] While further action by the Harriman interests is expected and while a stiff legal fight for control of the Northern Pacific seems assured, Wall street took the view today that the decision of the United States Circuit Court was a severe blow to the Harriman people, following, as it does, the refusal yesterday of Vice-Chancellor Bergen of New Jersey of the application of the Continental Securities Company stockholders from voting at the meeting called for Thursday at Hoboken.

Further action by the Harriman interests directed against carrying through the Hill plan for distributing the assets of the Northern Securities Company is expected, but it did not develop today exactly what steps the Harriman interests will take. The general Wall-street expectation is that a new suit will be begun in the New Jersey courts.

REASONS FOR REFUSAL.

FORMAL ENTRY OF THE COURT.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

ST. PAUL, April 19.—In the United States Circuit Court today Judges Sanborn, Thayer, Vandeventer and Hook unanimously denied the application of E. H. Harriman and Winslow Pierce and the Oregon Short Line Railroad Company for leave to intervene in the case of the United States against the Northern Securities Company, on the following grounds:

First—The plan of the directors of the Northern Securities Company for the distribution of the stock of the Great Northern and Northern Pacific Railway companies is not violative of the decree in the Northern Securities case.

Second—No one but the United States can successfully appeal to the court to enjoin the execution of that decree on the ground that it is in violation of the Sherman Anti-Trust Act, as the United States expresses satisfaction with the present decree.

Third—The stock of the two railway companies is not in the custody of the court.

Fourth—An intervention is not necessary to enable the petitioners to protect any pecuniary interest or liability they have."

Judge Thayer delivered the opinion of the court.

The formal entry of the court is as follows:

"The application of Edward H. Harriman, Winslow S. Pierce and the Oregon Short Line Railroad Company for leave to intervene in this case was heard before this court on April 11 and 12, 1904, and, after due consideration, it is hereby ordered that the said application be and the same is hereby denied.

[signed]

"WALTER H. SANBORN.
"AMOS THAYER.
"WILLIS VANDEVENTER.
"WILLIAM C. HOOK."

The court, in discussing the reasons for the decree, after reciting the grounds brought forth by Harriman and Pierce for leave to intervene, says:

"Applications for leave to intervene after the entry of a final decree are very unusual. They are never granted as a matter of course, and, owing to the tendency of such applications to occasion delays and prolong the existing litigation, they ought not to be granted unless it is necessary or fit so to preserve some right which would otherwise be protected or to prevent some complication that is likely to arise.

"The principal ground, as it seems, upon which the petitioners, Harriman and Pierce, base their application to intervene, is that it is necessary to the enforcement of the decree that they should be admitted into the case as parties and be allowed to raise new issues and obtain further orders. It is undoubtedly true that a supplemental bill may be fitted in a case after a final decree for the purpose of fully executing it, when, after the decree is entered, some action has been taken or unforeseen events have occurred which will prevent its enforcement, unless some further orders or directions are given. But we fail to see that further orders are necessary in the case in hand to insure the due execution of the decree according to its terms. The decree was entirely prohibitory. It enjoined the doing of certain threatened acts, and, so long as these acts are not done, it executes itself, and no further action looking to its enforcement is deemed necessary.

"It was said, in argument, that one purpose of the intervention is to have the terms of the decree which is now entirely prohibitive made mandatory. It would be to modify the provisions of a decree which has not been appealed by affirmance and make an order which we expressly, and, on full consideration, declined to make when the decree was entered. This we must decline to do."

Speaking of the contentions of Harriman and Pierce that the proposed disposition of the stock of the Northern Pacific and Great Northern railway companies would result in the control of the two railroads in the hands of persons who constituted a majority in forming the securities company, the court said:

"DISPUTED AND DEBATABLE.

"The issues suggested are disputed and debatable questions of fact which petitioners would be entitled to litigate by the testimony of witnesses and evidence after their petition to intervene had been granted. We decline to consider therefore the affidavits or excerpts which present them upon this motion.

"According to well established rules the petitioners cannot intrude into this legislation merely to protect the public interests, as long as the government is present by its Attorney-General, and expresses its disapproval of such intrusion. The petitioners can intervene only for their protection for their own individual interests, and for that purpose only, in the event that they can obtain adequate protection in no other way.

"The United States stands on the decree as affirmed, and submits that the court is only concerned to see that it is faithfully observed as by the defendants, according to its terms."

The court, in referring to the statement of the attorneys for Harriman that the stock of the securities company was in the custody of the court, says:

"It may be conceded that so long as property remains actually in judicial custody any one asserting a right thereto or interest therein may intervene, although the case in virtue of which judicial custody was acquired has passed to a final decree.

"This court, however, has never assumed the custody of the stock of the Northern Pacific and Great Northern Railway companies, but has studiously refrained from doing so. It did not assume to direct what should be done with the stock in question when it enjoined the securities company from voting it and the railway companies from paying dividends thereon to the securities company. Nor was the bill which was filed by the government one that placed the stock in judicial custody when it was filed. The intervention cannot be allowed on the ground last stated.

"Our conclusion is that the petitioners should not intervene and import into the case new issues to be tried. The due enforcement of the decree does not necessitate such action and if it so happens that the decree of this court in favor of the government creates a situation which shall give rise to controversies between stockholders of the securities company as to how the holdings of that company in the two railway companies ought to be distributed or what should be done with such holdings, these are questions which can be settled among the stockholders themselves, who are more immediately concerned in these questions, and according to those principles of law and equity which any court having general common law and equity powers is competent to enforce.

"Leave to intervene is denied."

JUST WHAT THEY EXPECTED.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

NEW YORK, April 19.—One of the counsel for the Northern Securities Company said the decision at St. Paul will merely throw the application for an injunction out of court and any appeal would not carry with it a stay of the proceedings, because if it did so, such a stay would practically grant the injunction. The same is true, he declared, in the decision against the Continental Securities Company, rendered at Jersey City yesterday; and if either case is appealed, the appeal will not prevent the holding of the meeting of the Northern Securities Company on Thursday, April 21.

A representative of the Harriman interests says that the decision is just what they expected it would be. The suit was brought in the Circuit Court merely as a matter of form, so as to give Minnesota an opportunity to exercise jurisdiction in the case if it so desired.

It is not probable any new action will be brought in the courts of New Jersey, in which State the Northern Securities Company secured its charter.

Northern Securities stock advanced a point and a half on the curb on the news that the petition had been denied. Some 3500 shares changed hands in the first hour. In the general market Union Pacific declined to a fraction under last night's closing, but recovered and then again declined.

BURNHAM AND BLICK.

African Explorers on Way to Their Old Home at Pasadena.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, April 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] On the steamship Minneapolis, which arrived today, was F. R. Burnham, the American scout. Burnham was with Lord Roberts in India, and when that general went to South Africa during the Boer war, he sent for Burnham, who resides in Pasadena, Cal. He served throughout the Boer war and is now returning to his home. With Burnham comes A. R. Brown and J. C. Blick, Burnham's brother-in-law, who some months ago led an exploring party into Central Africa. Burnham, who was also with the party, said that the explorers had gone into the Uganda country.

"The party was sent out by an English syndicate," he said, "for scientific purposes. It was reported some time before our return that the entire party had been massacred by Turkana natives, but there was no foundation for the story."

Burnham admitted that the exploration had been made near the route of the proposed Cape to Cairo Railroad, but said it had nothing to do with the railroad.

Unwritten Adventures Of HURLOCK SHLOMES

The great detective paced the room.

In all the annals of crime in London there was nothing to compare with the mysterious murder of the young man in Westminster Abbey.

"Watson," said he, "that man is an American from Los Angeles, that wonderful city in Southern California. He was a man of good judgment and good taste."

Well acquainted as I was with the strange deductive power of Shlomes I marveled at this information which he had apparently extracted from the dead.

"How do you know that?" I asked.

"Easy, Watson, easy enough," said he. "I have made a special study of tailoring because of its great importance in establishing identity, and there is only one tailor I know of who produces a fit and style like that. It's Silverwood in Los Angeles. I know the man had good judgment and good taste from the very fact that he let Silverwood make the suit."

TO MEET IN LOS ANGELES.

HARRIMAN AND STUBBS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

PORTLAND, April 19.—Traffic Manager Stubbs of the Harriman system and E. O. McCormick, assistant traffic director of the Harriman lines, left this city today for Los Angeles in response to a telegram from Harriman, who is making a tour of the Southern Pacific, proceeding westward from New Orleans, accompanied by Julius Kruttschnitt, transportation director. They will make a brief stop in San Francisco and expect to reach Los Angeles Thursday night.

Messrs. Stubbs and McCormick have been in Portland for several days conferring with the officials of the Harriman lines. It is reported that several changes in the operating departments of the roads are in contemplation.

INTO PITTSBURGH AT LAST.

WABASH ENTERS IN JUNE.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

NEW YORK, April 19.—Trains of the Wabash Railroad Company will begin running into Pittsburgh regularly June 19, unless some unforeseen delay occurs, according to President Joseph Ramsay, Jr., who has just returned from an inspection of the work. Time cards, he said, are now being prepared. With the exception of the finishing touches to the bridge across the Monongahela River at Mingo Junction, the Pittsburgh extension is now complete. About the middle of May, it is expected, the framework of the bridge will be complete and a month later will bear regular traffic.

TO CAPTURE ALASKA'S TRADE.

PROPOSED VANCOUVER ROAD.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

VICTORIA (B. C.) April 19.—John Cain of Port Angels, Wash., addressed a crowded meeting here last night on the proposed scheme to build a railroad from the south to the north end of Vancouver Island, connecting with the Port Angels line by ferry across the Straits of Fuca, and with Alaska at the north end by swift ferry steamers. He guaranteed to start building within sixty days after the subsidy is settled and complete it within two years. The projected line would cost $5,000,000. The subsidy asked for is 5000 acres per mile and $16,000 per mile, 3 per cent. inscribed stock of the province, redeemable in forty years.

To Move Auditing System.

SALT LAKE, April 19.—According to the Deseret News, the auditing system of the Harriman lines will shortly be moved to Chicago from Omaha and a chief engineer is to be appointed who will pass upon all improvements under way and yet to come on the Union Pacific, the Oregon Short Line, the Oregon Railroad and Navigation Company and the Southern Pacific Railways. The man slated for this important position, says the News, is J. B. Berry, of Omaha, now chief engineer for the Union Pacific and consulting engineer for the Oregon Short Line.

MANUFACTURER'S SURPLUS STOCK OF

Muslin Underwear

Extraordinary Values—Read Carefully—Act Immediately

Every one familiar with the trend of current events is conversant with the fact that recent developments in the commercial world have raised the price of cotton to the highest point in years, and that at this date no break in the price can reduce the cost of manufactured stock. Muslin underwear is the first commodity to be affected by a rise in the price of raw cotton. The natural, logical conclusion, therefore, would be that muslin underwear offered at this time would be high priced unless some unusual circumstances attended its purchase. Such was the case in securing goods for this offering. The Standard Manufacturing Company of Jackson, Michigan, had in stock over 1200 dozen of their best selling numbers, just about 900 dozen too many. They were forced to unload. We bought the 900 dozen made-up garments at about one-third less than the regular price and the special muslin underwear offerings for this sale are made up from this purchase. Every garment in the lot is absolutely perfect, made in the best equipped factory in the country, from the finest materials, the daintiest laces and embroideries; best class of workmanship and every garment made on lock-stitch machines. Every piece of this underwear bears the stamp of the "Consumer's League," and no better goods can be produced. You'll find the same goods in other shops about town at much higher figures.

KEEP THE BOWELS REGULAR

The cause of two-thirds of the serious ills of life and one-half of all who die prematurely can be traced to persistent constipation. The bowels are one of the great outlets of the body and should perform their functions with the utmost regularity—not by physic, requiring large and frequent doses to whip them into action and eventually depriving them of natural strength—but by

CITY ADVERTISING—THE ONLY ISSUE.

The annual award of the city advertising is now under consideration by the City Council. This is purely a matter of business, to be considered by the members of the council as business men, as agents of a corporation whose business is at stake. It is not a political question; there is no moral, theological or social issue involved. The only thing for the City Fathers to think of is, how shall the city get the best service on the best terms? There is no reason on earth why the Councilmen should not dispose of the matter strictly on its business merits, without paying the least heed to lobbyists, political heelers, labor-union yawpers, or begging personal organs.

Four bids have been submitted for the advertising, as follows: By the Times-Mirror Company, the rate of 67 2-10 cents per inch per insertion, based on a guaranteed daily circulation of not less than 35,000 copies, or 2 cents per inch per thousand circulation (as a matter of fact the present average daily circulation exceeds 38,000 copies); by the Herald, the rate of 40 cents per inch for each insertion; by the Evening Express, the rate of 40 cents per inch per insertion; by the Journal, the rate of 30 cents per inch per insertion.

It will be seen that the lowest bid per inch, without regard to circulation, is made by the Journal—30 cents; while the lowest rate per inch, circulation considered, is bid by The Times—67 2-10 cents. The rate proposed by The Times is a little over double that proposed by the Journal; but The Times guarantees seven times as much circulation as the Journal. Any advertiser will quickly note that a rate of 67 2-10 cents for 35,000 circulation is really much cheaper than a rate of 30 cents for 5000 circulation. Suppose a man were buying oranges, he would jump at an offer of thirty-five for 67 cents much more quickly than at an offer of five for 20 cents. This is a parallel case, and brings the comparative merits of the two bids within the comprehension of everybody.

Taken another way, the bid of The Times is at the rate of 2 cents per inch per thousand circulation, while the bid of the Journal is at the rate of 6 cents per inch per thousand circulation. The bid of the Herald and that of the Express come in between those of The Times and the Journal. While the Journal makes the lowest flat rate, The Times makes the lowest actual rate, circulation and service considered. The Herald and Express are neither here nor there. Their bids do not strike bottom.

Now it is plain to any business mind that the City Council must award the contract on one of two bases, viz., either give it to the lowest bidder without regard to circulation, that is, to the newspaper making the lowest rate in cents, with no consideration as to the service to be rendered, or place the contract on the basis of circulation and give it to the newspaper offering to perform the most service for the least money. On the latter basis the award must go to The Times. The Journal certainly makes the lowest cash rate, but on the basis of circulation and service the bid of The Times is three times as cheap.

There are no complexities in this problem, and the Council should be able to figure it out without any difficulty and without any assistance. They cannot go astray if they should do as any other advertiser would do—get the most for their money by reaching the most people. Certainly the Councilmen cannot afford to award the contract on the ground of personal or political favor, of prejudice, of trying to please everybody, or of trying to silence loud twilight noises. There is no middle ground. There is no dilemma to be dodged. The contract should go to the bottom figures. It would be no less than lunacy to give the advertising to some newspaper like the Herald or the Express, which is not in the competition when it comes to figures.

There is no occasion for any excitement, any explosions of childish anger, any bumptious displays of Lilliputian spleen, or any butting-in of labor-union jawsmiths, in considering this affair. Again and again would The Times repeat: It is strictly a business proposition, to be disposed of on its business merits as any business man on Broadway or Spring street would handle it. The Council is composed of business men, and will take this view of it, we are sure, awarding the contract to The Times if they want the most circulation at the most favorable rate, or giving it to the Journal if they want to get the least service for the least money.

In connection with this contract there have arisen charges that the Evening Express, which has done the city advertising during the past year, has failed in fifty or more instances to insert the advertisements according to the terms of its contract and the provisions of the ordinances in the case. The Express has made false oath to the performance of service which it has not performed, according to these charges, which will be brought before the City Council in due time and due form. They have already been called to the attention of the City Attorney's office and will be promptly investigated. The alleged failures of the Express to fulfill its contract are given item for item on another page. When the charges (which did not originate with The Times,) come before the Council, the Express managers will have to do something besides squealing, blustering and making themselves purple in the face, if they would extricate themselves from the ugly hole into which they have recklessly put themselves. Indeed they will!

SOME WARM FIGURES.

On Sunday, April 10, The Times printed 291 columns of paid advertising and for the six week days that followed, 428 columns, the total for the week being 719 columns, or an average of more than 101 columns per day for the week. No paper in Los Angeles, morning or evening, has business enough of either circulation or advertising to make any kind of an even comparison with The Times.

A small evening sheet, in its endeavors to fool somebody, has seen fit to boast of its large advertising patronage, including the official city advertising, for which it accepts the taxpayers' money, but only prints in a portion of its edition.

When it comes to comparisons, The Times printed more paid matter in its Sunday edition than both its morning contemporaries by ten pages, and more than three times as much as the Evening Express, not including the official city advertising, which is printed in but a portion of its edition. The aggregate advertising for the entire week for the two morning papers, including either evening paper exceeds The Times aggregate by only a few columns.

The howls of the evening sheet which has been making so much noise along this line are highly amusing and decidedly ineffective in the light of the "odious" comparisons above.

A RAY OF HOPE.

Although the labor plank in the New York State Democratic platform is unsatisfactory to men of all parties, in that it takes no decided stand on the subject, and fails to come out clear and strong against unionism's attempted abridgment of individual liberty and industrial freedom, it nevertheless warrants the hope that Democracy sees and has small sympathy with the trend of unionism today.

The labor plan declares for "the impartial maintenance of the rights of labor and of capital; no unequal discrimination; no abuse of the powers of law for favoritism or oppression." This language covers only "glittering generalities;" but the significant feature of it is the fact that it fails to declare for unionism. A few years ago the adoption of such a plank would have been impossible. Democracy, fearful of losing the so-called "labor vote" by a refusal to come out strongly and definitely for unionism, would not have dared to neglect that issue as the New York Democrats have done. The labor plank must therefore be interpreted as indicating a deep-seated realization of the fallacies of unionism and its methods, and as further showing a new courage in declining to stand for those wrong sentiments and usages.

In the deduction we might warrantably go even farther, and, invoking the principle that "he who is not for me is against me," conclude that in declaring for "the impartial maintenance of the rights of labor and capital," the New York Democracy is virtually aligned with the law-and-order element and emphatically against unionism as now constituted, so far as the labor question is concerned. While the New York platform is distinctly "on the fence," the law-abiding, sound-sense, loyal people of the United States will hail that position as a step in the right direction, as a reason to hope that sober-minded Democrats have done with unionism's unreasonableness, violence and despotism; but it will at the same time turn away from the Democratic ticket, no matter who heads it, large numbers of the extreme and anarchistic members of the party who have heretofore swelled its ranks in the deluded belief that it is the party of the laboring man.

It's a cold day when Uncle Joe Cannon's friends cannot scare up some kind of a boom for their favorite.

THE RIGHT OF MIGHT.

An Associated Press dispatch from Santo Domingo states that United States Minister Powell has given notice to the Dominican government to the effect that in case any foreign power should attempt to force a settlement of the claims of its citizens against that government, to the exclusion of the claims of other nationalities, he (Powell) will, in the name of his government, "take immediate charge of all the customhouses of the government, place in each a military guard, and protect the same in the interest of the United States creditors, basing his action upon the recent decision of The Hague tribunal."

The decision here referred to is that rendered by The Hague court in the matter of the claims of different nations against Venezuela. It will be remembered that Germany, in order to enforce payment of certain claims against Venezuela, took the initiative in blockading the Venezuelan ports and seizing the customs. Other nations joined in supporting the blockade, until at length the question, through the influence of United States Minister Bowen, was referred to The Hague tribunal of international arbitration. It was Minister Bowen's contention before that tribunal that the claims of all the nations should be placed upon an equal footing, no preference being given to the creditors of one nation over those of another. The blockading nations, on the other hand, contended that the claims represented by them should take precedence over the others. In other words, that the claims to collect which force had been invoked should be paid first, although there was no denial that the other claims were equally valid.

To the surprise of the whole civilized world, The Hague court upheld the contention of the blockading powers, awarding their claims preferential treatment. This decision was, of course, a great disappointment to Minister Bowen and to our government. It was a distinct set-back for the cause of arbitration as a medium for the adjustment of international differences, and in a way it was an affirmation of the repugnant doctrine that might can make right. The dictum of this decision appears to be that a creditor nation can establish priority for its claims by blockading the harbors of the debtor nation. The friends of universal peace were forced to feel that the cause so dear to them had been dealt a severe blow, in a quarter from which it was least expected, when this decision was announced from The Hague tribunal.

It is not believed that the dictum of this decision will be permitted to stand as a finality of international practice. Mr. Bowen has declared in substance that its effect will be to check progress, not to stop it. But, in the meantime, it will operate with the binding force of international law. For this reason Minister Powell has taken an advanced position at Santo Domingo, and for this reason his energetic attitude is approved in Washington. No other attitude on our part would seem to be tenable under the circumstances. If a nation must needs enter upon a grab-game for the protection of its creditors, those who make the first grab are likely to fare best.

There has been no practical test, as yet, of the principle which is supported by The Hague decision in the Venezuela case—the principle that preferential claims may be established or maintained by force. The first serious attempt to bring the plan into practical realization will be likely to reveal its weakness, its impracticability, and its injustice. The attempt might, indeed, lead to such a clash between great nations as would compel a resubmission of the whole question to The Hague, with a probability that the former decision would be reversed or greatly modified.

There is no strong likelihood of a clash in the adjustment of claims against Santo Domingo, as the principal European powers have already intimated, through diplomatic channels, that they "will welcome any steps the United States may take in the direction of restoring order in Santo Domingo and maintaining it." The test will be likely to come when two or more great nations make a simultaneous attempt to establish preferential claims against some nation of doubtful credit, in which the United States is not so directly interested as it is in Santo Domingo. Then there will be trouble, whichever nation gets its hand first into the grab-bag.

Eighteen George W. Millers turned up in Chicago to claim $100,000 that had been willed to a man by that name, which shows that the Miller men are quite as active as the Hill widows, with whom Los Angeles has had experience when there is anything in sight.

Democratic harmony is stronger in some spots than in others. For instance in New York they merely scratched faces and tore one another's clothes, while in Mississippi, the feeling of concord was so earnest that they shot one another fatally.

Although Russia claims that there is absolutely no danger of the Japanese capturing Port Arthur, they make no attempt at disguising the fact that there has been quite a slump in real estate prices there since the war began.

But if a new Muir will should turn up, cutting the widow out of the estate, would it, by any chance, have the effect of removing the necessity for that "manly protection" assigned as the reason for the recent hasty marriage?

After sizing up Skrydloff's assignment, a good, peaceful job of remaining at home does not look so disgusting.

About the only objection to leaving Bryan off the Nebraska delegation to the St. Louis convention is that he would doubtless reconsider his determination not to express himself outside the columns of his own paper.

HIS OWN PEOPLE REPUDIATE HIM.

Far East war correspondents are stalled and cannot reach the firing line; but while this deprives us of much red hot war news, perhaps, the correspondents may not regard it as an unmitigated hardship.

Illinois Socialists nominated "John Collins of Chicago" for Governor, and although the city directory shows nearly a hundred such names, not one of them has been induced to admit that he is the gubernatorial candidate.

Mississippi went Democratic at yesterday's election, but the result is not surprising. It has been feared by the Republicans for some time that the party's wayward course would eventually lose them the State.

As Togo is reported to be at Port Arthur and simultaneously at two other places about 400 miles apart, it will be seen at a glance that the Japanese admiral is a fairly busy man.

The Russian populace is said to be thirsting for revenge. The Japanese will consider it their duty to supply them with a continuous thirst of this sort.

After what Tacoma did to us, San Francisco seems like a long-lost friend.

And doubtless Mr. Hearst is asking: "Who threw that brick?"

THE PLAYHOUSES.

GRAND OPERAHOUSE. In the depiction of a complex, unfathomable character like that of Hedda Gabler, it must be admitted that Ibsen's pen was wielded by a master hand. It is extremely doubtful if the author himself understood his creation. Certainly Mrs. Fiske, although she gives an admirable portrayal of it, does not interpret it so that it becomes in any measure real.

Perhaps such interpretation is impossible—the idea is by no means unwarranted. And this arouses the thought: If this be true, why stage the play? One looks in vain for its moral—nor is it sufficiently suggestive of anything more than the most commonplace intrigues revived after many years without any denouement that points a lesson or sounds a warning. History has furnished such warning-filled intrigues, unfortunately, and dramatists have made the most of them, giving us something which in the hands of artists has been purposeful, something that has "carried."

But "Hedda Gabler" gives us nothing of all this. It abounds in impossible situations, which, although they are of a different order from the wild West achievements of the melodrama, are none the less quite as inconceivable.

One cannot depart from life so flagrantly and produce anything really great. The demonstrations of the magician are entertaining, as are experiments with the occult—but there is nothing of greatness in them. Mani has a task fully commensurate with his powers in the depiction of what life holds, of what he sees and feels and knows. When he essays to plunge into the unknown and unknowable—the impossible so far as human mind is concerned—he fails, fails miserably.

And in just this respect the character of Hedda fails. It is not understandable; it is an attempt to picture a creature which has not existed, which cannot exist. Hedda, reduced ad absurdum, is a cross between a she devil and a ward politician. She falls short of accomplishment in either role. She is not enough of the former to make one shudder, and her efforts in the latter role accomplish nothing either for herself or the man with whom she had or is supposed to have had an "affair" at one time. She doesn't even break simple little Mrs. Elvsted's heart, doesn't give her husband any new thrills worth mentioning, for these two at the end are poring over musty papers in the most delightful tete-a-tete manner, with several corpses of supposed loved ones scattered over the city. True, she wrecked Lovberg's life, and drove him to a suicide's grave in a disreputable house—but the secret of her success in this is carefully hidden from the audience. Hedda's destruction of his manuscript had nothing to do with it, for he did not know of her act. His loss of the papers is too palpably insufficient as an excuse for his going to the dogs; and any man who deliberately goes to the eternal bowwows because a woman dares him to tempt fate, has very little sympathy either in real life or on the stage. Nor is the depiction of such a man a triumph of genius.

The play lacks strength, lacks purpose. Hedda marries a nonentity, and the only reason given is that she wanted to live in a certain house! This is utter nonsense. An old-time lover appears soon after the wedding, the intrigue is revived at long range; several persons contribute to the complications, but no one, so far as known, suffers very intensely. If there was any such suffering, if the depths of misery into which the human heart can be plunged were sounded in the life tragedy depicted by Ibsen, the author, failed to make them clear, and Mrs. Fiske and her company were unable to adequately supplement the author's work. After breaking up an impending love affair and sending the man to ruin and death for the most trivial of reasons, and after dropping into a trap which one of her admirers laid for her with no special cleverness of his own, but effectively, Hedda Gabler goes to the piano, drifts from waltzes to a suggestion of Chopin's funeral march, and then shoots herself in the temple. There appears to be no motive for it all—certainly there is no love, no chivalry, no deep political significance to anything that transpires. The play is not even naughty.

And because of all this, the character of "Hedda" lacks interest. She doesn't even glory to any extent in the ruin she brings—it doesn't bring her any happiness, and she certainly get very little satisfaction out of it. Why she was what she was is the query to which there is no answer (at least none is given in the play, and that is what we are asked to consider,) and because that query is so obviously pertinent, we are warranted in disputing even Ibsen's understanding of that which he attempted to create. He gives us nothing to excuse, to explain or to justify his "Hedda." What satisfaction is there, then, in trying to invade the unknown and unknowable when there is so much in life itself to test the power and capacity of human thought?

Interest in the stage folk centers in Mrs. Fiske. She is at times, particularly in the third and fourth acts, adequate to the demands made upon her. At other times, notably in the destruction of the manuscript, and in her revived relation to Lovberg, she is weak. At no time is she great. Her strongest bit of work, the silent reviewing of what has happened and from it the coming of her determination to blow out her brains, is entitled to high praise, but it could be made even stronger and far more intense if less prolonged. There is not only a surfeit of intensity, but an excess. Her work with Assessor Brack is by far the best offering in the play, and for Mr. Figman it must be said that he, with Mrs. Fiske, redeems the evening. He does exceedingly well in a familiar but difficult role.

Of the others little need be said. The support on the whole is unsatisfactory. The Lovberg of Mr. Bosworth falls short of "reaching," although the author, as before stated, does not give him any too elaborate an opportunity. "Tesman" is a weakling, to be sure—but he need not be repulsive in it. The "Mrs. Elvsted" of Miss Bohn is on a par with the "Tesman" of Mr. Mack, and when they are seated at the table together in the last act, their simple hearts apparently uniting at a rapid rate, the eternal fitness of things appears to be in a splendid state of preservation.

MY ARIZONA BEDROOM.

O my Arizona bedroom
Is beneath the Milky Way,
And the moon is in its ceiling,
And the star that tells of day,
And the mountains lift the corners,
And the desert lays the floor
Of my Arizona bedroom,
Which is large as all outdoor.

O my Arizona bedroom
Is ventilated right,
Every wind that under heaven
Comes to me with blithe good-night;
Comes to me with touch of blessing
And of ozone one drink more,
In my Arizona bedroom,
Which is large as all outdoor.

O my Arizona bedroom
Has the lightning in its wall,
And the thunders rap the panels
And their heavy voices call;
And the night birds wing above me,
And the owl hoots galore
Through my Arizona bedroom,
Which is large as all outdoor.

O my Arizona bedroom
It sometimes seems to be
Is afloat in middle heaven
With each star an argosy;
And the tide that turns at midnight
Drifts us down to morning's shore,
Floats us, stars and bed and bedstead,
On the ocean of outdoor.

O my Arizona bedroom
Is beneath the splendid stars,
And the clouds roll up the curtains,
And the windows have no bars,
And I see my God in heaven
As the ancients did of yore,
In my Arizona bedroom,
Which is large as all outdoor.

The Mayor said: "Ladies and Shentlemens: I asked haf been to introdoose you to the Honorable Senator Spooner, who to you will make a speech; yes, I have now done so, und he vill now do so."

The nomination of Joseph W. Folk of St. Louis, the famous Missouri boodler prosecutor, for the office of Governor of his State on the Democratic ticket, seems now assured. He has waged a fierce fight for the nomination against nearly every officeholder and politician of his party in the State, but the results of the primaries in the various counties so far held indicate that he will win in the State convention by a handsome majority.

When the late A. H. Ward consulted with the Attorney-General about [illegible] disturbed at so late an hour by such an inquiry, and sent this reply: "Not that I know of."

"Give the Boys a Chance."

A prominent financial company in this city recently advertised for a boy 16 years old, good at figures, $5 a week salary to commence." Nearly four boys presented themselves, each had been graduated from New York grammar schools and many of them had spent a year or two in High School.

Nineteen were at once rejected because they could neither write nor spell well. The remaining were asked to find the interest on $136.99 for 2 months and fifteen days at 5 per cent. Two were equal to the task. The correct answer is $1.27. Thirteen of the answers ranged from that to $1,000.

Commenting upon this fact, a pamphlet issued by the company remarks that the "curriculum of our schools, common and academic, is not at all adapted to the needs of the average boy, who, if he succeeds at all, must do so along practical lines."

This is not an exaggerated, unusual or an unfairly stated case. The trouble exists. What is the remedy? [New York World.

REBUILDING OF FORT WHIPPLE.

LARGE SUM BEING EXPENDED BY THE GOVERNMENT.

Construction Work on Prescott School Held up by Plumbers' Trust. Engineers Find Error in Boundary Line Between New Mexico and Arizona.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

PRESCOTT (Ariz.) April 18.—According to the figures of the Postoffice Department, Prescott showed a greater percentage of gain during the past year than any other town in the Southwest. The same degree of development is continuing, most of it due to the activity in mining districts near by. Work is progressing steadily on the rebuilding of Fort Whipple, where contracts already awarded call for the expenditure of more than $200,000. The buildings are being constructed of white sand brick, from works lately started in Prescott, and present a notably handsome appearance. At present the post has a garrison of one troop of the Fifth Cavalry, commanded by Capt. W. A. Holbrook, but it is understood that at least a battalion will be ordered to Whipple when the improvements now under way are completed.

The ceremony of laying the cornerstone of the new Elks' Hall, last Sunday, was made the occasion for much ceremony. There was a parade and Gov. Brodie was present as a guest of honor. The brick and stone work for the structure will cost about $12,000. Much of the stock of the building association has been taken by citizens of Prescott outside the order, that the plans might be extended to embrace an operahouse. At present Prescott has no theater.

HELD UP BY PLUMBERS' TRUST.

How closely the Master Plumbers' Association holds the trade of the United States has been well shown in Prescott, where a local plumber, whose bid was refused, held up for four months the supply of plumbing equipment for the new district schoolhouse. The jobbers refused to supply the Board of School Trustees in any way other than through a member of the Master Plumbers' Association, and listened to the most trivial objections on the part of the disappointed bidder. The whole matter was well shown up in the late school election, which resulted in the reelection of H. T. Andrews, the Trustee who had finally won out in the fight against the plumbing trust.

Engineers in charge of a Santa Fé survey declare that the accepted boundary line between Arizona and New Mexico lies one and one-half miles farther west than it should be and that the village of Lanas is really in Arizona.

Fire protection has been given Jerome Junction by the digging of wells and the erection of an elevated 60,000-gallon water tank. Just now, Senator Clark has about 400 carloads of coke at the junction, awaiting transshipment on the narrow-gauge line to Jerome.

Herbert Allaire, the forger, who committed suicide lately in Golden Gate Park, San Francisco, was well known in this vicinity. For several years he was secretary to H. J. Allen, Senator Clark's financial agent at Jerome, who, incidentally, took his life a few weeks ago. Allaire had journalistic leanings and for a couple of years was Associated Press agent at Jerome, turning out stories of the most lurid variety. It was he who furnished J. D. Wheipley with material for a number of articles that held up Clark in the worst of lights and pictured Jerome as something little better than the deepest pit of hades.

An Easily Made Fortune.

To come into a fortune by chance is not as satisfactory as feeling that you are able to make it yourself. When you do not feel that way it is because you are physically and nervously weak. Cupidene, the great nerve restorer and cleanser, is worth a fortune when you need its assistance. The Davol Medicine Co., of San Francisco, when they obtained the secret of making this great remedy—twenty-odd years ago, little dreamed of the great blessing it was to be to manhood. Its success since that time has been a grand march of progress. Sold at $1 a box, 6 boxes for $5, at Off & Vaughn Drug Co., 302 South Spring street.

[NEWS REPORTS FROM TIMES CORRESPONDENTS.]

NEW THEATER FOR PASADENA.

GEN. GREEN WILL BUILD AFTER NEXT SEASON.

Orange Growers Say the Situation Was Greatly Improved and the Late Fruit Is Bringing Better Prices. Over Eleven Miles of Streets to be Oiled.

PASADENA, Office of The Times, 36 South Raymond Avenue, April 19. Rumors vague and rumors veritable as to projected theaters have been rife in Pasadena during the past few days, and the latest one has it that Gen. G. Green will do the biggest thing of them all when it comes to erecting a playhouse. Col. Green, who will be left for his eastern home, early in May, will utilize the space just north of the new western annex, on Fair Oaks avenue, between Green and Colorado streets, for a handsome theater instead of carrying out his original plan of placing there more bedrooms to the already large hostelry. The new theater will not be begun this year, but in all probability ground will be broken for its foundation immediately after the close of the season here.

The intention of Col. Green is to make the new annex of a height with the building just completed, in which is located on the ground floor the elegant new café. The ground floor of the Fair Oaks annex will be devoted to parlors, storerooms. The handsome theater will be on the second floor, and the remaining three stories will be devoted to tourists' apartments. It is to whom Col. Green mentioned his intentions are confident the theater as stated will be carried out and there is no doubt the new enterprise will be of a most elaborate character, with the most expensive finish and appointments. When Green first began to build the latest addition to his hotel property he went about it in a way that will be remembered, and he followed that same sly policy in all his improvements. What he says, sooner or later, as Pasadenans have noticed in the past.

ORANGE GROWERS MEET.

A meeting of the directors of the Pasadena Orange Growers' Association was held this evening for the purpose of discussing the advisability of calling a general meeting of the members of the organization for the purpose of taking some action in regard to the present market situation. After a general exchange of views and opinions on the subject the directors decided that there was no necessity for such a meeting, as it was the opinion of those present that there has been a decident improvement in the situation to make the outlook for the future much brighter than it was a month ago. There was also a suggestion for the formation of a second exchange for the purpose of steadying prices but no action was taken.

At the meeting one of the directors read to the Times' correspondent a letter that is moving very nicely and that will sustain some loss from the start, in fact, there will be considerable loss on that account—but we will come out all right in the end as we are receiving better prices for our late oranges than we had called for upon. The increase in the prices will bring the general average up nicely, so that we will get out at the end of the season in good shape. We will get about twenty-five carloads this week.

TO OIL STREETS.

The Council yesterday heard very favorably the recommendations of Superintendent of Streets Brown and City Engineer Allin that certain streets in the north and east of the city be oiled instead of watered, as water is scarce in that section, and oil is as good or better and cheaper. The recommendations were referred to the Committee on Streets and Alleys with power to act, which practically settles the matter, and the streets that will get oiled are North Orange Grove, Grove avenue, Cypress avenue, Meredith, Peoria, Mentor street, Fair Oaks avenue north, Los Robles avenue, Colorado to California, Lake avenue south of Colorado, California, North Los Robles, Bellevue from Green to California, and Adella. As a few sections oiled will be where dust is particularly unruly, over 11 miles in all.

The matter against widening of Palmetto street was referred to the Street Committee.

The street, east of Los Robles avenue, will be paved soon. The resolution was yesterday adopted.

Trustee J. W. Wood was appointed to succeed himself.

SOCIETY DOINGS.

Richard J. Dobbins and Mrs. F. Banks have issued invitations for a reception Wednesday, April 27, from 6 to 6 o'clock at the home of the Garfield avenue, South Pasadena.

Adelbert Fenyes will entertain on Saturday afternoon, April 23, from 4 to 6 in honor of her daughter, Miss Thomas Curtin, who is visiting Mrs. Curtin was formerly Miss Muse and now lives in Boston.

A meeting of the Pasadena Children's Training Society will give a reception at the Children's Home Thursday afternoon from 3 to 5, to which a cordial invitation is extended to all. The institution costing $1300, including the necessary accommodations, baths, etc., room has recently been completed and this reception will give an opportunity for inspection of the improvements. The little children at the home have been coached in the serving of refreshments and dainties, and will do the honors to their great delight. The Reception committee will include Mrs. F. Rowland, Mrs. Sumner Hervey, Mrs. Richard J. Dobbins, Mrs. Frank Walkley, Mrs. Emily Macey and Miss Helen Elliott Bandini.

The only society functions which have occurred yesterday were two for different reasons. The dance which was to have been given this evening by the Pasadena Country Club was given up because of the spirit of gaiety later in the week which was set for having it. The dance was to have been complimentary to those visitors here this week who have enjoyed the hospitality and privileges of the club and will not be held later.

Another function was a luncheon which was to have been given by Mrs. Ellis Reed and Mrs. G. D. Rahn at the Mid-day Club at the Maryland in honor of the members of which live in Pasadena. Owing to the rain this was put up until next week. The following membership:

Mrs. J. W. Trueworthy, W. W. Peter James, E. C. Haskell, A. Wood, Valentine Peyton, Phillip L. Hibbard, J. H. Davidson, Mrs. J. C. Hutchinson, Herbert Newby and C. E. Payne. The luncheon, when it does come off the club will adjourn from the Maryland to the home of Mrs. Hines in Ford Place and spend the afternoon at cards.

NEWS PICKUPS.

The engagement is announced of Miss Jessie Tuttle of Marengo Place to George Doty, formerly of this city but now cashier of the Merchants' National Bank of Santa Monica, the wedding to take place in June.

Altadena people are awaiting anxiously the report of the County Supervisors upon their recent visit to Mountain View Cemetery. It is said that the Supers have advised Giddings, owner of the cemetery, to give up the idea of extending eastward, toward Altadena's handsome homes, and to expand westward instead.

Henry Fischer, a junk dealer, will be tried on Thursday, charged with stealing hose and other junk from A. E. Vesper.

Thomas J. McHarg, retired, died yesterday at No. 790 North Orange Grove avenue, aged 78 years. He was a native of Pennsylvania and had lived here four years. He leaves a widow and sister. The funeral will be held at the home Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Nearly an inch of rain has fallen during the past twenty-four hours in Pasadena and a trifle more in parts of the valley, whereat there is great rejoicing among those who till the soil.

The Democrats are talking of nominating Charley Grimes, the well-known restaurant man, as a candidate for the Assembly against Assemblyman Goodrich, who is a candidate for renomination. Grimes is about the most popular Democrat in this neck of the woods.

COVINA.

BANKS CHANGE HANDS.

COVINA, April 19.—A surprise was sprung in financial circles today, when it became known that H. W. Hellman and Dr. W. L. Graves of the Merchants' National Bank of Los Angeles, and Dr. Dickinson, had secured a controlling interest in the First National Bank of Covina, and the Covina Valley Savings Bank; purchasing the interests of F. M. Douglass and C. H. Ruddock for $70,000. C. H. Ruddock was president of both institutions, and F. M. Douglass cashier. Under the new organization, H. W. Hellman becomes president of the National, and A. P. Kerchkoff is advanced to the presidency of the savings bank. F. M. Douglass has consented to remain in his present capacity as cashier for three months, or until such time as the services of a suitable man can be secured. Words of genuine regret are to be heard in all commercial circles here, at the probable loss of Mr. Douglass, who, during his years of residence has identified himself with many interests in the town.

BOARD OF TRUSTEES.

The newly elected City Trustees, E. H. Lahee, C. E. Bemis and A. R. Evans, took the oath of office last evening. Mr. Lahee was elected chairman.

Austin Warner submitted his bond as City Clerk, and upon its approval he was sworn in by the retiring City Clerk, J. R. Hodges. City Marshal Fairly succeeded himself.

POMONA.

NOTES AND PERSONALS.

POMONA, April 19.—The travel section of the Pomona Ebell met at the home of Miss Gibler on North Garey avenue yesterday afternoon. Papers on different cities in England were read by Mmes. Pomeroy, Rice, Rassford, Short and Miss Ogle.

Bertram A. Gillmore has been spending a couple of days in Los Angeles with his brother, Frank Gillmore, of Mrs. Fiske's theatrical company.

Almon T. Richardson of the Progress has returned from a visit to his home in San Diego.

Dr. F. Garcelon has gone to Paso Robles to attend a meeting of the California Medical Association.

The rainfall up to 7 o'clock this morning had amounted to half an inch and much more has fallen this forenoon. It will be of inestimable value to crops hereabouts.

Tomorrow afternoon, Mrs. W. W. Murphy, State president of the Child-Study Circle, will address a union meeting of the local North and South Child-Study Circles at the Tenth-street kindergarten.

GLENDALE.

PEOPLE DISSATISFIED.

GLENDALE, April 19.—The electric line is operating cars every hour from 6 o'clock in the morning until 7 in the evening and almost every car is loaded to its full capacity, but great dissatisfaction is expressed by all who desire to come to the town proper as the cars at present stop almost half a mile away. The company is being severely criticized for the seeming unnecessary delay in completing the road from the High School to Glendale avenue, which when finished will accommodate many more and will give universal satisfaction.

The First Presbyterian Church of Glendale on the last Sunday of January extended a unanimous call to Rev. Charles D. Merrill of Beloit, Wis., to become their pastor. On Tuesday last at the Presbytery held in Pasadena, the call was accepted and the date set for installation was Sunday, April 24, at 3 p. m., at which time Revs. W. S. Young of Compton, and Dodd and Clelland, of Los Angeles, will participate, Rev. Mr. Clelland presiding, Rev. William S. Young delivering the charge.

H. J. Barnes sold his five-acre home, corner of Seventh and A streets, to S. T. Hall, late of Georgia; consideration $5500. It is one of the most desirable places in Glendale.

Mr. Eisen sold five acres unimproved near Central avenue and Fourth street to eastern parties, who will build and otherwise improve the property; consideration named $2000.

William Witham has commenced the construction of a seven-room house on Third street for the Rev. Mr. Norton of the Methodist Episcopal Church.

CATALINA ISLAND.

MYSTERY AT THE ISTHMUS.

AVALON, April 19.—A mysterious gathering is assembling at the Isthmus, which, from the preparations going on, will assume considerable proportions. A barge loaded with tents has been dispatched, and the 10-ton power launch Avalon, loaded with mattresses, bedding, chairs and general camp equipage sufficient for a large part of a regiment, is just starting for the same point. What the gathering is and its object seem to be withheld from the public, a telephone message to the Isthmus eliciting the reply that there was nothing for the public at present.

SEA RIPPLES.

A welcome rain fell last evening, amounting to .44 of an inch. The rain was not general over the island, none falling last evening at Middle Ranch, and only a shower this morning. Prospects look rather black for feed for the coming season, the hot sun of the past two weeks having almost destroyed it, the hills turning from a bright green to a dull brown. At Middle Ranch where a yield of 200 tons of hay was expected, the yield will be almost nothing. The total rainfall at Avalon for the season has been but 4.84 inches.

J. A. Shelton, general inspector for the Denver and Rio Grande system, is at Hotel Bay View.

Charles A. Johnson, a prominent railroad man of Lincoln, Neb., and his wife, are among the guests at the Bay View.

Mrs. Seth Glidden has returned from a month's visit to her daughter, Mrs. Dr. Bradley of Los Angeles.

Mrs. T. Eddy and Miss Eddy of Bay City, and Mrs. T. E. Dorr and Mrs. W. S. Morse and daughter of Saginaw, Mich., are guests at Hotel Metropole.

Mrs. Goerge E. Levey of Chicago, W. Van Sickle and wife of Detroit, J. Clarence Heisey and family of Pittsburgh, Pa., are at the Grand View Hotel.

A. B. Clark and wife of Riverside are at the Grand View.

Procrastination, the oft-convicted, but never punished, "thief of time," will make a good haul at your expense if you delay much longer the insertion of that want ad. in The Times. Rate, 1 cent a word.

OCEAN PARK.

WOULD LENGTHEN PIER AVENUE

OCEAN PARK, April 19.—Upon petition of the property owners, the City Trustees of Santa Monica have started proceedings for the opening of Pier avenue through on the east to Lake street. The Trustees have also concluded to curb on both sides the alley running parallel with and not far from the beach and known as the Speedway. They have received estimates on repairing the outfall sewer pipe running under and along the pier. To put in new pipe will cost $3500, and a bond issue is requisite before the work can be done.

BUYS FRONT PROPERTY.

Mayor T. H. Dudley has sold to J. D. List of Los Angeles a thirty-foot lot on Ocean Front; consideration named, $3000. This is the "Angier" property near Pier Avenue and the improvements are nominal, having cost only about $1000. The improvements, however, are not to be figured as the property is to be used in connection during a three-story brick building. Two years ago this lot sold for $1400.

Dana Burks, Mayor of Ocean Park, has sold his home, corner of Clubhouse avenue and Ocean Front, to W. W. Johnson, Jr., of Los Angeles; stated consideration, $3250. This is a forty-foot frontage and is improved with a house that cost $2750. Mr. Burks will build a new residence in Ocean Park place.

TRUSTEES NEIGHBORLY.

The Ocean Park City Trustees have tendered an invitation to the Trustees of Santa Monica to attend a dinner at the Country Club House Saturday night.

FOR TRACK ATHLETES.

CLAREMONT, April 19.—Coach Hempel has a new scheme for track athletes. He has called a field day for Friday, May 6, which is to be open only to men who have never won a "P" in track honors. Teams are to enter from the various classes, four from the college and four from the preparatory classes. Six places will score: first place scoring ten points; second, seven; third, five; fourth, three; fifth, two; sixth one point. The class winning the largest number of points is to be presented with a handsome cup.

The events will be the 100, 220 and 300-yard dashes; the 600 and 1200-yard runs; hammer throw and shot put; broad and high jump; pole vault and hurdle race, and a relay race.

Hempel is thus stirring up class and athletic enthusiasm as well as developing latent ability for next year.

SQUATTERS ON FEDERAL SOIL.

SAN PEDRO HOUSEHOLDERS WHO WILL HAVE TO MOVE.

Many Substantial Residences Erected and Improvements Made on Uncle Sam's Domain in Direct Violation of the Law—Severe Penalties to Which Settlers are Liable.

SAN PEDRO, April 19.—Considerable controversy and discussion has arisen as to property rights possessed by squatters at East San Pedro. During the last few months many improvements have been made on the tide lands east of the single-row work of the inner breakwater and the ocean front. Five and six-room cottages have been built, provided with all modern conveniences, stores have been erected and the settlement has taken on quite a cosmopolitan appearance. A natural cove forming an excellent beach for bathing is close at hand and the location as a place to live is unexcelled, were the persons who have preempted this desirable land within their rights; but they are not, as has been disclosed by careful investigation.

Considerable money has been spent for improvements and the buildings are substantial. Many new houses are going up. From the south end of Rattlesnake Island, commonly called Terminal, down toward Dead Man's Island, a little city is in embryo, and all against the peace and dignity and the law as made and provided by Uncle Sam, and to the violation of which a penalty of fine and imprisonment or both attaches. There is no question but what within a short time all the houses and improvements will have to be moved.

There is no doubt that every structure that has been or is being erected east of the inner-row jetty work below the south end of Terminal Island on the ocean side is in direct violation of the United States statutes. Much contention has arisen over these claims, one of the usual customs being to stake out a plot of sand beach and defend it against all comers with a shotgun. The proper course to have pursued would have been to have obtained permission from the Secretary of War to build on the beach. Not an instance can be found where the persons holding the claims and owning the houses have obtained this permission. It is stated that one enterprising merchant at East San Pedro had staked off a number of claims which he sells at prices ranging from $50 to $75 a lot.

The buildings already finished on the land in question will aggregate many thousands of dollars.

FRAUDULENT VOTING CHARGED.

Joseph Robinson was arraigned this morning in Justice Downing's court on a warrant from the District Attorney's office charging him with fraudulent registration and fraudulent voting, at the city election held on April 11. The complaint was sworn to by Roy C. Valkerts. He was held in $2000 bail to answer Friday morning. Robinson is already in custody, being charged with burglary, he being one of the trio arrested at Wilmington for breaking into Mathew's saloon a few nights ago.

TRUSTEES ORGANIZE.

The newly-elected Board of Trustees met at the City Hall last night and affected a permanent organization. James Weir was elected president of the new Board, the personnel of which is Messrs. Edward Mahar, George R. Peck, N. W. Filton, J. T. Martin and James Weir. Harry Stiegltz was sworn in as City Clerk, succeeding C. C. Abbott, who made a graceful speech in retiring.

W.R.C. PLAN RECEPTION.

The Woman's Relief Corps is planning to give a reception, April 21, to the local G.A.R. post at Malgren Hall in celebration of the first anniversary of the corps. A drum corps from Los Angeles will be in attendance.

DOLGEVILLE.

NOTES OF PROGRESS.

DOLGEVILLE, April 19.—Up to date 240 lots have been sold at an aggregate of $89,500. Much building has been done and contracts for twenty new houses have been let the past week. Large crews of men and teams are opening and grading streets, building cement curbs and sidewalks. After the preliminary improvements are made, it is the intention of the land company to beautify the place with parks, trees and flowers, park ways, etc. The first subdivision, which was sold without sidewalk and street-curb improvements, is now being all thus improved by the lot owners. The second and third subdivisions as well as the fourth, surveyed last week, will have sidewalks and street curbs put in by the land company. Several stores, a restaurant, bakery and a large rooming-house are opening and there is a general air of business activity.

The Tallerday Manufacturing Company is operating part of its modern pipe and tank manufactory, which is being fitted with up-to-date machinery, under supervision of F. G. Tallerday. The company is shipping a full carload of tanks this week made to order. At a meeting of the directors held here Monday, it was decided to build a steel warehouse and increase the purchase of steel.

Lounsberry & Teagarden have nearly completed a fine lumber office.

E. R. Thompson's large two-story rooming-house on Palm avenue will be completed this week and opened May 1.

Mrs. Caldwell is occupying her new store building and rooming-house. It is expected that the storeroom will be occupied by the Dolgeville postoffice and that Mrs. Caldwell will be postmistress. It is said the postoffice will come next month.

Joseph James of San Francisco, who came here to build the Blamire Feeds in the card room, has been retained permanently by the Dolge Company and will have a position in the carding department.

One of the largest wool dryers in the world is nearly ready for operation at mill No. 2. After passing through various processes, the wool is finally carried out to sun dry and bleach in the open air, an advantage only to be obtained in Southern California.

The Alfred Dolge Manufacturing Company have received a carload of Cape wool, said to be the finest in the world. It is grown in the Orange Free State of South Africa and will be turned into felt.

REDONDO.

DRY OR WET, WHICH?

REDONDO, April 19.—The members of the old Board of Trustees met last night, but did very little business. The Clerk's report showed receipts for the past year $13,172.83; expenses, $12,104.78; cash on hand, April 1, $2,111.24. The newly elected officers then took the oath of office. L. J. Quint was elected chairman. City Attorney Willis sent in his resignation and the appointment of a new attorney was postponed until Wednesday night. The actions of the new Board will be attentively watched as it is claimed they were elected by the prohibitionists. Whether Redondo will be dry or wet remains to be seen.

MINES AND MINING.

ELECTRIC PLANT AND NEW MILL.

IMPROVEMENTS PLANNED BY NEVADA-KEYSTORE CO.

Joseph J. Davis, Elected General Manager, and Will Give His Time to Supervising the Conduct of the Properties—Lowest Level of Mine Now in Rich Ore.

The Nevada Keystone Mining Company made a number of important changes in its officers at the directors' meeting held yesterday in the new offices of the company in the Braly building, and outlined a policy for the systematic development of the property.

Joseph J. Davis, formerly general manager of the United Electric Gas and Power Company, was elected general manager of the company, and in future he will devote all of his time and attention to the management of the Nevada properties. At the stockholders' meeting, the following directors were elected: J. J. Davis, T. H. Dudley, Jacob Adloff, Carl F. Schader, T. A. Johnson. New officers were elected as follows: T. H. Dudley, president; Jacob Adloff and Carl F. Schader, vice-presidents; J. J. Davis, secretary and general manager; T. A. Johnson, treasurer.

The stockholders' meeting was held at Sandy, Nev., and immediately afterward the property was thoroughly inspected. The shaft is now down to a depth of 950 feet, and shows richer ore at this depth. The lowest level of the mine is in a fine body of $40 ore, and as nothing has been stoped below the 300-foot level, a splendid output for the future is assured. The superintendent's report showed $267,000, net, in sight.

J. J. Davis takes general charge of the work, relinquished by Messrs. Schader and Johnson, who developed the mine to its present splendid condition. The latter named gentlemen while remaining officers and heavy stockholders, will devote most of their time to other mining interests, while Mr. Davis will take up the question of equipping the mine throughout with electricity.

It is the intention of the directors to equip the mine with a new $100,000 plant and mill in the near future, but this will not be done until the Salt Lake road is completed or until better transportation facilities are provided. The old mill will resume May 1, and will treat twenty tons of $40 ore per day, but the low-grade ore will be held in reserve until the new plant is completed.

YAQUI COPPER COMPANY.

THE ATTACK UPON W. C. GREENE

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

TUCSON (Ariz.) April 17.—Knowledge of some inside facts gave especial local interest to the news of the late attack upon W. C. Greene in New York. Goodman, the assailant, is little known here, but it is believed that he has a good grievance behind his bad methods. Greene has asserted that the assault might have been made upon Willis P. Harlow, ex-president of the Yaqui Copper Company, the corporation that holds the Sonora Mining property acquired from Goodman and his associates. With Greene's backing and his indorsement of the mines, the Yaqui enterprise was of a mushroom-like growth on the New York stock board, the price of shares running up to $15 before more than the slightest of development work had been done. The mines are said to possess merit, but they were worked for more immediate profit than would come through the operation of a smelter. But trouble soon arose between the promoters themselves, mainly over the distribution of the promoters' shares, and the sale of the treasury stock. It was alleged that Harlow and others sold their own stock, to the amount of hundreds of thousands of dollars, stock supposed to be lying in the company's safe, bound by the most solemn of agreements to be held till the company's development stock had been disposed of. The result was it has been charged that the money that should have been used in opening up the mines and the purchase of machinery went to the enrichment of private individuals.

HARLOW ASSAULTED.

Somewhat similar to the Goodman episode was an assault made in Sonora, several months ago, upon Harlow by W. J. N. McCurdy, who had been a secretary for the concern. McCurdy went to jail for a term. His story, gained from private sources, was that Harlow had learned where he was about to place 1000 shares of Yaqui Copper at $10, and had cut him out of the sale by wiring an offer of stock at $9. Then the stock started downward. At present it has only nominal value. It is understood that Harlow has been put out of the Yaqui company, though formerly a close friend and associate of Greene, Goodman's story is that he had been robbed by Harlow, who had been abetted by Greene. After he had killed Greene he proposed to deal with "other persons." When Goodman's case gets into court, much interesting testimony will be produced, if the plans of his counsel are not diverted.

The Nacosari railway grade has been completed, and the rails will be laid into the copper camp within a few days. Completion of the road will mark the end of smelting operations at Nacosari. The ore will be concentrated and the concentrates shipped to Douglas for smelting. The present concentrator has a capacity for 500 tons a day. Another mill of the same capacity will be erected on the site of the abandoned smelter. The company expects to pick up a large amount of fluxing ore in the Nacosari district from outside mines. Heretofore the ores from their Montezuma mines have been brought to Nacosari, six miles distant, by narrow-gauge railway, supplied by a long tramway. This tramway is to be abandoned, and the ore will be taken from the mine through a 7000-foot tunnel, now within 150 feet of completion. It will strike the main shaft of the property at the 700-foot level. The ores are of low grade, but lie in enormous bodies.

THE COPPER QUEEN.

At Bisbee, the Copper Queen Company is clearing ground for still another immense shaft, a considerable distance east of the new Gardner shaft, now the lowest Copper Queen opening down the cañon. In the location chosen it is not considered probable that the sulphide ore bodies will be struck in less than 1000 feet.

The Old Copper Queen smelter at Bisbee is still in operation, though a couple of the immense furnaces at the new works at Douglass are steadily turning out bullion.

Announcement has been made that the Supervisors of Cochise county have compromised the tax case against the Copper Queen Company, which has come back from the Supreme Court for retrial. The company does not object to the assessment as exorbitant, but on account of its lack of uniformity with the ratings of similar properties elsewhere in the Territory. It has been stated that the Phelps-Dodge Company, which owns the Copper Queen, will offer no opposition to the passage of a bullion tax measure in the next Territorial Legislature. Bullion tax has appeared in each succeeding Legislature for a score of years. Latterly it has been defeated mainly through the efforts of H. J. Allen, Senator Clark's financial agent, the same Allen who committed suicide near Jerome a few months ago.

SANTA MONICA.

BANQUET FOR ROBERT F. JONES.

SANTA MONICA, April 19.—Citizens of this seaside town are arranging a banquet for May 4, in honor of Robert F. Jones, the newly-elected Grand Regent of the Royal Arcanum. It will be an invitation affair, given in the Pavilion on Ocean avenue, where covers will be laid for 200.

SEASIDE BRIEFS.

Mrs. A. Buster is dangerously ill at the family home.

Miss Grace Adele Pierce will spend the summer at Redondo.

Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Feather have returned after a futile absence of several months in the desert in search of health for Mrs. Feather, whose condition is critical.

At the Methodist Episcopal parsonage tonight a reception was tendered to the thirty-five new members who have affiliated with the church since conference.

Mrs. Virginia Carrillo-Kelliher, who died yesterday in a Los Angeles hospital as the result of a surgical operation, was well known here, where she lived for many years, being a sister of Street Superintendent J. J. Carrillo of Santa Monica and A. E. Carrillo of Ocean Park. She was a cousin of Mrs. John T. Gaffey of Santa Monica.

Little Miss Carnegie consented to be interviewed. Somebody asked her what she would do if she had $1,000,000.

"I do not comprehend," she replied in French.

"Certainly you know what money is," chorused the reporters.

"More than Mr. Rockefeller?"

"Who is he?" inquired Miss Carnegie.—[Philadelphia Record.

HOTEL RATES AT ST. LOUIS.

Will Knock the Stuffing Out of Pocketbooks.

All Weekly and Family Rates to Stop May First.

Seven Dollars a Day Will be About Minimum Cost.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

ST. LOUIS, April 18, 1904.—It is going to be inevitable that many people will come to the fair expecting to spend from two to four weeks, seeing everything thoroughly, and will find prices so high that they will be forced to cut their stay down to a few days. They will then return to their homes heartsick and disappointed, with only the empty satisfaction of being able to say "I attended the World's Fair at St. Louis."

This article is intended for people in moderate circumstances, who will have to save the amount needed for the trip from their daily expenses.

The railroads are all giving lowest possible rates, and have made every arrangement for the comfort and convenience of the vast throngs who will enter St. Louis this summer, through the largest and finest railway depot in the world.

It will be a pity for anyone who can afford it to miss the fair, as it is acknowledged that it will be on a larger and more extensive scale than anything ever before attempted. It is the general opinion among those who make a business of exhibiting at fairs that it will be the last World's Fair, until "cities forget," as no city ever wants a second one.

The downtown hotels here have settled on their schedule of prices during the fair. The hotels scattered through the residence districts will charge the same, and May 1 will abolish all weekly and family rates and charge by the day, regardless of the length of the patron's stay.

These figures are authentic and were obtained first hand. They are based on two or more occupying one room on the European plan. If a person wants to be exclusive, and say "The world is mine," over 10x10 feet of hotel space, he can double the price.

To share a small, dark, inside room $3 a day will be charged. These are suitable only for men. For a small room with outside windows, $4 a day. These are the cheapest rooms and more apt to be full. For better rooms the prices will run rapidly upward. The couple with an income of $100 a month cannot expect to be as comfortable as they are at home, for less than $20 a day, or $10 each for rooms alone.

I tried to get the manager of one of these European hotels to assure me that a person would be able to exist at his café, without actually going hungry, for $2 a day. The suggestion seemed to amuse him. The most I could get out of him was, "Well, I don't know. They can't possibly expect to live for less."

St. Louis has hot nights in summer, suffocatingly, insufferably hot. A person would be about as comfortable hung up on a hook as trying to sleep in an inside room, without ventilation, so that $4 a day can be accepted as the least rate, at the downtown hotels, with $2 a day additional for meals. Car fare to and from and transportation around the grounds, with admission, will add $1 more. If rooms are ordered in advance and the visitor is a good manager, $7 a day can be accepted as a low figure for daily expenses without extras or luxuries.

The visitor can expect to pay from 15 to 25 cents for a cup of coffee or tea, and from 25 to 35 if served with rolls. A breakfast of the cheapest meats will cost from 75 cents to $1. A good steak will run from $1 to $1.50.

A light lunch can be managed for from 50 to 60 cents. This meal will usually be taken at the fair grounds, as they are six miles from the center of the town and another admission will have to be paid if the grounds are left.

Lunch at the grounds will be 50 cents for the plainest meals, from that up to as much as can be afforded. Visitors will take advantage of this meal to taste the strange dishes at the foreign restaurants.

It will be a very plain dinner that can be had for $1. Of course these will be the prices at the cheapest restaurants at which cleanliness and decency can be had. Fine restaurants are for people who do not care how many dollars they spend for a meal.

Already there are restaurants that have "sandwiches" on the sidewalk, and bills-of-fare that appear reasonable, but have some catch that adds materially to the check, extra for bread and butter, or for service, for instance. A couple told me that at Hillenbrands, on Olive street, supposed to be a popular cheap restaurant, one of them ordered three and the other two dishes. They shared the odd dish between them. It was a 25-cent-a-dish outfit. The check was 30 cents too much. It was explained at the desk that it was because they charged extra when one dish was served to two people.

After the fair opens, a 30-cent graft will be too small to be noticed. These grafts will amount to something then. Of course the best restaurants will have no batches or grafts. It will be cheapest in the end to patronize them. Some few restaurants on the side streets will materially raise their prices, only enough to cover their own raise in rent. The visitors cannot hope to find them.

In order to avoid loss of the meals that their patrons will take at the grounds, some hotels will, on May 1, abolish the European plan and only receive patrons who pay for room and board in the house. The lowest rate of one of these hotels will be $5 a day, with two in the room. Lunch and sometimes dinner must be added to these prices, for, if the visitor returns for these meals, much time will be lost as well as paying another admission fee to the grounds.

They intend to make every room reach $10 a day and up. They do not consider the meals. A solitary occupant of a room will have to pay $10 a day.

This is a large hotel, patronized by the particular traveling public in average circumstances. The rates, previous to May 1, are $2.50 a day with one in a room, if desired, American plan, so that its rates have been practically quadrupled.

One hotel will charge up to $50 a day for a suite of two rooms, and $100 a day for a suite of parlor, bedroom, private dining-room and bath. This does not include board or service. Board will be whatever is ordered. Service will be a $1 tip every time the waiter, chambermaid, or bell boy turns around, and they can be depended upon to come into the rooms and turn around on the slightest pretext.

Young men, expecting to spend their honeymoon at the fair, should not forget their pocketbooks, as it will cost them over $200 a day, exclusive of chewing gum and ice-cream soda, if they are ambitious to be one of the swells.

There are a number of temporary hotels around, and one inside the fair grounds. One of these structures has an outside veneering of brick; the others are covered with staff; one being clapboarded. So far as fire is concerned, it is a toss up between them, as cloth ceilings prevail, and the whole inside of these hotels is composed of kindling wood, skillfully laid to promote the blaze.

St. Louis is very strict regarding fire escapes. None of these buildings are over four stories high. They are well provided with fire extinguishers. Every room has a fire escape within practical reach. There is no necessity for loss of life in case of fire. Every patron should select his route of escape on first entering one of these buildings. He should tie his money fast to himself and sleep in a costume suitable for a public appearance. Property loss is liable, but loss of life is not probable.

The fair management has used every effort to keep down hotel rates, with no success, but they made a clever stroke in bonding the hotel inside the enclosure to rates of from $1.50 to $3.50 a day European, and from $3 to $7 a day, American plan.

The temporary hotels, just outside the grounds, have been forced to take their cue from the one inside, and will charge from $1 to $5 a day European and from $2.50 to $7 a day American plan. No one can hope to get the cheap rooms without reserving in advance. A $5 deposit must accompany such reservation. I have examined these hotels and rooms, and cannot see where a person will be any more comfortable at high rates than at the low ones. The outlook from the window is no object to a person away all day. The difference in the size and furnishing is very little. The smallest rooms are 10x10 feet, or 9x12 feet. There is no difference in the material comfort.

At these hotels "private baths" means a small bathtub between two rooms, with one or two beds in each room, according to the crowded condition of the hotel. The occupants of one of these rooms can get up early and lock the occupants of the other out of the bathroom, if they wish.

Guests inside the grounds have to pay to return, if they leave the grounds, except on Sunday and late at night, when the grounds and buildings are closed to the public. The buildings, with the exception of the State buildings, and occasionally the art building, will close at 6 o'clock and the grounds will be closed on Sunday. Guests staying at outside hotels will have to pay admission every time they enter the grounds.

These temporary hotels, while nothing but the cheapest shells, are clean, fresh, and free from bedbugs. Some will be screened. The visitor, fortunate enough to secure the low rates at them, can see the fair for $5 a day, exclusive of extras and "The Pike."

The person coming here without having secured accommodations in advance will be lucky to get off with from $8 to $10 a day actual living expenses. They are positively frightened to death here, for fear they may charge a little less for something than they could get. The man or woman who comes to the fair without a sleeping partner will pay double, or take his chances that a temporary roommate will not abscond with his watch and pocketbook.

I have studied the buildings, and prospective exhibits, carefully, and divided them, according to their accessibility and the topography of the land, into sections that can be covered in one day. No one can expect to take a glance at every exhibit in less than three weeks. Every one knows the amount of time they would like to take examining exhibits of especial interest to themselves.

The fair grounds contain 1240 acres. They are nearly two and a half miles one way by one and a half miles the other and are crowded thickly with buildings, which will be overflowing with interesting objects. The agriculture building, which is only a spot on the grounds, will be like examining eight average city blocks. The Pike is a mile long, and to see it superficially will cost $15. To see all the inside wickedness and glamour will cost double that amount, as there are shows within shows.

The lady managers have abolished the day nursery and will spend their appropriation for social functions and fine furniture for their own quarters. Ladies from other cities will have to leave their small children at home, as it will be impossible to get around in the crowds with a young child.

The St. Louis street-car service is inadequate to handle the crowds now. Car after car rushes by every morning and evening so full that several are riding on the coupling rod that sticks out behind, while a group of would-be passengers stand on every street corner, frantically and vainly waving their arms.

It is a matter of record that it was in St. Louis that a judge acquitted a man for stopping a car with a revolver aimed at the head of the gripman. Visitors can expect to lose much valuable time waiting for a car that will stop. Western cowboys will probably bring their guns to assist them in boarding cars.

Cabs are now charging $7 for a round trip to the fair grounds. The fair management is endeavoring to prevent extortion, but it will be impossible to protect in individual cases.

It will be remembered that the wife of the Governor of a State was charged $15 to ride in a cab to the grounds during the dedication services.

The owner of every old ramshackle rig in St. Louis expects to get rich this summer.

The depot transfer company will carry no trunk for less than 50 cents for a short distance, and may charge more. The rates will increase with the distance. They will absolutely make no arrangements to deliver other than just inside the front door. The drivers charge whatever they like to put a trunk where it is wanted. If they do not "like" no amount of money can induce them to remove the trunk barricade from from the front entrance. They charge the same for the smallest valise as for a trunk.

Private express companies are now demanding 75 cents and $1 for moving a trunk a short distance, but they place the trunk where it is wanted, if arrangement is made beforehand. The size of the trunk cuts no figure. Fair visitors will save themselves trouble by coming without trunks, if possible, as these prices will increase after May 1, and space to set a trunk will be hard to find in lodgings. The experienced traveler who plans to arrive in St. Louis in the morning check his valise and hunt rooms at a lodging-house will probably be forced to go to a hotel after a tiresome day of searching. All along the downtown lodging-house district, from Eighteenth street, west to Grand avenue, the rent of houses has been more than doubled. A house of twelve rooms that had been renting for $75 a month was raised to $150, and, after May 1, will be $225 a month.

Landladies are in a state of the wildest excitement, all expecting to make their fortunes this summer. The intention is to pack people in like sardines in a box. Very few of these houses have hot water in the bathrooms, or other light than coal oil lamps. They are expecting to get from $1.50 to $2 a day from each person. One gentleman had an oral understanding with his landlady, that, as he was permanent, his rent would be $4 a week. It was raised to $5 a week during the winter, on the pretext that coal was high. April 1 she informed him that she expected to have $12 a week for the room this summer.

"But, madam," he expostulated, "you know I make only $15 a week. My boarding-house has also raised prices. How am I to eat, this summer?"

"You can move," she answered.

"Where am I to move? Other landladies are just as unreasonable as you are."

"You can go to the devil," was the decisive answer.

He easily found a room for $5 a week that ordinarily rented for $3.50, but—I happen to know the landlady and house, and that she has only taken him to tide over the time from April 1 till May 1. I also know that she is one of the most wildly excited of all the landladies, and expects to make rooms that she has been renting for $4 a week yield $7 a day, so that May 1 he will find himself facing his first landlady's alternative, as his means will not permit him to remain in St. Louis, and his salary will stop if he leaves the city.

The laundries will also add materially to the expense. Their lists have dresses from $1 to $5; shirt waits, 50 cents to $2.50; ladies' fancy underwear, 50 cents to $1.50; skirts, $1 to $3. Gentlemen's prices have, so far, not been materially raised. Handkerchiefs cost from 3 to 5 cents.

"World's Fair visitors" need not expect to deceive any one as to their identity. They are primed and loaded for visitors here, and can spot one as far as they can see them, as easily as a westerner can spot a tenderfoot.

After the 50 cents admission has been paid the expenses inside the grounds will not be heavy, unless a wheeled chair is needed. These will be 50 cents an hour. The college boys, who will wheel them, have been led to expect large fees. They will need these fees, as their expenses will be high, and they will only be paid one-third of what their chair actually earns, and will have to make good any damage done the chair. They have to buy their own uniforms.

Visitors will not be allowed to carry camp stools. There will be plenty of free seats in the grounds, but none in the buildings.

Maps of the grounds and official catalogues of the Art building will be on sale, and will be necessities. The price has not yet been determined on.

The electric car will skirt the grounds, which is fortunate, for the prudish visitors, as some of the artistic decorations need a skirt.

SEVENTH JUROR NAMED.

Judge Ross Selects A. W. Hutton for Hearing of Kinney's Charges Against Naftzger.

The choice of the seventh juror for the hearing of the charges preferred by Abbot Kinney against President A. H. Naftzger of the Southern California Fruit Exchange has fallen on former Judge A. W. Hutton. Mr. Hutton was named by Judge Erskine M. Moss, to whom the making of the selection was referred by the six jurors already chosen.

Mr. Hutton said last night that he had received no direct notice of his appointment as a juror.

"I have not yet made up my mind whether I will serve or not," he said. The calling of the jury together rests with Mr. Frost, one of the members of that body.

CALL FOR SMALLER ORANGES.

"The orange situation, as regards car service, has improved," said a prominent independent shipper yesterday. "Now when cars are plentiful we do not need them, yet a month ago we were handicapped by a shortage of cars. If it's not one thing to confound us, it's another.

"Take for instance the improvement shown in eastern markets. What real benefit is there? Not much. The prices vary but little above the month past."

The general feeling of the shippers seems to denote a decidedly heavy demand for navels in the coming week or ten days, with nothing to sell.
